Section 1. The officers of the faculty shall be a chair and a secretary.

Section 2. Method of Selection. The president of the university shall serve as chair of the faculty. The secretary shall be elected by the academic council for a 1-year term.

Section 3. Duties. The chair or his/her appointee shall serve as the presiding officer at meetings of the faculty, exercise supervision over the activities of the organization, and represent and speak for the organization to other organizations and to the public. The secretary shall keep an accurate record of the proceedings of the meetings, prepare the minutes, and cause to be preserved all reports and documents of the organization.

ARTICLE V

Powers

Section 1. General Powers. The general powers granted to the faculty by the charter of Elon University are "to confer by and with the consent of the Board of Trustees all degrees and marks of literary distinction as are usually conferred by colleges and universities and to make regulations regarding courses of instruction, student discipline, and such other matters as may be assigned to it by the Board of Trustees."

Section 2. Specific Powers. The following specific powers are granted to the faculty to be exercised subject to review by and approval of the president and the Board of Trustees:

- a. To recommend the academic standards for admission of students to Elon University and for continuation therein;
- b. To determine the courses of study, requirements for admission thereto, and standards of performance;
- c. To determine and to maintain current requirements for granting of academic degrees;
- d. To evaluate student performance and to recommend approval of student applications for graduation;
- e. To determine and recommend to the Board of Trustees standards for selection, promotion, and tenure of faculty members;
- f. To make rules for the implementation of the instructional program;
- g. To evaluate (1) effectiveness of the instructional program, (2) performance of individual faculty members in execution of the program, and (3) proposals for improvement of academic instruction;
- h. To make rules for conduct of faculty business and to organize such councils and committees as may be required;
- i. To discipline members for infractions of faculty rules;
- j. To make rules of conduct for aspects of students' lives relating to the educational process and to discipline students for infractions thereof;
- k. To make recommendations to the Board of Trustees through its academic affairs and campus life committee on any matter pertaining to the educational program of the university;
- l. To define ethical and professional standards for members of the faculty.

ARTICLE VI

Academic Council

Section 1. Membership. The academic council shall consist of 11 members elected for terms of 3 years, an adjunct faculty representative, without vote, the president, without vote, and/or the provost/vice president for academic affairs, without vote. On occasions when the council so requests, the president and the provost/vice president for academic affairs shall not meet with the council. Such requests may be made as a matter of course, and need not signify any exigency. In addition, the president, and the provost/vice president for academic affairs will not meet with the council when it is serving as a nominating committee or as a hearing committee. Elections to the academic council occur on a 3-year cycle. In the first year of the cycle one member shall be elected from each of the following divisions: (1) fine arts and humanities; (2) mathematics and natural sciences; and (3) social sciences. In the second year of the 3-year cycle, one member shall be elected from each of the following: (1) School of Education; (2) Martha and Spencer Love School of Business; (3) School of Communications; and (4) a member of the academic support staff with faculty rank. In the final year of the 3-year cycle, four at-large members shall be elected by the faculty. The adjunct faculty representative will be elected annually in August, and must be currently employed by the university as an adjunct faculty member during her/his term.

- a. Eligibility to Serve. To serve as a voting member of the academic council, a faculty member must be a voting member under the terms of these bylaws, must have 2 years of service on the faculty, and must hold the rank of lecturer, assistant professor or above. No more than two members of the faculty whose principal duties are administrative may serve on the council at any one time.
- b. Eligibility to Vote for Members. All faculty members who have voting privileges under the terms of these bylaws shall be eligible to vote for members of the academic council. The only exception to this will be for the adjunct representative who will be elected by adjunct faculty.
- c. Election. At the March meeting of the faculty, election of members will follow a prescribed cycle:
 - Year One: fine arts and humanities; mathematics and natural sciences; and social sciences
 - Year Two: School of Education; Martha and Spencer Love School of Business; School of Communications; member of academic support staff with faculty rank
 - Year Three: four at-large members

In years one and two, divisions and schools shall meet individually and elect a representative. Current council members from each division will coordinate these sessions. In year three, at-large members will be elected by full voting faculty. The council shall solicit interest in serving, but will not provide a slate of nominees. All nominations for academic council will be made from the floor. All voting will be by secret ballot. Members of the academic council shall take office during the last council meeting of the academic year and shall serve until their successors are duly installed.

(7/05)

- d. Vacancies. In the event of an elective vacancy on the council, an election shall be held at the next regular meeting of the faculty to fill the unexpired term. The manner of election shall be the same as that by which the vacating member was elected.
- e. Right of Recall. The faculty reserves the right of recall of any member of the council. A two-thirds vote of the faculty shall be required.
- f. Re-election or Reappointment. No member of the council shall serve for more than two consecutive terms.
- g. Election of adjunct representative. For the election of the adjunct representative, paper ballots will be mailed to adjunct faculty in August and returned to the chair of Academic Council.

Section 2. Officers of the Council. The members shall elect annually a chair and a secretary, who, in the absence of the chair, shall serve in his/her place.

Section 3. Powers and Responsibilities of the Council

- a. The academic council shall act as coordinating committee of the faculty and shall deliberate on any matter within the province of the faculty for the purpose of formulating general policy for approval or disapproval of the faculty. Those matters which are the responsibility of standing committees shall be referred to the appropriate committee.
- b. The council shall work with the president in planning the agenda for meetings of the faculty in order to provide for timely and appropriate discussion of faculty business and to provide adequate information about matters of concern to the faculty.
- c. In its role as coordinating committee of the faculty, the academic council shall communicate regularly with members of standing committees. Faculty representatives of standing committees who have concerns about issues of shared governance in areas relevant to their committee should report those concerns to the academic council. The council shall consider these concerns and, where it deems appropriate, formally address them in regular council meetings. On matters deemed to be of general concern, the council may report directly to the faculty, or request that standing committees do so. In addition, the academic council shall collect formal reports on a yearly basis from the chairs of all standing committees.
- d. The council shall act in an advisory capacity to the president. It shall advise the president on the setting of priorities and the planning of long-range goals for the university. The council shall avail itself of pertinent information that is required to carry out these advisory duties effectively.

- e. The council shall supply the faculty yearly with information relevant to its participation in the formulation of the goals and priorities of the university and shall supply the faculty yearly with information relevant to these priorities and goals.
- f. The council shall serve as a nominating committee for elective members of standing committees of the faculty, submitting to the faculty at least one week in advance of the faculty meeting one name for each place to be filled. The council shall secure consent of persons being nominated.
- g. The council shall develop and maintain a Statement of Professional Standards and publish it upon adoption by the faculty. Council shall submit proposed amendments to this statement to the faculty. Approval shall require an affirmative vote of the majority of the voting members present at a regular meeting of the faculty subsequent to the one in which the proposal was presented.

- h. Elected members of the council shall serve as a hearing committee, when a hearing is to be held, in cases involving the dismissal or suspension of a faculty member or charges of unprofessional conduct against a faculty member.

Section 4. Meetings and Procedures of Council. The council shall determine its place of meeting and its procedures. Meetings of the council shall be held no less than once a month during the academic year and at such other times as it shall deem necessary.

Section 5. Reports. The chair of the council shall make reports on the deliberations and recommendations of the council at all regular meetings of the faculty and shall make such other reports as may be required by the faculty.

ARTICLE VII

Faculty Meetings

Section 1. Regular Meetings. The regular faculty meeting shall be held on the first Friday of each month during the academic year. The presiding officer shall cause to be prepared and distributed to each member, at least three days in advance of regular meetings, a written notice and an agenda accompanied by minutes of the previous meeting. The agenda shall be prepared jointly by the presiding officer and the chair of the academic council. The usual order of business for a regular meeting shall be as follows:

- a. Call to Order and Invocation

Section 2. Special Meetings. The presiding officer shall call a special meeting whenever (1) the presiding officer considers it necessary, or (2) the academic council or any ten faculty members request such.

Section 3. Procedures

- a. Formal announcement of faculty action shall be made only by the presiding officer or by persons designated by the presiding officer or by vote of the faculty.
- b. Non-voting members may participate in discussion.
- c. A major policy item, including a curriculum change, will not be allowed to come to a vote at a regular meeting unless the proposal in writing has been distributed with the agenda 3 days in advance or unless the item has been discussed at a previous meeting.
- d. All elections shall be decided by a majority of all legal votes cast.

(7/05)

ARTICLE VIII

Standing Committees

Section 1. Election of Members to Standing Committees. Election of members for the promotions and tenure committee shall be held at the regular April meeting of the faculty. Election of members for other standing committees shall be held at the regular May meeting of the faculty. Nominations shall be made by the academic council; additional nominations from the floor shall be in order. Election may be by voice vote when there is no contest.

(7/04)

Section 2. Staggering of Terms on Standing Committees. Notwithstanding other provisions of the article, upon initial election total membership shall be provided, and where staggered terms of membership are required, elected committee members shall assign themselves to short terms by lot.

Section 3. Student Membership on Standing Committees. Student members shall be full-time students; have at least a 2.0 cumulative average; and, unless otherwise provided for in this article, shall be elected annually in May by the newly installed student senate from nominations submitted by the president of the student government association. Members appointed by the president of the student government association shall be approved by the student senate. No student shall serve on more than one committee at the same time. Academic Freedom Statement

In the spirit of its historic association with the United Church of Christ, Elon University affirms the openness of that tradition to free inquiry and respect for the right of each person to her or his convictions. Academic freedom is the right of every faculty member to be responsibly engaged in scholastic efforts to seek, discover, speak, teach and publish the truth. Elon University will uphold its faculty's academic freedom and will protect all its faculty members against influences from inside or outside the university which would restrict them in the exercise of that freedom.

At the same time, Elon University enjoins its faculty members to exercise these freedoms in a professional and responsible fashion. As scholars and teachers, they should remember that others may judge their profession and their institution by their utterances. Hence they should at all times be accurate, exercise appropriate restraint, show respect for the opinions of others, and make every effort to indicate that they are not speaking for the institution unless so authorized.

Any faculty member, regardless of rank or contract status, who believes his or her academic freedom has been violated, may petition the academic council for a hearing. Following the hearing, the academic council will report its findings to the president and to the faculty member who initiated the petition.
