Which sexually transmitted infections do gynecologists check for during a regular examination?

A pap test can evaluate cervical cells.

This is the only STI examinations check for, which is why it is so important to ask your gynecologist to perform specific tests.

Specific Tests that can be run, IF Asked for:

- Syphilis
- Gonorrhea
- Chlamydia
- Herpes
- Genital warts
- HIV