Destination

Elon University attracts students not only from all regions of the United States, but internationally as well. The university’s current student population hails from 43 states, the District of Columbia and 51 foreign nations, with approximately 28% being North Carolina natives. Where these students come from, however, doesn’t necessarily predict where they will end up. Figure 1 shows a regional breakdown of the locations of the jobs accepted by new graduates.

Figure 1: U.S. and international regions chosen for employment by 2008 Elon graduates*

*Regional breakdown, U.S. Embassy website, http://usa.usembassy.de/travel-regions.htm