

HOT INTERNSHIPS

September 18, 2019

The Daily Front Row (New York, NY) – The Daily Front Row is hiring Editorial and Publishing/Marketing/Events Interns for winter term (not for credit) and for the spring. If you have a passion for journalism, publishing and fashion, this could be the internship for you. If interested, send your resume and cover letter to eddie@dailyfrontrow.com. Make sure to specify your availability in your cover letter if you are seeking placement with the editorial team or with the publishing/marketing/events team.

Margo Siegler PR (Beverly Hills, CA) – Margo Siegler PR is hiring Fashion Interns for this spring. Intern duties include managing press lists, researching celebrity events and opportunities, researching jewelry trends and drafting pitches. This intern will gain great experience and exposure while working with editors and top stylists on a day to day basis. Please send a cover letter and resume to debi@margosieglerpr.com and indicate your soonest available start date, full days per week you are able to work and the school you will be receiving credit from.

Pace Communications (PAID) (Greensboro, NC) – Pace Communications is hiring interns for its Spring 2020 Project Echo Internship program. Pace is looking for students majoring in communications, graphic design, media analytics, journalism and more. You'll gain the ability to directly connect with top leaders in the Triad's growing digital marketing industry as you work together in teams to develop and pitch engaging strategies and connect with major consumer brands that Pace represents. This part-time internship runs from February 3rd to April 27th. The application deadline is October 31st. Learn more and apply here.

Elon in D.C. (Washington D.C.) – The Elon in D.C. program allows students to spend the spring semester or summer interning and taking classes in Washington D.C. Students intern Monday through Thursday from 9-5 and have classes and leadership colloquiums on Fridays. The Washington Center (TWC) program helps you sort through internship options and connect you with the ones that best fit your interests, skills and professional goals. The Washington Center works with more than 600 intern host partners. Find out more here.

Discovery (PAID) (Los Angeles, CA) – Discovery is accepting applications for its Editorial & Social Media Internship this spring. This 12-week internship will run from January 27th to April 17th. This intern will offer creative input on content and strategies for managing social platforms and conversations, research new industry trends, market shows, talents and events on social media, choose stock photos for articles, research story ideas for our daily news videos, help track down photos for these videos and even write daily news scripts. Apply by November 15th.

Viacom (New York, NY) – Viacom is hiring spring interns in the following areas: Communications/Public Relations, Creative Development, Content Distribution and more. As a Viacom intern, you'll gain exposure across the business while making meaningful connections for your future and accessing exciting career opportunities. In addition to hands-on experience our programs include networking, mentorship, resume workshops, speaker sessions, career development, movie screenings, ticket raffles, visibility to top industry executives and much more. To learn more and apply, click here.

Capitol Broadcasting Company (PAID) (Raleigh, NC) – Capitol Broadcasting Company is hiring Multimedia Journalism Interns on a rolling basis. This internship is part-time and requires a minimum of 10 hours per week and a maximum of 25 hours per week. This intern will produce and publish multimedia reports – stories, podcasts, videos and social media with a focus on finding new angles or sidebars to spot news, illuminating stories that are trending. This intern will also interact with and be coached by television, radio and digital professionals for a complete view of possible careers in media. To learn more and apply, click here.

ESPN (Los Angeles, CA) – ESPN is hiring a Production Intern for the spring. This intern will screen games, select shots and create shot sheets for assigned highlights, cut show elements such as video b-roll, highlights and teases, select material for bumps and roll-outs. They will also operate the studio teleprompter system, provide timely, accurate and complete delivery of multimedia elements and publishes to various platforms, ensure suitability of footage for ESPN Authenticated Networks in real time, participate in show meeting discussions and pitch ideas daily to the L.A. show producers. To find out more, click here.

Flag Media Analytics (PAID) (Washington D.C.) – Flag Media Analytics is hiring Media Analytics Interns on a rolling basis. This four to six-month internship program is for post-grads seeking training to help develop a strong understanding of the technology and methods used to monitor the news. This intern will monitor news and events across outlets and platforms, collaborate with a team of analysts to alert the news to clients in a timely and effective manner, collect and prepare data to support media analysis and assist with long-term research projects. To learn more and apply, click here.

The School of Communications strives to provide accurate information to students from legitimate employers. Because of the volume of internship postings received by our office, we cannot screen every listing. We do not endorse the products or recommend the services of any of the employers listing internships through our office. We are not responsible for the safety, wages, working conditions or other employment aspects of any internship listed here. Students are urged to use common sense, caution, and practice due diligence in researching employers before applying for any internship positions within a business or organization.

FOR MORE INFORMATION:

Nagatha Tonkins

Assistant Professor/Director, Internships

Elon University, 112 McEwen

cominternships@elon.edu, (336) 278-6336

Check out our blog at: <http://www.internnetwork.wordpress.com>

Follow us on Twitter: <http://twitter.com/Cominternship>