Public Health Graduates
Based on nine-month post-graduation survey results

- 58% Employed
- 14% Accepted to Graduate School
- 17% Seeking Employment
- 3% Employed and Accepted to Graduate School
- 8% Other

Number of Respondents: 36

Where Are They Now?
Class of 2015 graduates of the Public Health Program can be found working and earning advanced degrees from prestigious graduate schools throughout Peru, Panama, North Carolina, Montana, Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, Washington D.C., California, New York, New Jersey, Georgia, and Florida.

In Their Own Words
“The SPDC has gone above and beyond in their work with the Elon-Alamance Health Partners. Thanks to the SPDC, I was able to smoothly transition from undergrad to a rigorous job where I get to apply my public health degree to real-world problems every day.”

Cat Palmer
Class of 2015

Sample Employers
- Centers for Disease Control
- Ecology Action Centre
- Elon Alamance Health Partners
- Family Abuse Services
- Memorial Sloan Kettering Cancer Center
- Meridian Health
- SOME (So Others Might Eat)

Sample Position Titles
- Development Assistant
- Elon Alamance Health Partner Graduate Fellow
- Food Access Initiative Coordinator
- Nursing Assistant
- Physical Therapy Technician
- Public Health & Wellness Program Associate

Sample Graduate Schools
- MGH Institute of Health Professionals
- Stanford University
- Thomas Jefferson University
- University of North Carolina School of Law
- Winston-Salem State University

Academic Internships
- Hospice and Palliative Care of Alamance-Caswell
- NC Office of the Chief Medical Examiner
- New York City Dept. of Parks and Recreation

The Student Professional Development Center, Office of Career Services, surveys each graduating class with regard to their post-graduation placement. Graduates are surveyed 3 months and 9 months after graduation. For the class of 2015, there was a final response rate of 97% per 9-month survey.