BACCALAUREATE

Alumni Gym, Koury Athletic Center

The Rev. Luke A. Powery, dean of Duke Chapel at Duke University, was ordained by the Progressive National Baptist Convention and has served at churches in Switzerland, Canada and the United States. Rev. Powery also serves as secretary of the Academy of Homiletics and is a member of both the American Academy of Religion and the Society for the Study of Black Religion. A member of the executive lectionary team for The African American Lectionary, an online ecumenical project funded by the Lilly Endowment, Inc., Rev. Powery is the recipient of numerous scholastic fellowships and awards from organizations. In recognition for his work, he was named one of “20 to Watch” by the African American Pulpit in 2008, a distinction given to 20 outstanding black ministers under the age of 40 who are shaping the future direction of the church.

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES

Under the Oaks

Family and friends should be seated by 5:45 p.m. The Commencement processional will begin the formal ceremony. Tickets are not required to attend. Family pets are discouraged. Special needs seating is located audience left.

Roy Cooper, the attorney general of North Carolina, will be the commencement speaker. Since Attorney General Cooper was first elected in 2000, he has served as the chief law enforcement officer and administrative head of the North Carolina Department of Justice. He provides legal representation and advice to all state government departments, agencies and commissions. He gives legal opinions at the request of other public officials and handles all criminal appeals from state trial courts. When the state’s public interests are at stake, Attorney General Cooper can take legal action on behalf of North Carolina’s citizens. Before becoming attorney general, he was a managing partner of his law firm and was elected to both the North Carolina House and Senate where he served as the senate majority leader and chairman of the Judiciary and Ethics committees. He received both his undergraduate and law degrees from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill where he was a Morehead Scholar. He has served as a Sunday school teacher, an elder and deacon in his church. He has long tutored students at local schools and has led fundraising for the March of Dimes, Barium Springs Home for Children and the United Way.
