Isabella Cannon Centre for International Studies
Study Abroad Research-based Scholarship Guidelines & Application

- Scholarship amount: Up to $1,000 based upon merit of research proposal.
- Scholarship recipients are expected to present the results of their research in an international forum prior to their graduation.

To qualify, students:
- Must study abroad with an approved Elon University program for a semester-long program. In some instances, research may be conducted during a summer program.
- Must not have received an Isabella Cannon Research-based or Need-based scholarship in the past.

A complete application includes the following:
- Study Abroad Research-based scholarship application form
- Completed and properly signed application for a departmental 499 course that includes nature, purpose of project/research, goals and strategies, plus a faculty sponsor signature, advisor signature, and department chair signature. The Dean/Assistant Dean of ICCIS will sign this form after all other signatures have been collected.*

Deadlines, Guidelines and the 499 registration form can be found at:
http://org.elon.edu/urp/Dreamweaver/Faculty.htm

- An essay indicating why the research must be done in the country(ies) listed. The essay should be typed, double-spaced and approximately 500 words in length.
- A budget indicating what types of expenses they expect to incur with the research.

*Approval of a research project does not guarantee funding. Funds are limited and the awards are highly competitive.

Recipients of the scholarship will be sent an award letter to their Elon email account that lists conditions and amount of the award.
