

Legal Writing Institute One-Day Workshop

Legal Writing: Passport to the Profession

Elon University School of Law, Greensboro, NC
December 8, 2017

All sessions will take place in Room 105

8:00 – 8:30 Registration & Breakfast

8:30 – 8:45 Welcome – Dean Luke Bierman
Professors Sue Liemer & Catherine Wasson

9:00 – 10:30 Diversity & Inclusion

Amplifying Diverse Voices (you will need your phone, tablet, or laptop)
Tiffany Atkins – Elon University School of Law

Diversity in the LW Professoriate
Andrij Kowalsky – York University, Toronto, Canada

10:30 – 10:45 Break

10:45 – 11:45 Drafting

Using FOIA as a LW Teaching Tool
Elliot Engstrom – Elon University School of Law

Drafting (Asylum) Affidavits
Katherine Reynolds – Elon Law Humanitarian & Immigration Law Clinic

11:45 – 12:15 Food for Thought

Using Chocolate to Teach Legal Synthesis and Analysis
Jacob Lauser – Campbell University

12:15 – 1:45 Lunch

1:45 – 3:00 Making Connections

Seeing Empowers Doing: Visualizing Links Between Legal Research & Writing
Craig Smith – University of North Carolina

Practical Considerations for LW: Advice From the “Real World”
Heather Gram – Elon University School of Law

How and When to Introduce Email into the 1L Curriculum
Drew Simshaw – Elon University School of Law

3:00 – 3:15 Break

3:15 – 4:30 The “Doctrinal” Dilemma

Coordinating Writing Assignments with Other 1L Courses
Chris Coughlin, Russell Gold, & Elizabeth Johnson – Wake Forest University
Law School

Why Legal Writing is a Doctrinal Course
Harold Lloyd – Wake Forest University Law School

4:30 – 4:45 Farewell

And thank you to our breakfast and lunch sponsors:

CAROLINA ACADEMIC PRESS

