

Policy Regarding Second Opinions of Elon University Student-Athletes

- Care for injuries sustained while participating in intercollegiate athletics at Elon that require a physician's consultation must be coordinated by a certified athletic trainer, an emergency room physician or a designated Elon University team physician unless otherwise directed by a member of Elon's athletic training staff.
- Indications for a second opinion outside of the athletics department's designated team physicians must be cleared through staff athletic trainers and Elon team physicians prior to the appointment being schedule.

Failure to abide by these stipulations will result in the voiding of insurance coverage offered through the athletics department and result in the student-athlete and their family being responsible for all financial obligations of the care.
