Elon On-Campus Recruiting Policies
The Student Professional Development Center (SPDC) at Elon University allows students sufficient time to carefully consider their employment options and to make informed decisions. We educate students on evaluating job offers and discourage them from hasty decisions that may lead to reneging, which we strongly discourage, and may lead to a student being suspended from using the SPDC services. In order to better meet student and employer needs, the SPDC at Elon University has created the following on-campus recruiting policies for the 2014-2015 academic year.

2014 Fall Semester –
Internship & Full-time Offers from Fall Recruiting, including Summer Internship Conversions:
Employers must give until OCTOBER 31, 2014 for students to accept or decline offers OR three weeks after the date of the written offer, whichever is later.

2015 Spring Semester –
Internship & Full-time Offers from Spring Recruiting:
Employers must give until MARCH 31, 2015 for students to accept or decline offers OR three weeks after the date of the written offer, whichever is later

Acceptance of Offers
Employers must notify the SPDC once a student has accepted an employment offer, allowing us to remove student access to our on-campus recruiting program and suspend interview privileges.

Additionally, if the SPDC is made aware of an employer pursuing a student for a full-time or an internship position knowing that the student has already accepted an offer (verbally or written) with another organization, the employer may be subject to suspension from on-campus recruiting program for up to one year. This policy is in place to protect the employer with whom the student has accepted an offer and to protect the students from undue pressure.

Rescind Policy
If economic realities force an employer to rescind on offers, the employer must report this to the SPDC prior to when the actual rescinding takes place with the student. This will allow the Elon University SPDC to prepare for the questions and concerns from students, in addition to preparing to work with the students on conducting a new search. The SPDC also would continue to engage the employer in discussion so as to determine best steps in moving forward with their recruiting relationship at Elon and assisting students who had their offer rescinded. Employers who rescind offers may be subject to suspension from the on-campus recruiting program for up to one year or longer.
