Scripps Howard Foundation Semester in Washington Program is seeking interns, including one international student, to work as reporters for the Scripps Howard Foundation Wire in its downtown Washington bureau. Stipend and free housing in furnished apartments in Northwest Washington near the National Zoo are provided. Students with superior multimedia skills will be given preference over those without those skills. The deadlines are Nov. 2 (for the January-April term), Nov. 2 (for the June-August term) and March 15 for fall 2010 term. http://shfwire.com/

Capital Semester in Washington, DC – Political Journalism Track combines substantive internships, courses for academic credit, professional development activities, site briefings and lectures led by working journalists. Applications will be accepted on a rolling basis until the final deadline of November 1, 2009 for Spring 2010; however, the early deadline for 5% off the tuition balance and priority consideration for acceptance and internship placement is October 1, 2009. The early deadline for Fall 2010 is March 1, 2010. There is a substantial amount of scholarship funding available, and awards are made based on financial need and merit. For more information and an online application, please visit our website www.DCinternships.org/CS. Should you have any questions, please email Dana Faught at admissions@tfas.org or call 1-800-741-6964.

Project Vote Smart is a national, non-partisan, non-profit political research library located in the Montana Rockies. We are currently accepting applications for our Fall and Winter National Internship Program. To apply online or to get more information about Project Vote Smart, please visit www.votesmart.org. Able to offer the Barry Goldwater scholarship to all accepted students. This scholarship provides room and board for the duration of the student’s 10 week internship at our headquarters, the Great Divide Ranch in Montana. Contact Tallie Spiller with any questions at 1-888-VOTESMART (1-888-868-3762) or via email at intern@votesmart.org

Soap Opera Weekly is looking for year-round interns — college students with an interest in Communications, publishing, journalism and a love for soaps! Prospective interns must be able to get college credit and work in our New York office. Flexible schedules. Email gabby.winkel@soapoperaweekly.com to apply.
NPR offers internships at its national headquarters in Washington, D.C., and at our NPR West office in Culver City, CA. The internship program is designed to provide students and recent graduates with an opportunity to learn about broadcasting and the supporting areas of NPR. We are now accepting applications for our Winter/Spring 2010 semester. The application deadline is November 15. To learn more about what our interns do at NPR visit http://www.npr.org/internedition/sum09 to see work completed by summer 09 interns.

Dreamworks Animation (Glendale CA) and PDI/Dreamworks (Redwood City, CA) are seeking interns in a variety of areas from production to marketing to creative development to engineering. For more information, go to http://www.dreamworksanimation.com/. Also, Peter Campbell is the internship coordinator so please email Peter your cover letters and resumes to: internships@dreamworks.com.

White House spring internships available at whitehouse.gov/about/internships. Applications are due September 20, 2009. The application includes two essays, three letters of recommendation and a resume. Each applicant will be evaluated on three basic qualities: a commitment to public service, demonstration of leadership in the community and dedication to the mission of this Administration. The applicant’s communication, writing and office skills will also be reviewed and considered. If you know of someone who would like to apply, please direct them to this site. If you have any questions, please feel free to e-mail Rachel Haltom @ Rachel_Haltom-Irwin@who.eop.gov, or reference our website at whitehouse.gov/about/internships

The American Heart Association is seeking two public relations / communications students for internship opportunities in its Greensboro office. Responsibilities include, but are not limited to, writing press releases and media alerts, developing press kit concepts, creating cause marketing opportunities, applying graphic design elements, working with local media outlets and assisting with special event planning, organization and communication coordination. These unpaid internships offer strong opportunities to build a professional portfolio. To apply, send resume, cover letter and two writing samples to Sarah Fedele, Director of Communications and Marketing, at sarah.fedele@heart.org

FOR MORE INFORMATION:
Nagatha Tonkins, Director, Internships / External Relations
Elon University, School of Communications
112 McEwen
cominternships@elon.edu, (336) 278-6336