February 12, 2016

Hearst Television (Various Locations) Hearst Television is accepting applications for its 10-week producing fellowship for students interested in television news/digital news producing. Must be a graduating senior to apply. Upon successful completion, fellows will be offered a full time newscast producing position with a Hearst Television station. Qualified candidates must send a letter expressing interest in the Fellowship and promoting his/her candidacy, an essay about the role of a producer in contemporary television news (one page, single spaced maximum), a resume and a transcript. Two recommendations are also required with this application. Applications are due March 4 to ekropp@hearst.com and to the attention of Candy Altman, VP, News, Hearst Television.

PrecisionLeader (Cary, NC) PrecisionLeader is looking for a spring 2016 communications intern to begin as soon as possible. Interns will help to plan the first BankOnPurpose conference by executing communications surrounding the event, including social media campaigns, writing press releases, contacting media outlets and assisting with promotional materials. If interested, please send resume and cover letter to Iris Maslow at imaslow@precisionleader.com.

Chautauquan Daily (Chautauqua, NY) The Chautauqua Daily is seeking outstanding news and feature writers, photographers, page designers and copy editors for their summer 2016 internship program. A stipend and financial assistance for housing is provided. If interested, please contact Jordan Steves at jsteves@ciweb.org.

Publicis Healthcare Communications Group (Various Locations) Publicis Healthcare Communications is accepting applications for their summer 2016 internship program in its New York, New Jersey, Philadelphia, Chicago and Yardley, PA offices. Opportunities are available in marketing/account management, design, copywriting, technology, medical writing, strategy and account planning and social strategy. Applications are due by March 18. For more information and to apply, visit the company’s internship page.

Wray Ward (Charlotte, NC) Wray Ward, a full service marketing communication firm, is looking for summer 2016 interns. Opportunities are available in graphic design, video, copywriting, digital development, account leadership and public relations. Interns will have the opportunity to problem-solve, work within a team dynamic, grow their skillset, interact with a broad range of professionals and build their portfolios. Applications are due February 29. If interested, visit the company’s webpage for more information and to apply.

American Enterprise Institute (Washington, DC) AEI is looking for a summer 2016 graphic design intern. The Graphic Design team at AEI helps scholars and policy experts communicate their ideas through infographics and creative visuals. The ideal candidate would have experience with advanced PowerPoint Graphics, Adobe Illustrator, Adobe Photoshop, and Tableau. Interest in public policy is a must. For more information and to apply, visit the company’s internship page.

Scholastic (New York, NY) Scholastic Corporation is looking for a summer 2016 communications and social media intern. Must be a rising junior or senior to apply and possess excellent written and verbal communications skills. If interested, visit the company’s internship page for more information and to apply.
DoSomething.org (New York, NY) DoSomething.org is looking for a summer 2016 interns in a variety of disciplines, including public relations, business development, digital content, campaigns, graphic design, mobile product, video/photo, user experience and writing/male engagement. Interns will help DoSomething.org reach more young people through press coverage, celebrity and influencer outreach/management, and special events. This is a great opportunity for students interested in non-profit communications. If interested, visit the company's internship page for more information and to apply.

Marina Maher Communications (New York, NY) Marina Maher Communications is accepting applications for their summer 2016 internship program. Interns will gain experience in brand management, digital, earned media, online influencing, data & analytics and creative. Must be a junior, senior or recent graduate to apply. For more information and to apply, visit the company's internship page.

CNN New Day & Early Start (New York, NY) CNN is looking for news interns for their New Day and Early Start programs for summer 2016. Students will get first-hand experience learning how to build live programming from both an editorial and production perspective. Interns will strengthen their research skills, participate in futures meetings, use the various CNN’s databases to locate footage, tape and sound bites for packages and live air, accompany producers locally on stories in the field and greet show guests among other opportunities. If interested, visit the company's internship page for more information.

Hulu (Santa Monica, CA) Hulu is looking for a summer 2016 interns in a variety of departments including editorial, event marketing and advertising sales. All interns must have strong organizational interns and the ability to coordinate multiple projects at a time. If interested, visit the company’s careers page.

Disney Channel (Burbank, CA) The Disney Channel is looking for summer 2016 media relations intern. Interns will support the entire team in daily responsibilities for the department and individual shows/movies as well as participate in events. Must be available to work a minimum of 40 hours per week. All applications are due February 19. For more information and to apply, visit the company’s internship page.

CBS (Los Angeles, CA) CBS Studios is looking for a summer 2016 publicity intern. Must be available to work at least 2 to 3 days per week and have working knowledge of Microsoft Office Suite. If interested, please visit the company’s careers page for more information and to apply.

The School of Communications strives to provide accurate information to students from legitimate employers. Because of the volume of internship postings received by our office, we cannot screen every listing. We do not endorse the products or recommend the services of any of the employers listing internships through our office. We are not responsible for the safety, wages, working conditions or other employment aspects of any internship listed here. Students are urged to use common sense, caution, and practice due diligence in researching employers before applying for any internship positions within a business or organization.

FOR MORE INFORMATION:
Nagatha Tonkins
Assistant Professor/Director, Internships
Elon University, 112 McEwen
cominternships@elon.edu, (336) 278-6336
Check out our blog at: http://www.internnetwork.wordpress.com
Facebook: www.facebook.com/ElonComInternships
Follow us on Twitter: http://twitter.com/Cominternship