Scripps Networks (HGTV, Food Network, DIY Network, Fine Living and GAC) offers an excellent opportunity for college students to learn about the media industry. Students are assigned an adviser and are given real-life samples of work in the cable industry. Our structured internship program is designed to provide insight and exposure to the inner workings of a cable networks company. Internships are offered in the fall, spring and summer semesters and range from 20-40 hours per week. Opportunities are available in areas such as: Scripps Productions · Sales and Marketing · Finance · Interactive & New Media Communications & Public Relations · Human Resources · Creative Services.

The Goss Agency (a full service advertising agency located in the heart of downtown Asheville, NC) is currently looking for a Marketing/Advertising intern starting January, 2009. This is an internship for current or graduated students. The internship will provide a great learning opportunity. He or she will be given the chance to work with all aspects of the advertising world (i.e. Media, Creative, Account Management, and PR). Contact Matt Chamberlin at 828-259-9910, ext. 113 or send me an email at mattc@thegossagency.com

WUNC Radio is accepting applications for internships. The station is interested in aspiring radio journalists and students who are familiar with public radio and would like to give it a try. To apply, please mail or e-mail a resume, references, and a letter stating why you are interested in public radio journalism and what you want to learn from the internship. jhowerton@wunc.org. WUNC@WUNC.ORG

The Eric Breindel Memorial Foundation is providing a cash prize of $10,000, as well as a paid internship of his or her choice at either Fox News Channel, The Wall Street Journal, or the New York Post. In addition, residential housing in New York City will be provided for the winner for the duration of the internship position, if necessary. This is the fourth year that the Foundation has presented this prestigious journalism award specifically created for undergraduate college and university students. FOR AN APPLICATION OR QUESTIONS, PLEASE CONTACT GERMAINE FEBLES AT (212) 843-8031 OR GO ONLINE TO WWW.ERICBREINDEL.ORG

Red Hat, is seeking a winter/spring semester intern for a marketing/communications position. Red Hat is the world's leading open source and Linux provider, and is headquartered in Raleigh, NC. The Customer Reference Intern will work closely with the Customer Reference team with writing/editing press releases and case studies, managing the database with new updates and existing references, developing and editing collateral, creating reference customer lists pulled from the sales database, provide ideas for marketing campaigns to enroll new customers in the reference program, assistance with annual awards and updating and converting collateral material. Please send resumes with cover letters to swhite@redhat.com.
National Agents Alliance is offering three internship positions for the winter/spring semesters. Two of those internships will be in our Media department and one will be in our Human Resources department. We are very eager to get at least one intern in our Media Department as soon as possible, but have the capacity for two. All of these internships will be unpaid, but will offer a great experience. Our Media Department deals with every aspect of media production, from producing, directing, filming, editing, duplicating cd/dvds for all of our events as well as other small video productions.  jblouin@naaleads.com

Live. Learn. Intern. The Fund for American Studies (TFAS) means more than just an internship program. We offer an immersive curriculum combining rigorous Georgetown University coursework with a high quality internship, apartment-style housing in a safe environment, special activities featuring our extensive alumni network, as well as the people and places that make DC a crucial stop on your road to success!  http://www.dcinternships.org/TFAS/about/vs.asp

The Chronicle of Higher Education seeks interns for the summer 2009 session, which will begin in May. The Chronicle is an Equal Opportunity Employer committed to maintaining a diverse work force. The internships are full time in our Washington, D.C., office and will last through August 2009. In addition to a $500 weekly stipend, academic credit can often be arranged. The interns' primary responsibilities are reporting and writing daily news articles for The Chronicle's Web site (which usually appear subsequently in print), contributing brief features to the "Short Subjects" section, writing news articles for other sections of the newspaper, and doing research for special projects. Applicants should send a cover letter, résumé with telephone, postal, and e-mail contact information, and a maximum of five varied and impressive clips to:  Don Troop, Internship Coordinator, The Chronicle of Higher Education, 1255 23rd Street, NW, Washington, D.C. 20037

Kiplinger's Business Forecasting Group, which publishes economic, business and political forecasts in print and on the Web, has an immediate opening for a full-time intern. Our interns typically perform fact checking and research duties, and are also given the opportunity to write stories. We pay $10 an hour and offer a Metro subsidy. Our editorial offices are at 1729 H St., Washington, D.C., 2006 -- two blocks west of the White House.  http://careers.poynter.org/jobdetail.cfm?job=3025220

The Sports Journalism Institute is now accepting applications from current college students for its 2009 internship program. Students chosen for the program, which seeks to add to the numbers of women and minorities in the sports media, will attend classes May 29-June 7 at the Poynter Institute and be placed in paid summer internships at newspapers throughout the United States. SJI is funded by Associated Press Sports Editors, Chicago Tribune Foundation and the New York Daily News. Information and the application are at  www.sportsjournalisminstitute.org

MLB.com offers an exciting summer of covering Major League Baseball. MLB.com has 30 reporting internships for aspiring sportswriters. These internships are designed to give associates the full range of experiences that comes with covering a professional team. Each associate will work closely with a site reporter to give visitors to a team¹s Web site all the information they need to follow the team from Opening Day to season¹s end. Each Major League club will have one associate reporter.  http://careers.poynter.org/jobdetail.cfm?job=3024533

For More Information:
Nagatha Tonkins
Director, Internships / External Relations
School of Communications
Elon University
Campus Box 2850
Elon, NC 27244
(336) 278-6336