Update Elon Job Network
Does your Elon Job Network profile have your most current information and updated resume? Review your Elon Job Network profile to make sure your career interests and geographic preferences are accurate. Check the Elon Job Network at least once a week to review new opportunities as they change consistently throughout the year.

Choose your Career Direction
Don’t worry if you haven’t determined what career paths might interest you. Take our assessments. Explore possible career paths on the Job & Career Accelerator for information about careers and industries that might interest you, and meet with a career advisor to discuss your options.

Prepare for your Job Search
Kick your job search into high gear. Do you have all your job search materials ready?
- Have your resume reviewed by one of our career advisors to ensure it is in top shape.
- Prepare cover letters that are interesting and unique, and relevant to the position advertised.
- Prepare for face-to-face interviews on your own time with Perfect Interview. When you’re ready to try out your interview skills in person, schedule a mock interview with us.
- Build your professional network by creating a LinkedIn profile and set up informational interviews with people in the Elon Mentor Network who are aligned to your targeted careers, industries and organizations.

Register for Employer Events
The Student Professional Development Center hosts a variety of employer informational sessions and interviews throughout the year. Sign-up for On-Campus Recruiting.
The Student Professional Development Center also hosts employer showcase events during the spring fall semesters where individuals can gather information regarding full-time employment, internships, explore career opportunities, and network with professionals.
The Office of Career Services hosts two employer showcase events during the spring fall semesters. Gather information regarding full-time employment, internships, explore career opportunities, and network with professionals.

Apply for Jobs
Once you’ve done your research and honed your job search skills and materials, it’s time to start applying for jobs. Opportunities are posted throughout the year on the Elon Job Network as well as Indeed.com. Networking is the top source of jobs. Attend career events and see an advisor to hone your networking skills and identify unique opportunities.

Plan for Post-Graduation
Life after Elon may be daunting, but we can help you prepare. If full-time employment isn’t your first choice for post-graduate life, consider graduate school, working abroad or volunteering. Explore GradSchools.com for the best online information about graduate schools or set up an appointment with an advisor to talk about your post-graduation plans.
