RLF Communications (Greensboro, NC) – RLF Communications is hiring interns for this spring! Responsibilities include developing media lists, drafting news releases, evaluating media coverage, writing social media posts, conducting research and assisting with special events. This is a PR-focused internship. If interested, Send your resume, cover letter and two writing samples, including at least one press release, to interns@rlfcommunications.com.

Bouvier Kelly (Greensboro, NC) – Bouvier Kelly is accepting rolling applications for its Creative Catapult program, an internship/apprenticeship designed to give college seniors and recent graduates a head start. This six-month program requires 18 hours a week. While working within real client scenarios, the program will highlight five core areas across digital and traditional media. This program will focus on developing these core skills: Critical Thinking, Conceptual Problem-solving, Graphic Design and Presentation. For more information, look here.

The Marshall Project (PAID) (New York, NY) – This nonprofit news organization is hiring Journalism Interns this summer in the following department: Reporting, Data Reporting, Visual Journalism and Audience Engagement. This internship offers training sessions on topics such as FOIAs, investigative techniques, data analysis and more. Intern responsibilities vary by department. To apply or found out more information, look here.

NBC News & MSNBC (PAID) (New York, NY) – NBC News & MSNBC are looking for communications interns for the spring. Internship positions are available in the following sectors: Media Relations, News PR, News Brand Marketing, News Social Team, Talent Development and Recruitment, and more. The application deadline is November 1st. Look here to learn more.

Studio71 (Los Angeles, CA) – Studio71, a global media company and content studio, is hiring a part-time Production Intern for spring 2020. These interns will work closely with the production manager on everything from pre-production, production and post-production. They will be working on set and learning directly from crew leads about whatever positions they are interested in pursuing for a career. Interns will gain real-world experience developing and launching an online brand, pair with a mentor to follow an individualized learning plan and attend weekly seminars taught by industry executives. This is a great opportunity to build a network in entertainment and the digital content space and get a jumpstart on your career. Click here to learn more.

ABC News (New York, NY) – ABC News is looking to hire Production Interns for its “20/20” segment this spring. These interns must be available at least 24 hours per week (three full days) from January to May. Interns will assist staff with all aspects of production, breaking news crashes, logging and transcribing, shoot prep and editorial support. Additionally, this internship allows you to take on different kinds of tasks and to excel into new areas based on interest. Learn more and apply here.
Thomson Reuters (Multiple Locations) – Thomson Reuters is seeking Journalism Interns for summer 2020. This 10-week internship program begins in early June and ends in mid-August. These interns will work on a tightly-knit team covering spot news, contributing collaboratively on deadline and pitching enterprising story ideas. Serious candidates should include a cover letter referencing the Reuters reporting they admire most and a relevant reporting idea or two of their own. Find out more here.

Arup (San Francisco, CA) – Arup is looking for a Graphic Design Intern for summer 2020. This intern will work with the in-house graphics team to develop, design and produce graphics and promotional materials such as brochures, conference and event collateral, infographics, email marketing and communications, advertisements, and miscellaneous graphics. To learn more about this opportunity, click here.

Zebra Technologies (Lincolnshire, IL) – Zebra Technologies is seeking a rising junior or rising senior Public Relations Intern for the summer of 2020. This internship, located just outside of Chicago, entails developing and producing blog post content, implementing PR and communication initiatives, developing the thought leadership program and content and communicating with customers. Learn more and apply here.

Converse (Boston, MA) – Converse is looking for a Design Intern at its headquarters in Boston for summer 2020. This is a full-time, 11-week program starting on June 1st. This is a unique opportunity to see how the brand operates and to see designs come to life. Look here to apply.

MAIP Fellowship (Multiple Locations) – The Multicultural Advertising Internship Program (MAIP) is a fellowship which gives multicultural students equitable access to paid internships in the advertising industry. Comprised of 12 weeks of virtual spring training and a 10-week paid internship at prestigious advertising agencies, selected candidates receive real-world work experience, networking opportunities within the industry and a valuable professional pathway to better position themselves in the marketplace. Fellowships are available in the following programs: Account Management, Art Direction, Social Strategy, Copywriting, Design, Media Buying/Planning and much more. Learn more by clicking here. To view the application, look here.

829 Studios (Boston, MA) – 829 Studios is hiring a Digital Producer Intern for the summer 2020. This intern will be tasked with producing WordPress websites, including content population of individual pages and constructing menu/navigation systems. They will also be working with a cross-functional team of designers, developers and strategists to ensure projects are being produced in an effective and appropriate manner. Find out more here.

The School of Communications strives to provide accurate information to students from legitimate employers. Because of the volume of internship postings received by our office, we cannot screen every listing. We do not endorse the products or recommend the services of any of the employers listing internships through our office. We are not responsible for the safety, wages, working conditions or other employment aspects of any internship listed here. Students are urged to use common sense, caution, and practice due diligence in researching employers before applying for any internship positions within a business or organization.
FOR MORE INFORMATION:
Nagatha Tonkins
Assistant Professor/Director, Internships
Elon University, 112 McEwen
cominternships@elon.edu, (336) 278-6336
Check out our blog at: http://www.internnetwork.wordpress.com
Follow us on Twitter: http://twitter.com/Cominternship