TEAM LEADER APPLICATION Live Oak Communications

Beginning in the fall semester of 2007, the School of Communications launched a student communications agency (PR and integrated communication). Live Oak Communications employed 19 account executives in its inaugural semester. Live Oak served both for-profit and not-for-profit clients in the North Carolina region. The director and assistant director of the agency guided student account teams in analyzing client challenges and executing programs to meet those challenges. Services offered by Live Oak include public relations, advertising, special event marketing, viral marketing, media relations, web site development, video creation and graphic design.

Live Oak Communications is run like a professional PR/advertising agency, with a staffed office located in McEwen 009. Agency team leaders will be required to work two hours each week in the agency office, and attend an all-agency meeting one night per week. Team leaders are eligible to receive one hour of class credit each semester for their participation.

The term “team leader” refers to a professional who is responsible for a specific client account team. Live Oak is structured into client teams, with each team assigned one client per semester. Team leaders will be assigned to a client team, and will lead a team of account executives in serving their client’s communications needs.

Benefits of serving on a student communications agency include the opportunity to develop a professional identity, add real client work to your resume and portfolio, and an increased chance of being selected for internships and entry-level jobs. Having student agency work on your resume sets you above the pack when being considered by communications companies.

Qualifications/Requirements:

- Any major is welcome to apply
- Junior or senior status
- Minimum of a 2.7 GPA required
- Team leaders will be interviewed by the Director and Assistant Director of the agency
- Term: one semester

Team leader applicants should be committed to producing high quality, creative work for the agency. We intend to be one of the best university agencies in the country, and will be selecting only those students who are committed to helping us achieve that goal. While previous communications experience is a plus, the best team leaders are those who are enthusiastic, resourceful, creative and eager to take on client challenges.

DEADLINE: Friday, November 9, 2007 5 p.m.
