National Agents Alliance (Burlington, NC) is looking for a Social Media intern. Applicants should be able to navigate easily through social networking sites, video sites (such as youtube) and be able to come up with new ideas and programs to better incorporate our business to social networking. Intern will be working directly for Andy Albright, the President and CEO of NAA. This position could result in a full-time position within the company. Contact Eleni VanRoden 336-227-3319 x. 151 evanroden@naalleads.com to set up an interview.

Baseball America (Durham, NC) is accepting applications from college journalism students for summer internships. Our interns have done everything from enter data for our books to write a chapter of our Prospect Handbook—and everything in between. Among other duties, our summer interns will help us scout the Tournament of Stars and Team USA, and cover the minor leagues and the Division II College World Series. Contact joshleventhal@baseballamerica.com

Action Sports Hub (Huntington Beach, CA) is looking for Action Sports Enthusiasts who can write articles. You can work from your home and at your hours and your pace. Please send a sample to info@actionsportshub.com for your consideration, and we will respond accordingly. (This internship may not count for credit.)

Triangle Spokes Group (Raleigh, NC) is in search of a Public Relations-Marketing intern. The Triangle Spokes Group is a local Triangle organization that raises money for bikes for children during the holidays. The intern will prepare or edit press releases and distribute/follow up with local media outlets including print, television, internet, etc; help promote current corporate partners, assist Triangle Spokes Group social media campaign through Facebook, Twitter, Linked In; and research the opportunity to develop and manage a blog. Contact RichNowalk@mac.com

US State Department (Washington DC/Overseas) Intern duties and responsibilities may vary according to post or office of assignment. For instance, interns may write reports on human rights issues, assist with trade negotiations, assist with citizen's services or visa work, help Americans in distress abroad, or organize conferences or visits of high-level officials. Others may research economic or environmental issues, write news stories, work on web pages or help produce electronic journals. Deadline for a fall internship is March 4. http://jobview.usajobs.gov/GetJob.aspx?JobID=85780155

Procter & Gamble (San Juan, Puerto Rico) is seeking summer interns interested in marketing positions. During your internship, you will be a member of one of our Marketing Operations which focus on: a) Uncover Consumer & Shopper Knowledge/Insights, b) Understand Competitive Landscape, c) Develop Marketing strategies, plans & programs, and d) Business Analysis & Tracking. Whether you're working in a well-established brand or in a new business, you will work on issues that will impact the brand's success in the marketplace. As an intern you will have the chance to make a difference by having real responsibilities with ownership of key Brand projects, access to senior management, individual coaching to make you successful, and the opportunity to show results.

http://www.pg.com/jobs/jobs_us/recruitblue/internships.shtml

Thomson Reuters (Tokyo, Japan) seeks two talented student journalists with a passion for breaking news to work as paid interns in Tokyo during the summer of 2010. A Reuters internship offers student journalists a global audience of leading media outlets, financial decision-makers and savvy Internet readers with a potential audience of a billion people. Interns must speak fluent English and Japanese. https://toc.taleo.net/careersection/2/jobdetail.ftl?lang=en&job=ADM00002821

Houston Astros (Houston, Texas) The Houston Astros Internship Program proves to be a once in a lifetime experience that offers insight and exposure to various aspects of the sports industry. The goal of the program is to provide an educational experience, knowledge, tools, and tangible skills that an intern can immediately apply and reference in their future professional pursuits. Our program is intended to challenge and reward a select group of college students from across the country with an opportunity to learn from a nationally recognized professional staff in a world-class facility. In addition to the opportunity to experience the various departments with the Astros, the internship program facilitates intern involvement in the community, special events, and media coverage. www.astros.com/internships

Ariel Publicity (Brooklyn, NY) is seeking a music publicity intern for the summer. If you are seeking a crash course in how online PR/social media works in the music industry, and how an independently-owned company operates, this is the internship for you. You must be a motivated go-getter who is willing and eager to learn about this business http://arielpublicity.com/contact/

The Shakespeare Theatre Company (Washington DC) needs sound intern to work with the Sound Department staff in providing technical and creative support. Internships are designed around the interests of qualified applicants and can include systems maintenance, installation and engineering; assisting with performance runs and changeovers; assisting designers and composers; and design opportunities with education and internship projects. Previous experience with sound engineering for non-musical theatre and examples of paperwork and recordings of designs and compositions are required for all design-interested applicants. http://www.shakespearetheatre.org/education/training/internships/production.aspx

The Kennedy Center (Washington, DC) Press Department coordinates public relations for the Center and the National Symphony Orchestra. Intern tasks can include developing new media contacts, writing press releases, pitching stories to press contacts, and securing review coverage for performances. http://www.kennedy-center.org/education/artsmanagement/internships/#press Fall and spring interns only.

Associated Press offers a highly selective, 12-week, individually tailored training program for students who are aspiring photojournalists or photo editors. The internship is open to full-time juniors, seniors and graduate students at American colleges and universities. You work with a designated trainer to help you in your development. You get paid. And best of all, you get to cover stories that could be featured in media outlets around the state or around the globe. The application deadline for the summer 2011 program is Nov. 1, 2010. http://www.ap.org/apjobs/internship.html

FOR MORE INFORMATION:
Nagatha Tonkins, Director, Internships / External Relations
Elon University, 112 McEwen
cominternships@elon.edu, (336) 278-6336

Check out the new blog: www.internnetwork.wordpress.com