Library Tour of Belk Library

Objective: To show the overall layout of Belk Library and the many services available in the library for all Elon students, faculty and staff.

FIRST FLOOR

Information Desk
The librarians here can be extremely valuable resources to help with your research and are always more than happy to assist students any way they can. Also at the Information Desk is an elite student. These student workers know the library well, so if you have a question about computers, need help finding a library resource, or just need to borrow a pen, they are here to assist you.

Macs and PCs available to students/faculty 24 hours
All the Macs have iLife '09 on them, and some contain the latest version of the entire Adobe Creative Suite, so you can come here if you want to make sweet pictures in Photoshop or websites in Dreamweaver.

Tutoring Center
Tables are staffed in the evenings by student tutors who offer free homework help to other students. For more information about the Tutoring Center, visit org.elon.edu/tutoring.

Oak Grove Lounge
While the second and third floors are better for quiet study, this area provides comfortable chairs and can be a good place to study quietly or to escape from the louder computer lab area.

Restrooms
Located on all floors of the Library.

Writing Center
Students who staff the Writing Center have all taken a class and are certified to help you build a better paper. They are not an editing service but a valuable resource and can really help you become a better writer. For more information, visit org.elon.edu/writingcenter/.
Referenc Books
This area includes lots of encyclopedias and other great resources that can help when starting your research. There is another quiet study area behind the book shelves.

Copy Room (both the DocSend and copiers are located here)
Links to individual videos are provided within scene.

Media Services
At Media Services you can borrow a variety of other equipment, including laptops and speakers. They can also make laminated posters for you.

Circulation Desk
You can check out any DVDs or books you find on the second and third floors. You can also pick up any materials your professors have put on reserve.

SECOND FLOOR
The second floor holds books with call numbers 000 to 499, as well as CDs, DVDs, academic journals, newspapers, and popular magazines.

CDs
These CDs are free to check out by any student at any time, and the library has a pretty extensive selection of classical and jazz music.

DVDs
Elon has thousands of popular DVDs for students to check out, so if you feel like watching a movie without actually going and renting one, the library is the place to go.

Microfilm Collection
Often used by history majors, it contains tiny film strips of old newspapers which can be blown up on these machines.
Periodical Section
This section has many well respected journals for doing research. Many of these journals are housed in the moving shelves. This area also includes the latest issues of popular magazines.

Also on the second floor is another copy room and a variety of quiet study areas.

THIRD FLOOR

The silent study floor
You can find books with call numbers above 500. Many of these books are more fun, such as books on music, film, and art, and novels. There are also lots of study rooms, couches, and study carrels.
