You can now register your summer internship for academic credit. Please go on the Internship webpage to make an appointment!

House GOP Conference (Washington, DC): The House Republican Conference, a GOP Leadership office, is looking for digital interns. Projects are dependent on your strengths and interests. They may include social media, graphic design, video shooting and editing, writing, research, and analytics. Candidates must have excellent communication skills, a can-do attitude, and a demonstrated interest in digital. Experience with Adobe Creative Suite or Final Cut Studio, and HTML/CSS is appreciated, but not required. If interested, please send your cover letter and resume to abigail.alger@mail.house.gov.

WLXI-TV 43 (Greensboro, NC): WLXI-TV is looking for a broadcast major to be their production intern for the spring of 2014. The intern will be responsible for operating a camera for a live TV program, basic audio, lighting, floor directing, and host. If interested, please contact production manager Santosh Y. Aghamkar at (336) 855-5610 or email him at sya@tct.tv. For more information on the position, please visit the following link: www.tct.tv.

LIN Media (Multiple locations) PAID LIN Media is now accepting applications from ambitious multicultural students seeking careers in broadcast television and/or digital media for its Minority Scholarship & Training Program. Each student will receive either a one-year or two-year scholarship for up to ten thousand dollars ($10,000) per year, which can be used toward tuition, fees, books, and room and board. Also, you get a paid internship. The program is open to all minority sophomore and junior communications students. The deadline to apply is March 31, 2014. To apply: http://www.linmedia.com/minority-scholarship.

Starz (New York, NY): Become a summer intern with the Starz network and work with an their program publicity department supporting all PR activities for the network’s original programming and beyond. Interns at Starz will learn about both the creative and administrative functions of public relations and publicity. This internship will provide the opportunity to gain real world experience while putting the skills and knowledge gained in the classroom to good use. The intern will be responsible for maintaining mailing and email lists for press, assisting with mass distributions of materials to guilds, awards organizations, and press as directed, researching competitive show coverage, and more. For more information on the position or to apply, please visit the following link: https://starz-openhire.silkroad.com/epostings/index.cfm?fuseaction=app.jobInfo&version=2&jobid=255.

RLF (Greensboro, NC) PAID: RLF Communications is a public relations agency that is looking for summer interns. RLF interns will be exposed to multiple facets of the public relations agency and will work closely with mid and senior-level account executives. Interns will have the opportunity to work on a variety of assignments, including developing media lists, writing news releases, evaluating media coverage, conducting research and assisting with special events. RLF interns must have excellent written and oral communication skills, the ability to multi-task, and solid computer/internet skills. For more information on the internship program visit the
The Zeno Group (city may vary) PAID: The Zeno Group Summer Internship program is a full-time, paid opportunity that will run from June through August. The intern(s) will be dedicated to supporting one of our practice areas in consumer marketing, digital engagement, corporate affairs, technology or healthcare in New York, Chicago, LA and San Francisco. At Zeno, they pride themselves on driving results for their clients through the development of leading edge, creative strategy inclusive of both traditional and emerging platforms. The deadline to apply is March 24. For more information or to apply, please visit the following link: http://www.indeed.com/jobs?q=zeno+group&jt=internship&filter=0

Institute on Political Journalism (Washington, DC): The priority deadline for the Summer 2014 Institute on Political Journalism in Washington, DC has been EXTENDED! Students will earn up to 9 credits and are guaranteed an internship with a media outlet or communications firm. More information on these programs may also be found online at www.DCinternships.org/IPJ. Please encourage students to apply for the new application deadline of April 4 to receive special scholarship consideration.

Engage (Washington, DC): Engage is a center/right-leaning digital media firm with clients that range from political campaigns to advocacy groups and it is looking for a summer graphic design intern. The graphic design intern will assist our Design Director in producing visually stimulating websites, share graphics, and marketing collateral. The ideal candidate has experience designing for the web and is proficient in Photoshop, InDesign and Illustrator. The deadline to apply for this position is March 28. For more information or to apply, please visit the following link: http://engagedc.theresumator.com/apply/jZ3n5o/Graphic-Design-Intern-Summer-2014.html

Open Road Media (New York) is an ebook publishing company that creates short documentary pieces to market their authors. We are seeking post-production interns who have a cursory knowledge of Final Cut, with After Effects and Premiere as an added bonus. You will be running errands, tagging footage and occasionally going on local shoots as a PA. This internship must be for college credit. To apply, visit: http://www.productionhub.com/internship/42496/post-production-internship

The B.A. Rudolph Foundation offers an annual scholarship for women seeking a summer internships in the greater Washington, DC metropolitan area. Internships must be unpaid and with Washington-based organizations focused on government, public service, non-profit endeavors, and women’s rights. Successful applicants are awarded a $4,500 scholarship, paired with mentors and participate in several social events ranging from tickets to a Nationals baseball game to a private tour of the Pentagon. They are now accepting applications for summer 2014 scholarships, due on April 15, 2014. Applicants DO NOT need to have secured their internship before the scholarship application deadline. Please go to www.BARudolphFoundation.org for more information and to apply.

Other News:
Three Great Internship Fridays continues. INTERNSHIP PREP SEMINARS are REQUIRED for all first academic interns, and will be held only on April 4th and May 9th. Registration is required at the Internship website.

FOR MORE INFORMATION:
Nagatha Tonkins, Assistant Professor / Director, Internships
Elon University, 112 McEwen
cominternships@elon.edu, (336) 278-6336
Check out our blog at: www.internnetwork.wordpress.com
Follow us on Twitter: http://twitter.com/Cominternships