

REGISTRATION PACKET – FALL 2019

TO: RISING THIRD-YEAR ELON LAW STUDENTS
RISING SECOND-YEAR ELON LAW STUDENTS

FROM: REGISTRAR'S OFFICE

RE: FALL 2019 COURSE REGISTRATION

DATE: April 29, 2019
May 7, 2019 (Revised)

Background – 3Ls

- The Fall Session (September 3 through November 26) is a mandatory term. During this term, the 2-credit bar exam preparation course entitled “Bar Exam Foundations” will be offered. You will register for one of the four sections. The other course options and registration information for the Fall Session are included in this packet.

Background – 2Ls

Your 2019-2020 academic year is split into various “components.” These include:

- The Fall Trimester (September 3 through November 26) - The Fall Trimester is a mandatory term. The course options and registration information for the Fall Trimester are included in this packet. If you did not take Constitutional Law I or Professional Responsibility during the Summer session, you will automatically be registered for Professional Responsibility and it is your responsibility to register for one of the two Constitutional Law I sections for the Fall Trimester.
- The Winter Trimester (January 2 through March 13) is a mandatory term. Like the Fall Trimester, you will select which courses you take during the Winter Trimester. Registration for the Winter Trimester will be in October.
- The Spring Trimester (March 30 through June 5) is a mandatory term. Like the Fall and Winter Trimesters, you will select which courses you take during the Spring Trimester. Registration for the Spring Trimester will take place later in the 2019-2020 academic year.
- During either the Winter or Spring Trimesters of your 2L year, you will complete a Practice Residency. If you know the type of Residency you will seek, consider taking a course in the Fall Trimester that may be highly recommended by the firm, agency, organization or court where you hope to work. For example, all public defender and district attorney offices recommend taking as prerequisites Criminal Procedure and Trial Practice and Procedure, both of which are offered in the Fall. In addition, Administrative Law, Family Law, In-House

Corporate Practice, Intellectual Property, and Wills and Trusts are recommended by some placements. You will take an accompanying course along with the residency during that trimester, but not all courses offered in the Fall will be offered in your Residency term. A list of Winter and Spring 2020 anticipated courses is included in this packet. More information about potential Residency Placements for Winter and Spring Trimesters is available at <https://www.elon.edu/e/law/academics/programs-and-centers/residency/placements.html>.

- If you are interested in participating in mock trial in the 2019-2020 academic year, you must take Trial Practice and Procedure in Fall 2019. Evidence and Trial Practice and Procedure can be taken simultaneously.
- If your GPA is 2.67 or lower after the Spring 2019 trimester, you are required to register for one of the three sections of Mastering Legal Analysis. If you do not register for the course and are required to take it, you will automatically be registered for one of the sections this Summer.

Contents of this Registration Packet

This packet includes the following information:

- A course description and class schedule for the Bar Exam Foundations course.
- Course descriptions and the class schedule for the courses to be offered in the Fall Session;
- A “Confirmation of Faculty Advisor Meeting” form; and
- A memorandum concerning the Uniform Bar Exam (“UBE”).

Adjustments may also be made to the Fall Session class schedule included in this packet. The Registrar’s office will keep you updated as any adjustments occur. Advising memorandums for specific practice areas of interest are located on the Registrar’s website.

- Communications Requirement (REQUIRED)

Each student must also fulfill a Communications Requirement after the first year. The Communications Requirement is intended to develop communication skills and provide the student interim feedback on those skills. The Requirement may be filled by completing a law review note under faculty supervision, competing on a Moot Court or Mock Trial team, completing a Leadership Fellow Capstone Project, or taking a course designated by the Associate Dean for Academic Affairs as a “Communications Course.”

A student may not satisfy both the Communications Requirement and the Upper Level Writing Requirement with a single course or experience; each requirement must be met separately. For example, if a course is designated a “Communications Course” and the course includes writing a paper that would meet the Upper Level Writing Requirement, a student may satisfy either the Communications Requirement or the Upper Level Writing Requirement by taking the course, but not both.

Communications courses offered during the Fall 2019 Trimester are:

Advanced Family Law
Capstone Leadership
Family Law
General Externship
Humanitarian Immigration Law Clinic

In-House Corporate Counsel
Law Firm Management
Mastering Legal Analysis
Negotiations
Prisoners' Rights
Small Business Clinic
Street Law
Trial Practice & Procedure
Wills Drafting Clinic

• Bridge-to-Practice Courses (RECOMMENDED)

The Law School designates certain courses as “Bridge-to-Practice Courses,” or “Bridge Courses.” A Bridge Course is the culmination of the student’s transition from theory to practice and follows the student’s completion of a residency. Bridge Courses can be offered in any subject area, and students may choose the course that matches their area of interest. Bridge Courses may involve an extended simulation, a field component, or a live-client experience in the relevant practice area and could involve other educational approaches at the professor’s discretion. Bridge Courses will provide students opportunities to: (1) exercise professional judgment; (2) evaluate legal strategies; (3) build on and apply legal knowledge from other courses to novel factual situations; (4) synthesize legal knowledge from across doctrinal areas; and (5) practice advanced oral and written communication skills.

Bridge Courses offered during the Fall 2019 Trimester are:

Advanced Criminal Procedure
Advanced Family Law
Capstone Leadership
Closely Held Business Enterprise
General Externship
Humanitarian Immigration Law Clinic
In-House Corporate Counsel
Law Firm Management
Negotiations
Small Business Clinic
Street Law
Trial Practice & Procedure
Wills Drafting Clinic

The Registration Process

Registration for the Fall Session will take place for the rising 3Ls on Wednesday, May 15, 2019 starting at 12:45 p.m. and for the rising 2Ls on Thursday, May 16, 2019 starting at 12:45 p.m. Registration is done electronically through OnTrack. Prior to registering for courses, all students must meet with their faculty advisors. The purpose of these meetings is to get advice and suggestions regarding course selection. Students must submit a signed “Confirmation of Faculty Advisor Meeting” form to the Registrar before they will be permitted to register for courses. The Confirmation of Faculty Advisor Meeting form is due to the Registrar by Tuesday, May 14, 2019 at 5:00 p.m. for rising 3Ls and Wednesday, May 15, 2019 at 5:00 p.m. for rising 2Ls. Students who do not submit Confirmation forms will not be permitted to register. Students are responsible for scheduling meetings with their faculty advisors. If you do not know who your faculty advisor is, you can find this information on OnTrack. If you have difficulty meeting with your faculty advisor, please contact the Registrar.

As mentioned above, students will register by going online to OnTrack - <https://ontrack.elon.edu/WebAdvisor/WebAdvisor?&TYPE=M&PID=CORE-WBMAIN&TOKENIDX=7485788338>.

The online registration period for all students will end on Friday, May 24, 2019 at 5:00 p.m. If you attempt to register for a course and get a message that the course has reached its enrollment cap, please email the Registrar's Office to be placed on a wait list. After May 24th, all students may drop or add Fall Session courses through the Registrar's office only (i.e., the online registration system will not be available). The drop/add period for the Fall 2019 Session will run from the first day of classes through Monday, September 9, 2019 at 4:00 p.m. Note, however, that some courses may not be dropped without the consent of the faculty member teaching the course. Any such limitations are noted in the course description.

Rising 2L and 3L students must register for at least 10 credits and no more than 14 credits for the Fall Session. A failure to register for 10 credits will affect your status as a full-time student and will have financial aid and scholarship implications. A student wishing to take more than 14 credits in the Fall may do so only with the consent of the Associate Dean for Academic Affairs.

If you have questions about course registration, please contact the Registrar's office at (336) 279-9325 or (336)279-9330; (888) ELON-LAW, ext. 9325; or jlaw@elon.edu; thorn@elon.edu.

Bar Exam Foundations, 2 credits (Professors Scott, Splawn, Lane and Cyr) LAW822A/B/C/D
This course is designed to help students maximize their performance on the bar exam in their jurisdiction of choice. In addition to reviewing and organizing critical bar-tested topics and to assisting students develop expert study strategies, the course will focus on the tactics and strategies for writing essay answers and taking multiple choice tests. Topics include Contracts, Torts, Property, Criminal Law, Criminal Procedure, Civil Procedure, Evidence, Constitutional Law, Professional Responsibility, Property, Family Law, Wills and Trusts, and Secured Transactions. Assessment will be based on simulated bar examinations. This is a graded course. This is a required course for all 3Ls. You will need to enroll in one of the four sections. Enrollment in this course is capped at 28 for each section. This course is not available to satisfy the upper level writing requirement.

§Capstone Leadership, 1 credit (Professor Leupold, Adjunct Professor Boschini) LAW755A
The Capstone course will provide 3L students an opportunity to apply leadership skills in service of a tangible product, outcome, or effort aimed at creating positive, sustainable impact on the profession, the Law School, the community, or the world. This elective will require approximately 55 credits of work during the second year, including reflective learning activities and preparation of a final report. Projects may be derived from diverse sources and should encourage student initiative and creativity. Thus the final report could take a number of different forms -- e.g., a written document of approximately 10 pages, slide presentation, video/DVD, etc. However, each project report must include a written executive summary that will both describe the project and its outcomes as well as document the specific leadership skills the student deployed in pursuit of the project and what the student learned about his or her strengths and developmental needs as a leader. Project proposals must be submitted in writing to the Director of the Capstone Leadership course or the Director's designee(s) and will be approved based on published criteria. All projects will be approved no later than the start of the second year. Teams of no more than four students may also carry out a single project, provided each student demonstrates equal effort and signs the final report. There will be a minimum of two progress check-ins with the Director of the Capstone Leadership course or the Director's designee(s) during the second year. The course will be graded on a Pass-Fail basis. Leadership Fellows will automatically be enrolled. This course is available to satisfy the upper level writing requirement.

Conflicts of Law, 3 credits (Professor Gabriel) LAW848A

This course examines how courts choose which law should be applied to transactions, relationships, or occurrences having contacts with more than one state. The course will also touch on adjudicatory jurisdiction, the recognition of foreign judgments, choice-of-law clauses, and choice-of-forum clauses. It will address the various approaches adopted by states and/or advocated by scholars (namely the Restatements (Second) & (Third) of Conflict of Laws), focusing on cases involving torts, contracts, family law and procedure. Enrollment in this course is capped at 50, with a minimum enrollment of 8. This course is not available to satisfy the upper level writing requirement.

Criminal Procedure, 3 credits (Adjunct Professor Meinecke) LAW 732A

The major constitutional restraints upon the criminal justice process are the focus of this course. Particular attention is given to the provisions of the Fourth, Fifth, and Sixth Amendments to the United States Constitution, including such specific issues as arrest, search and seizure, interrogations and confessions, the exclusionary rule, and the right to defense counsel. Overall consideration is given to the impact of Fourteenth Amendment Due Process requirements throughout state and federal criminal justice systems. Enrollment in this course is capped at 40, with a minimum enrollment of 8. This course is not available to satisfy the upper level writing requirement.

Adjunct Professor Terry Meinecke is an Assistant United States Attorney in the Middle District of North Carolina. In that role, he prosecutes crimes ranging from gun and drug related offenses to armed robbery and homicide. Mr. Meinecke is a Major in the United States Army Reserve JAG Corps. He received his J.D. from the University of Nebraska School of Law.

Employment Discrimination, 3 credits (Professor Levine) LAW823A

This course will cover theoretical, legal and practice issues around employment discrimination law. The course will focus on U.S. employment discrimination law, primarily Title VII of the 1964 Civil Rights Act, which prohibits employment discrimination based on “race, color, religion, sex, or national origin.” The course will also examine sexual harassment, the constitutional law of employment discrimination, Title I of the Americans with Disabilities Act (“ADA”), the Age Discrimination in Employment Act (“ADEA”), affirmative action, and various state and local statutes addressing emerging issues in employment discrimination law, such as employment discrimination based on physical appearance or attractiveness, cyber-harassment, speech codes and “safe spaces,” and privacy violations like revenge pornography. Finally, the course will consider the interaction of the above with other related and emerging fields, like labor law, intellectual property (including trade secrecy), privacy, cyberlaw, cybersecurity and information law. The course will use practice problems (some handed in for evaluation), drafting exercises and administrative procedure (particularly EEOC filings) to apply theoretical principles. Outside speakers from private practice and government will join the class via video. Enrollment in this course is capped at 25, with a minimum enrollment of 6. This course is not available to satisfy the upper level writing requirement.

Entity Taxation, 3 credits (Professor Haile)

This course surveys the Free Speech clause of the First Amendment, and considers both the theory underlying the clause and judicial interpretations of the extent of its protections. Potential topics include hate speech, political speech, freedom of association, indecency and obscenity, tort law and the First Amendment, access to the media, commercial speech, and copyright. We will pay particular attention to the application of free speech rules, doctrines, and values to emerging technologies. Enrollment in this course is capped at 25, with a minimum enrollment of 8. This course is not available to satisfy the upper level writing requirement.

General Externship, 3 credits (Professor Conner)

LAW 690A

The General Externship course is a component of the Law School's Externship Program, which is designed to provide opportunities for students to gain practical legal experience while working under the supervision of attorneys and judges. The General Externship course is an upper-level elective which consists of a combination of supervised, unpaid work hours, reflective writing, and periodic sessions with a faculty advisor. The course requires a minimum of 135 hours of under the supervision of an attorney or judicial officer in a legal setting. All proposed placements must be approved by the Director of Externships prior to registration in the General Externship Course.

Note: 3 credits = 135 hours of work. For the process for getting approved for an externship, please visit the website at <https://www.elon.edu/e/law/academics/experiences/externships.html>. Enrollment in this course is capped at 24, with no minimum enrollment. This course is not available to satisfy the upper level writing requirement. After registration, students must seek permission from Professor Conner to drop this course.

$Humanitarian Immigration Law Clinic, 3 or 4 credits (Professor Reynolds) LAW 768A

The Clinic will be designed to give students practical experience working on a variety of immigration matters related to refugees and asylees who have faced human rights violations. Students will be responsible for all aspects of case management for the matters assigned to them. Responsibilities include meeting with clients, performing intake interviews, analyzing cases for legal remedy, gathering evidence, drafting and filing applications and briefs and maintaining client correspondence. Students will have the opportunity to observe and participate in federal administrative hearings before the Dept. of Homeland Security and immigration courts. Students will represent clients in immigration matters before federal administrative agencies under the supervision of the professor/counsel. The focus of the clinic will be refugee and asylee legal services. Typically these will involve applications for permanent residence, citizenship applications, family reunification petitions, travel and employment authorization, and applications for asylum. Students must have completed all of the first-year requirements and must have completed or be concurrently enrolled in Professional Responsibility. Students will be awarded a grade on a Pass/Fail basis. The clinic has no examination component. Student assessment will be based on a combination of casework performance and class participation. The principle research materials required for the clinic are currently available through existing on-line materials. Enrollment in this course is capped at 10, with a minimum enrollment of 4. This course is available to satisfy the upper level writing requirement if you register for the 4-credit course. After registration, students must seek permission from Professor Reynolds to drop this course.

This course will acquaint students with the data and skills necessary for delivery of legal services today and in the future. Topics and skills addressed include management theory and techniques, interviewing, counseling, negotiations, systems analysis and design, technology and professional responsibility. Lecture, demonstration, and clinical stimulations will be utilized. Enrollment in this course is capped at 25, with a minimum enrollment of 8. This course is available to satisfy the upper level writing requirement.

Adjunct Professor Duncan is a board-certified specialist in consumer bankruptcy with offices in Greensboro, Winston-Salem, Salisbury and Charlotte, NC. Since graduating from Elon University School of Law in 2009, he has been the chair of the Law Practice Management and Technology Section of the North Carolina Bar Association (NCBA), the secretary of the Bankruptcy Section, a graduate of the NCBA's Leadership Academy and has recently been nominated to the Board of Governors of the NCBA. Professor Duncan has also served as the Secretary of the Greensboro Bar Association and a preceptor at Elon Law. He regularly speaks at continuing legal education courses across the state on topics such as law practice technology and best practices for running a law practice.

$Law Review, 1 credit (Professor Fink)

LAW 996A

Subject to the approval by the Elon Law Review faculty advisor, students on the Elon Law Review may receive one credit for each academic trimester in which the students successfully fulfill their duties as a member of the Elon Law Review Staff Member or Editorial Board Member. The Editor-in-Chief and Managing Editor receive two credit hours for a total of two academic trimesters in which they successfully fulfill their duties. No student may receive more than two credits for law review activities per trimester. Law review credits are awarded on a pass/fail basis. All Elon Law Review staff members are required to submit an article-length note of publishable quality, subject to the guidelines in the Law Review Bylaws, by the end of their first year as members on Elon Law Review. The note must be written independent of a class; students may not submit a paper that was also written for class credit. Prior approval from Professor Fink is needed before registration for this course. This course is available to satisfy the upper level writing requirement with approval of Professor Fink.

Mastering Legal Analysis, 2 credits (Professors Splawn, Lane and Cyr) LAW683A/B/C

Mastering Legal Analysis is designed to improve students' ability to de-construct legal rules, to explain and evaluate the significance of facts, to thoroughly support conclusions of law, and to effectively organize content. These skills are critical in applying law to the hypothetical questions typical of both law school and bar exams. The hands-on learning methodology used in the course will include in-class analytical and writing work in both individual and group settings. Enrollment in this course is capped at 20 for each section. This course is not available to satisfy the upper level writing requirement.

Military Justice, 3 credits (Adjunct Professor Meinecke) LAW706A

This course provides an overview of the nature and sources of military law, including the Uniform Code of Military Justice. The course explores various topics at the intersection of military and criminal law, including but not limited to the following: non-judicial punishment, court martial, and Article 32a of the UCMJ. The course will also examine contemporary topics relating to the legal aspects of United States military operations throughout the world, including rules of engagement, law of armed conflict, and the role of the military lawyer in assisting to implement U.S. foreign policy. Enrollment in this course is capped at 25, with a minimum enrollment of 8. This course is available to satisfy the upper level writing requirement.

Adjunct Professor Terry Meinecke is an Assistant United States Attorney in the Middle District of North Carolina. In that role, he prosecutes crimes ranging from gun and drug related offenses to armed robbery and homicide. Mr. Meinecke is a Major in the United States Army Reserve JAG Corps. He received his J.D. from the University of Nebraska School of Law.

$Moot Court, 1 credit (Dean Woodlief) LAW 900A

Credit is awarded to students who successfully complete at least three semesters of service on the Moot Court Board and who compete in at least one interscholastic Moot Court competition, whereby they independently or as a member of a team prepare an appellate brief, practice regularly with faculty coaches and advisors for oral argument and present an oral argument in the competition. Successful completion of these requirements above and participation in one competition will receive 1 credit. Students who complete in two competitions will receive 2 credits. This course is graded on a pass/fail basis. Prior approval from Dean Woodlief is needed before registration for this course. This course is available to satisfy the upper level writing requirement with approval of Dean Woodlief.

Negotiations, 3 credits (Professor Wasson) LAW759A

All lawyers must negotiate. Whether you plan to be a commercial lawyer, a family lawyer, a criminal lawyer, a government lawyer or any other type of lawyer, you will be negotiating with other attorneys, clients, and court personnel. This class, combining theory and practice, aims to improve both your understanding of negotiation and your effectiveness as a negotiator. Students will engage in multiple negotiations. Drawing on negotiation scholarship from both legal and non-legal perspectives, the readings, lectures and discussions will provide students with strategies and techniques for negotiating more effectively and a framework for analyzing their own negotiating ability. Enrollment in this course is capped at 16, with a minimum enrollment of 8. This course is not available to satisfy the upper level writing requirement.

Prisoner's Rights, 2 credits (Professor P. Perkins) (w/December travel component) LAW829B

Students in this course will consider the governmental power to imprison, the limits on that power, and the responsibilities the government assumes when exercising its power. Through the comparative law lens, enhanced by travel to South Africa, students will explore how history shapes our understanding of prisoners' rights and examine related legal issues including conditions of confinement, use of force, and right of access to the courts. In addition, an individual research project culminating in a colloquium presentation will allow each student to dive deep into a personally meaningful prisoners' rights issue and to learn from the research and analysis of other students on a range of emerging legal issues. The class meetings include four Friday Sessions, two Brown Bag Lunches, one Prison Tour, and one final Colloquium Session, which are tentatively scheduled as follows:

- Four Friday Sessions, with dinner provided, from 4:45 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. on September 6, September 20, October 18, and November 8, 2019;
- Two brown bag lunches from 12:35 p.m. to 1:25 p.m. on Wednesday, September 11, and October 2, 2019;
- Prison Tour on Friday, September 28, 2019; and
- Colloquium Session followed by group dinner on Saturday, January 11, 2020.

The class will travel to Johannesburg and Cape Town, South Africa, departing on Friday, December 6, 2019, and returning on Wednesday, December 18, 2019. In prior years, the course included visits to the Constitutional Court, related government agencies, and nonprofits. Note that the class schedule is subject to change, with advance notice, to accommodate guest speakers, the requirements of the host prison, and travel needs. Please contact Professor Perkins (pperkins@elon.edu) for more information. Course tuition is included in the Fall Term tuition, and separate financial aid is available for the program fee and other travel expenses. The program fee may vary with enrollment, but is estimated to be $ 5,750. Due to the travel component, the registration deadline for this course is Friday, August 16, 2019, when a nonrefundable $750 deposit, which can be paid through financial aid, is due. Nonrefundable payment of the program fee balance will be due by Monday, September 30, 2019. Please contact Lynette Lorenzetti (lorenzet@elon.edu) with any financial aid questions. Because the travel and a significant part of the in-class components of this course take place outside of the Fall Term, the course does not count toward either the 10-credit minimum needed for full-time enrollment or the 14-credit maximum per term. The course will be graded on a pass / fail basis. This course is available to satisfy the communications requirement, but is not available to satisfy the upper level writing requirement. To be considered for enrollment in this course, please complete the course application, to be made available through the Registrar's office on May 10, 2019. All applications are due in the Registrars' office no later than Monday, June 17, 2019. Enrollment in this course is capped at 16, with a minimum enrollment of 8.

*Remedies, 3 credits (Dean Woodlief)

LAW795A

This course examines the various remedies available to claimants in civil litigation. It will cover damages, including compensatory, punitive and statutory damages. Equitable remedies such as injunctions and accountings will also be covered. Restitutionary remedies will also be addressed. Enrollment in this course is capped at 50, with a minimum enrollment of 8. This course is not available to satisfy the upper level writing requirement.

Small Business and Entrepreneurship Clinic, 3 credits (Professor Flynn)

LAW 767A

The Small Business and Entrepreneurship Clinic is a law office which provides business-related legal services to entrepreneurs and small business owners who would not otherwise be able to afford legal representation. Students participating in the clinic will develop analytical, planning, editorial and counseling skills in the context of client projects and reality-grounded class work. Services provided by the clinic include, but are not limited to, choice of entity advising, organizational document drafting and review, contract review and drafting, employment and human resource advising, regulatory compliance, and drafting financing documentation. To be eligible for the clinic, students must have completed all of the first-year requirements and have undertaken Professional Responsibility and Business Associations. Business Drafting, though not required, is strongly encouraged. Students are required to apply for NC State Bar Limited Practice Certification.

Enrollment in this course is capped at 6, with a minimum enrollment of 1. This course is not available to satisfy the upper level writing requirement. After registration, students must seek permission from Professor Flynn to drop this course.

Street Law, 2 credits (Professors Friedland, Meredith)

LAW737A

This two-credit course introduces law students to teaching law to non-lawyers. In addition to teaching, law students meet weekly for one hour or more in the law school to discuss legal doctrine and pedagogy, as well as write an academic critique of a related-legal topic as a final paper. Course subject areas include introduction to the legal system, criminal law, torts, consumer law, and trial advocacy. The law students generally will be assigned to teach in a local area middle or high school after completing required training and classroom preparation skills. The law students will teach at least two hours a week in these middle or high schools on a semester-long basis, generally culminating in a mock trial. Advocacy skills are developed in the mock trial settings. The law students prepare the middle or high school students to perform opening statements, direct and cross-examinations, and closing arguments. Through these trials, law students refine their knowledge of Evidence, develop communication skills and learn to lead others in a collaborative enterprise. The law school class meetings focus on pertinent substantive law areas, review teaching methodologies and engage in experiential learning. The final paper requires a thesis statement describing its main goal, footnotes or endnotes where applicable, and a critique of a substantive law issue. The course will be offered pass/fail or for a grade at the professor's discretion. Enrollment in this course is capped at 16, with a minimum enrollment of 8. This course is not available to satisfy the upper level writing requirement.

Trial Practice and Procedure, 3 credits (Adjunct Professor Boggs + Adjuncts)

LAW 781A

The goal of the Trial Practice and Procedure (TPP) course is to help students develop basic, competent advocacy skills for use in courtrooms and other legal settings. Students learn about and perform the various aspects of a jury trial, including the development of theory and theme, opening statement, direct and cross examination of lay witnesses and experts, the use and introduction of demonstrative evidence, and closing arguments. Teaching occurs in large group and small group settings. In the weekly class meeting, students meet first in a large group setting to review lecture materials, then break into small groups of 10 to 12 students to engage in simulations. In weekly small group sessions, students perform simulated trial skills under the guidance of two experienced adjunct faculty members who have extensive experience practicing law in state and federal civil and criminal court. In place of a final examination, students are required to prepare and conduct a complete jury trial to verdict. TPP is a front-loaded course, scheduled to complete class meetings by Wednesday, October 23, 2019. In addition to eight weekly class meetings, TPP includes an intensive basic skills training, called The Weekend Intensive. The Weekend Intensive is scheduled for Friday, September 6, 2019 from 5:00 to 8:00 pm and Saturday, September 7th, from 9:00 am to 5:00 pm. Weekly classes begin on Wednesday, September 4 and end on Wednesday, October 23. Final trials will be scheduled for the final week of October and first week of November. The course will be complete by November 8, 2019. Evidence is a prerequisite or co-requisite to this course. Students interested in participating on a mock trial team MUST take TPP in the Fall term. Enrollment in this course is capped at 48, with a minimum enrollment of 12. This course is graded as a pass/fail course. This course is not available to satisfy the upper level writing requirement.

Lisa Boggs has been an adjunct professor teaching TPP for the past 10 years at Elon. She has been a prosecutor for 36 years, having first served as an Assistant District Attorney in Guilford County. She has been an Assistant United States Attorney in the Middle District of North Carolina for the past 31 years and currently serves as the office's Senior Litigation Counsel. During her career she has prosecuted all types of cases including murder, rape, child exploitation, counterfeiting, fraud, bank robbery, firearms, drug, and other offenses. She has also argued several cases in the Fourth Circuit Court of Appeals. She graduated from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill with a B.A. in Political Science and also earned her Law Degree from Carolina.

*Wills and Trusts, 3 credits (Professor Chapman)

LAW 770A

This course explores the gratuitous transfer of property at death, including intestate and testate succession. It also examines the nature, establishment, management, and termination of inter vivos and testamentary trusts. Enrollment in this course is capped at 50, with a minimum enrollment of 8. This course is not available to satisfy the upper level writing requirement.

Wills Drafting Clinic (In-House), 3 credits (Adjunct Professor Ervin)

LAW773A

The Wills In-House Clinic is a learning-by-doing class with intensive instruction units, followed by actual supervised practice, under the Rules of the NC State Bar. Students receive intensive instruction encompassing necessary knowledge and skills and will be assigned to represent low income homeowners, referred to the clinic by Habitat for Humanity of Greater Greensboro and LANC. Students will interview clients, draft documents to meet the needs of clients, conference with clients to explain and review documents and oversee the self-proving signing protocol for those documents. Enrollment limited to students who have (1) completed at least 43 law school credit hours; (2) successfully completed Professional Responsibility; (3) successfully completed Wills and Trusts; and (4) are certified by the Dean as being of good character with requisite legal ability and training to perform in the clinical context. Wills & Trusts and eligibility for NC State Bar Student Practice Certification are prerequisites for this course. All clinical courses at the law school are subject to a "no drop" policy. This means that after the course registration period has closed, students will be permitted to drop a clinical course only with the permission of the clinical faculty. Enrollment in this course is capped at 8, with a minimum enrollment of 4. This course is not available to satisfy the upper level writing requirement.

Adjunct Professor Ervin is an attorney licensed in North Carolina and Florida. He is a partner with the firm of Johnson, Peddrick & McDonald, PLLC, where he practices estate planning, estate administration, and guardianship law. He completed a double-major in Business and French at UNC Greensboro, then went on to graduate cum laude from Elon University School of Law and earn an LL.M. (Master of Laws) in Tax Law from the University of Florida. While at Elon Law, he practiced estate planning in the Wills Clinic, externed for Guilford County District Court Judge Sue Burch, interned for the District Attorney in Rockingham and the Public Defender in Charlotte, as well as studied Chinese business law in Beijing and Spanish language and culture in Madrid. He continues to be involved with Elon Law, including mentoring law students throughout their studies, teaching as an adjunct faculty member, and occasionally guest lecturing and speaking on panels.

Re: The Uniform Bar Examination

Beginning with the February 2019 bar exam, North Carolina has adopted the Uniform Bar Examination (UBE). A detailed description of the UBE and other information relevant to planning your course schedule are provided below.

The UBE is coordinated by the National Conference of Bar Examiners (NCBE) and is composed of the Multistate Essay Examination (MEE), two Multistate Performance Test (MPT) tasks, and the Multistate Bar Examination (MBE). It is administered, graded, and scored by individual user jurisdictions and results in a portable score that can be transferred to other UBE jurisdictions. While the content of the UBE is uniform across all jurisdictions in which it is administered, the user jurisdictions make independent policies and decisions about admission to their bar (including passing scores), jurisdiction-specific content testing, character and fitness requirements, and the like. Therefore, it is important to check your jurisdiction's website for rules and regulations regarding the bar examination and bar admission requirements.

More detail about each of these components is below. Additional information can also be found at <http://www.ncbex.org/exams/ube/>.

UBE Exam Components

1. Multistate Essay Exam

The Multistate Essay Examination (MEE) is developed by NCBE and consists of six 30-minute questions. Jurisdictions that administer the UBE weight the MEE component 30% of the total exam score.

Testable subjects on the MEE include:

- Business Associations (Agency, Partnership, Corporations, and Limited Liability Companies)
- Civil Procedure
- Conflict of Laws
- Constitutional Law
- Contracts (including Article 2 of the Uniform Commercial Code: Sales)
- Criminal Law and Procedure
- Evidence

- Family Law
- Real Property
- Secured Transactions (Article 9 of the Uniform Commercial Code)
- Torts
- Trusts and Estates (Decedents' Estates, Trusts, and Future Interests)

The Law School regularly offers upper-level elective courses in each of the MEE-tested subject areas. The following electives, while not specifically named on the list above, cover one or more of the subject areas tested on the MEE: Remedies, Commercial Law: Sales, First Amendment: Religion, First Amendment: Speech, and Bar Exam Foundations. Each of these courses has been and will continue to be offered regularly. Conflict of Laws, which has not been a part of the Law School's regular elective offerings in the past few years, now will be offered on a recurring basis.

2. The Multistate Performance Test

The Multistate Performance Test (MPT) is developed by NCBE and consists of two 90-minute items. Jurisdictions that administer the UBE weight the MPT component 20%. We offer an MPT-based elective, generally in the Winter and Spring terms.

The MPT is designed to test an examinee's ability to use fundamental lawyering skills in a realistic situation and complete a task that a beginning lawyer should be able to accomplish. The MPT is not a test of substantive knowledge. Rather, it is designed to evaluate certain fundamental skills lawyers are expected to demonstrate regardless of the area of law in which the skills are applied. Sample tests and grading guides for both the MEE and the MPT can be found at <http://www.ncbex.org/exams/>.

3. The Multistate Bar Exam

Finally, the Multistate Bar Examination (MBE), used by nearly every state (even those that have not adopted the UBE), is a six-hour, 200-question multiple-choice examination developed by NCBE. It is administered in two three-hour segments separated by a lunch break. Jurisdictions that administer the UBE weight the MBE component 50%. The purpose of the MBE is to assess the extent to which an examinee can apply fundamental legal principles and legal reasoning to analyze given fact patterns.

The Law School regularly offers upper-level elective courses in each of the MBE-tested subject areas. The following electives, while not specifically named on the list below, cover one or more of the subject areas tested on the MEE: Remedies, Commercial Law: Sales, First Amendment: Religion, First Amendment: Speech, and Bar Exam Foundations. Each of these courses has been and will continue to be offered regularly.

The following topics are tested on the MBE:

- Civil Procedure
- Contracts
- Constitutional Law
- Criminal Law
- Criminal Procedure
- Evidence

- Property
- Torts

Outlines of the testable topics in each of these subjects can be found at <http://www.ncbex.org/pdfviewer/?file=%2Fdmsdocument%2F201>.

Please reach out to the Office of Academic Success for more information about researching the requirements for admission to practice in the jurisdiction in which you plan to take the bar exam.
