February 17, 2017

The Chautauquan Daily (Chautauqua, NY) – The Chautauquan Daily is the official newspaper of the Chautauquan Institution, a nonprofit education center seeking summer interns to work as reporters, photographers, designers, copy editors, and with digital and multimedia. The internship runs from mid-June to the end of August, and interns will receive an institution gate pass, housing, and a living stipend. For more information and to apply to any of these positions, visit their internship page online.

BBDO Worldwide (New York, NY) – BBDO is an award-winning, globally recognized advertising agency with 289 offices in 81 countries. Big-name clients include Barbie, Aspirin, Nestle, Guinness, and Snickers. BBDO hosts more than 80 interns in a 10-week-long program, from early June to mid-August. Access the online application here. To learn about the Allen Rosenshine Minority Education & Training Fund Internship, click here. Please direct questions to bbdonyinternships@bbdo.com.

TEGNA (Greensboro, NC) – TEGNA is a large, public media company that works with more than 45 TV stations. Their paid internship program allows students to explore career paths across TEGNA while working alongside celebrated journalists, producing engaging content, using social media and other tools to understand audiences, and assist in the newsroom. For more information about the internship and to apply, click here.

Buzzfeed (New York, NY) – Buzzfeed Video is looking for a summer intern to help in the creation of compelling news video content for the web and other digital platforms. The intern will assist producers with video shoots, assist with research and media gathering, contribute ideas and edit videos, and more. The full-time, paid internship requires a sample video for consideration. For more information about the position, visit the internship listing here.

European Parliament Liaison Office (Washington, DC) – The European Parliament Liaison Office with US Congress is hosting a full-time, paid, summer internship for students who have completed their bachelor’s degree. Interns will work with staffers on specific policy areas, participate in events with major interlocutors on the Hill, support internal and external communications outreach, prepare working papers, and more. For more information and to apply, click here.

DC HSEMA (Washington, DC) – The DC Homeland Security and Emergency Management Agency is a unique organization dedicated to protecting against, planning for, responding to, and recovering from natural and man-made hazards. The Plans and Preparedness Directorate and the Operations Directorate departments are searching for paid communications interns to join their teams. For more information about these opportunities, visit their internships page online.
Hearst Television (various locations) – The Fred Young Hearst Production Fellowship is now accepting applications for their 10-week summer fellowship, which is open to graduating seniors. Upon successful completion of the fellowship, fellows will be presented with a full-time, newscast producing position with a Hearst Television Station. If interested, visit their online fellowship posting for more information and to apply.

Alucia Productions (New York, NY) – Alucia Productions is a start-up, nonprofit media company that produces a wide range of media about the ocean and its natural history. They are searching for a post-production intern to join their team and assist with post-production tasks, including cutting short pieces and working under the media manager/editor to gain first-hand experience of natural history filmmaking. To apply, submit resume, cover letter, and two or more references to jobs@aluciaproductions.com with [Application: Post Production Intern] in the subject line.

Moderne Press (Emeryville, PR) – Moderne Press is a boutique public relations and social media agency that specializes in fashion, lifestyle, home décor, and kids brands. They are hiring a summer 2017 intern, who will be responsible for drafting press releases and pitch letters, compiling monthly reports and press kits, maintaining social media initiatives, and more. For more information about the position and to apply, click here.

Harvard University Athletics (Boston, MA) – Harvard University Athletics hosts a range of ten-month internships across several departments, including athletic communications, events & operations, and multimedia. This paid internship also offers an intern professional development program to help kickstart careers in sports management. For detailed descriptions of these internships, please visit the Harvard Athletics Internships Program page.

WXLI-TV 43 (Greensboro, NC) – WXLI-TV 43 is a TCT-owned-and-operated television station serving Winston-Salem, High Point, and Greensboro. They are searching for a production assistant intern to join their team for the summer. For more information about this opportunity, please contact Brian Russell at (336) 855-5610 or blr@tct.tv.

The School of Communications strives to provide accurate information to students from legitimate employers. Because of the volume of internship postings received by our office, we cannot screen every listing. We do not endorse the products or recommend the services of any of the employers listing internships through our office. We are not responsible for the safety, wages, working conditions or other employment aspects of any internship listed here. Students are urged to use common sense, caution, and practice due diligence in researching employers before applying for any internship positions within a business or organization.

FOR MORE INFORMATION:
Nagatha Tonkins
Assistant Professor/Director, Internships
Elon University, 112 McEwen
cominternships@elon.edu, (336) 278-6336
Check out our blog at: http://www.internnetwork.wordpress.com
Follow us on Twitter: http://twitter.com/Cominternship