Description of faculty member's current research/creative interests:

I am currently researching the potential of visuals, specifically typography, to have political attributes. My research typically uses quantitative methods such as, content analysis and experimental design, and is based in media and political psychological theory.

Currently looking for a student to apply and work in these programs:

Any program/opportunity

Description of faculty member's current research/creative needs:

My current research needs include help coding typography in political visuals and searching/collecting online political images

I can mentor a student enrolled in 498/499 hours during these semesters:

- Spring 2021
- Sum I 2021
- Sum II 2021
- Fall 2021

The ideal student would have the following qualifications:

I would prefer a student with Communication Design interests, but any student in communication, politics, psychology, or marketing would probably be great if they were interested in the research.
