Assistant Professors: Hammer, McBride, Peters
Adjunct: L. Russell

Religious Studies courses and the Religious Studies major and minor are designed to help students learn about one of the most basic and universal aspects of human existence. Knowing about religion helps us to better understand ourselves and the beliefs of others.

The series of courses required for the major gives students a taste of three major subdivisions within the discipline of religion. The members of the Religious Studies faculty seek to foster in students a love of learning, informed values and a spirit of tolerance. In keeping with Elon’s liberal arts objectives, the program and the faculty also seek to develop the students’ ability to think critically and communicate effectively, both in the discipline and in other areas of life.

A major in Religious Studies requires the following courses:

- REL 111 Introduction to the Old Testament 4 sh or REL 112 Introduction to the New Testament
- REL 121 World Religions 4 sh
- REL 134 Introduction to Religious Studies 4 sh
- REL 492 Senior Seminar 4 sh

An additional six courses, five at the 300-400 level: 24 sh

1 course in Biblical Studies
1 course in Eastern and Islamic Studies
1 course in Theological and Ethical Studies
3 electives

(Greek 110, 210 are recommended for all Religious Studies majors and Greek 310 may be substituted for a Religious Studies course in the Biblical Studies area.)

Science

Associate Professor: Agnew, N. Harris, Seidel, Wright
Assistant Professors: Carloye, Lee

Science courses integrate the natural sciences, providing the opportunity to see the interrelatedness of the different science disciplines. Students experience the processes of science and relate the natural sciences to areas outside the classroom and laboratory.

SCI 121. SCIENCE WITHOUT BORDERS 4 sh

Investigate the major ideas in the natural sciences and their commonalities in this non-traditional science course emphasizing the processes of science through hands-on, minds-on activities. Intended for nonscience majors, Science Without Borders is a natural science course and students are responsible for understanding science content and processes. Students collaborate to prepare projects relating the natural sciences to a complex “real-world” problem and bring in other disciplines in a benefits/risks analysis. This course does not carry lab credit, but does count toward the non-laboratory science General Studies requirement.

Social Science

The disciplines of the social sciences offer several interdisciplinary courses that study the methods and approaches used in the social science fields. In addition, the Social Sciences host two special programs: The Social Science Fellows program and a major in Social Science Education.

SSC 350. SCHOLARSHIP AT WORK: RESEARCH IN THE SOCIAL SCIENCES 2 sh
This course offers an interdisciplinary seminar exploring how scholars in the social sciences ask questions, explore topics and apply their research. Students must concurrently register for a research course (two semester hours) to work with a faculty mentor from the social science division to prepare a research proposal for a “Fellows Project.” Prerequisites: acceptance as a Social Science Fellow and junior standing.

SSC 351. SCHOLARSHIP AT WORK: RESEARCH IN THE SOCIAL SCIENCES 2 sh
This course offers an interdisciplinary seminar exploring how scholars in the social sciences ask questions, explore topics and apply their research. Students must concurrently register for a research course (two semester hours) to work with a faculty mentor from the social science division to begin work on their “Fellows Project.” Prerequisites: acceptance as a Social Science Fellow and junior standing.

Social Science Education

Chair, Department of Sociology: Professor Basirico
Coordinator: Assistant Professor Curry

Social Science Education, designed for prospective secondary school social studies teachers, is an integrated, multidisciplinary study of interactions among people in diverse cultural and geographical environments. It examines political institutions, economic processes, historical events and social forces which influence human behavior and produce continually changing relationships and ideas.

The Social Science Education program helps students understand major social, economic, political and environmental issues in both historical and contemporary settings. The program also focuses on the relationship between the person and the larger society. In that context, students are encouraged to reflect upon their own values and behavior. Part of this process emphasizes the development of analytical and communication skills which help people solve problems and make decisions rationally.

Elon’s Social Science Education program provides students with an opportunity to master the competencies required by the North Carolina State Department of Public Instruction, including the ability to (1) formulate objectives; (2) identify and use available resources; (3) read and interpret data; (4) select and create teaching strategies; (5) use facts, develop concepts and formulate generalizations; (6) design and use assessment and evaluation techniques; (7) use democratic classroom methods; (8) recognize and deal with sensitive and controversial issues; and (9) learn computer technology relevant to the social sciences.

A major in Social Science Education requires the following courses:

- ECO 201 Principles of Economics 4 sh
- GEO 131 The World’s Regions 4 sh
- SOC 111 Introductory Sociology 4 sh
- POL 111 American Government 4 sh
Sociology and Anthropology

Chair, Department of Sociology: Professor Basirico
Coordinator, Anthropology Minor: Professor Bolin
Professors: Arcaro, T. Henricks
Assistant Professors: Curry, Jones, Smith-Nonini

Sociology and anthropology provide the student with an exceptional understanding of the world by developing an awareness of how society and culture shape our lives and perspectives. Studying sociology and anthropology is more like a journey in which we learn to stand outside ourselves to see our world with new eyes.

Sociologists and anthropologists study all forms and dimensions of human social and cultural behavior from the institutional to the interpersonal e.g., “How do people select a mate? How are people organized into groups such as sororities, fraternities and sports teams? How do institutions such as the family, economy, government, religion and healthcare develop and affect our lives?”

With their wide scope, sociology and anthropology are linked to all the disciplines and are complementary to any major found at Elon. The U.S. is a culturally diverse society and solutions to our interpersonal, community, national and international problems demand an understanding of society and culture.

The sociocultural perspective students develop through sociology and anthropology is an asset not only in their personal lives, but also in business, politics, economics, healthcare, education, health and fitness, social services, the mental health field, urban planning, family planning and many other professions.
