Accreditation; Statement Regarding ABA Approval

University Accreditation and Licensure

Elon University is accredited by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools Commission on Colleges to award bachelor’s and master’s degrees, the doctor of physical therapy degree and juris doctor degree. Contact the Commission on Colleges at 1866 Southern Lane, Decatur, Georgia 30033-4097 or call 404-679-4500 for questions about the accreditation of Elon University.

Pursuant to N.C. Gen. Stat. 116-15, Elon University and its School of Law are exempt from the provisions of licensure by the Board of Governors of the University of North Carolina.

Statement Regarding ABA Approval

Elon University School of Law joined the nation’s 200 American Bar Association-approved law schools on June 9, 2008. On June 10, 2011, Elon University School of Law received full accreditation by the American Bar Association. The approval came from the Council of the ABA Section of Legal Education and Admissions to the Bar. Elon Law’s ABA full approval was achieved at the earliest possible date under accreditation guidelines, certifying that the school is in full compliance with all ABA standards for the approval of law schools.

The Section of Legal Education and Admissions to the Bar may be contacted at 321 North Clark Street, Chicago, IL 60610 or by phone at (312) 988-6738.
I. Student Rights & Responsibilities

School of Law Vision Statement

Creating a national model of engaged learning in legal education.

School of Law Mission Statement

Elon’s law school will:
1. Complement and strengthen the University’s existing programs, particularly those that relate to the arts and sciences, experiential education, technology and its application, international studies and programs, business, leadership and public service;
2. Be a national leader in examining and addressing opportunities and problems in the legal profession and legal education through research, public service and innovation;
3. Provide a distinctive program of legal education that will develop exceptionally-educated, well-motivated, technologically savvy, internationally aware, and effective lawyer-leaders for whom there will be a continuing need;
4. Help meet the national and regional demand for legal education in times of great demand, and compete successfully for excellent, well-motivated law students in times of diminished demand; and
5. Be positioned qualitatively within the University as a synergistic center of excellence that helps generate resources of talent, energy, commitment, information, credibility and capital that will assist Elon in implementing stable, continuous improvements to each and every one of the University’s integral components.

Nondiscrimination Statement

Elon University and its School of Law do not discriminate on the basis of age, race, color, creed, sex, national or ethnic origin, disability, sexual orientation, gender identity, or veteran’s status (collectively, “Protected Categories”) in the recruitment and admission of students, the recruitment and employment of faculty and staff, or the operation of any of its programs.” Consistent with our nondiscrimination statement, the university does not tolerate discrimination or harassment of employees, students or other individuals associated with the University including, but not limited to, vendors, contractors, and guests on the basis of any of these Protected Categories.

Any person associated with the University who fails to comply fully with this policy will be properly disciplined. Any employment agency, vendor or contractor used by the University will be informed of this policy.

This policy applies to, but is not limited to, recruitment, employment, promotion, demotion, transfer, position advertising, reduction in force, termination, rates of pay, and selection for training.

School of Law Statement on Personal and Professional Responsibility

Members of the Law School community are expected to conduct themselves in ways that will reflect credit upon themselves, the School of Law, the University, and the legal profession. Students aspiring to the Bar are required to behave appropriately, to respect the rights and privileges of others, and to abide by the law and by the regulations of the University and the School of Law. State Bar associations place the burden on their applicants to prove the applicant has the necessary qualifications, fitness, trustworthiness, and good moral character required of an attorney, and the obligations associated with meeting this burden apply for the duration of the student's time at the Law School.

Students whose conduct does not violate the Honor Code but nevertheless interferes with the academic environment, casts serious doubt on the judgment or maturity of a student, or subjects the School to potential embarrassment will be counseled by the Office of Student and Professional Life. Where student conduct may threaten members of the Law School community, visitors or school property, or seriously interfere with the educational mission of the Law School, the Office of Student and Professional Life will investigate and, if necessary, impose sanctions on the offending student according to the Law School's Student Personal and Professional Responsibility Policy. As a condition to continuing as an Elon Law student, each student entering Elon Law agrees to be bound by this policy by signing an agreement. Students should familiarize themselves with the provisions of the policy. The Policy can be found at this link: https://www.elon.edu/e/CmsFile/GetFile?FileID=596

Honor Code

The Elon University School of Law Honor Code, initially adopted in February 2009 and as subsequently amended, applies to all Elon Law students. Its jurisdiction extends to all law school-related endeavors undertaken by students enrolled in Elon Law, as well as when an Elon Law student identifies himself or herself as an Elon Law student. As a condition to continuing as an Elon Law student, each student entering Elon Law agrees to be bound by this Code by signing an agreement. Students should familiarize themselves with the provisions of the Code. The text of the Code and an Honor Code Violation Report Form are available here.

The implementation and success of the Honor Code rests with every law student. The Code prohibits: (a) Academic Dishonesty; (b) Stealing; (c) Vandalism; (d) Lying; (e) Plagiarism; (f) Technology Violation; (g) Obtaining an Unfair Advantage; and (h) Abusing the Code. If a student is unsure of the scope of this Code or its applicability to a particular activity, it is the responsibility of the student to seek guidance from the Honor Council. The Honor Council is responsible for the administration of the procedures set forth in the Code and for the interpretation of the Code.

Financial Responsibilities

Financial registration is an important aspect of registering for law school and it is considered complete only when all charges are paid or when the Bursar's Office has approved deferred payment arrangements. Students who plan to use financial aid funds to complete registration must make sure that they will cover the entire balance.

If a student is not financially registered by the first week of classes, that student will not be allowed to attend classes and may be removed from classes by the Registrar.

Classroom Responsibilities

Attendance, Preparation, and Class Participation
The Law School administers a policy requiring that a student maintain regular and punctual class attendance in all courses in which the student is registered, including externships, clinical courses, and class meetings for residencies. Faculty members will give students written notice of their attendance policies before or during the first week of class. These policies may include, but are not limited to: treating late arrivals, early departures, and/or lack of preparation as absences; imposing grade or point reductions for absences, including assigning a failing grade or involuntarily withdrawing a student from the class, and any other policies that a professor deems appropriate to create a rigorous and professional classroom environment.

In case of illness or emergency, students should notify their instructors directly. A student may notify the faculty member directly of a planned absence and should refer to individual faculty members regarding any policy that may apply. In the case of prolonged illness or incapacity, the student should contact the Office of Career and Student Development.

Inclement Weather

In case of inclement weather, call (336) 278-2423 (278-2ICE) for scheduling changes. Changes will also be posted on the Elon Law website and sent to you via e-mail at the earliest possible opportunity after decisions about such scheduling changes are made.

Dress Code

The professional nature of the school should be considered in matters of attire. Students should dress and groom themselves in a manner consistent with, and which will best reflect, the professional aspect of their enrollment and the professional nature of the Law School. Certain courses such as Trial Practice and Procedure and some events will require students to dress in courtroom attire.

Taping Class Lectures

Generally, students are not allowed to record classes and, under no circumstances, may a student record a class without the permission of the professor teaching the course.

Guests in Classrooms

The Law School is committed to a community-centered and safe facility for law students, faculty, and staff. The building is a controlled-access facility. Students, employees, and visitors enter the Law School through the main entrance on the first floor and may be asked to present their university identification cards or other appropriate identification. A security desk located at this entrance is staffed by a security guard whenever the building is open. Visitors are asked to check in at the security desk.

Faculty may invite guest presenters/lecturers to participate in class on occasion. Students may invite adult guests to sit in on a class, with the permission of the faculty member.

The Law Library

The Elon Law Library strives to be a warm and welcoming place for all members of the Elon Law community. We wish to be a resource in your educational and personal growth during your time here at Elon Law School. The Law Library recognizes the close relationship between a positive environment and its use by patrons. This concept relies on having as few impediments as possible for patrons to use the library facility and its services. Thus, both food and drink are allowed in the library. We encourage students to make themselves at home, within reason, remembering that they are sharing the facilities with their classmates, alumni and often members of the practicing bar.

Library Hours are posted on the Library website and on the bulletin board outside of the library doors.

A complete description of the library services available to students is available on the library website.

The Elon Library provides materials in multiple formats to accommodate patron preferences. In addition to online databases, Elon Law School students can access material in either digital format or paper (hardcopy). The lending rules vary by format.

Borrowing Hardcopy Material

Students may borrow library material on their Phoenix cards for loan periods ranging from 4 hours to 3 weeks, based on the type of material being borrowed. In order to make material readily available to all students, overdue fines are charged for material not returned in a timely manner. The fines are assessed as follows, and payment is expected by the end of the trimester.

- Reserve materials: $.50/hour
  - Up to maximum $20.00/item

- Non-Reserve materials: $.25/day for first 10 days
  - After 10 days fine increases to $.50 per day Up to maximum $20.00/item

Recalled Material which is not returned will incur an additional $.25 per fine period (hour or day)

Lost and Damaged Materials

If an item is damaged or not returned within 45 days of the time it becomes overdue (or 3 days in the case of Reserve material), the Library declares the material lost and charges the borrower a $40.00 processing fee (this includes the outstanding fine) plus current replacement cost, whether or not the item is repurchased.

Lost InterLibrary Loan (ILL) material is billed a minimum charge of $250.00 or the lending library's bill plus $40.00, whichever is greater.

Student Contact Information

A student must provide his or her current local mailing address, telephone number, and emergency contact information to the Registrar, and has a continuing responsibility to keep this information updated. Except as otherwise provided herein, any requirement of adequate notice is deemed met if an official communication is sent to the most recent address provided to the Registrar’s office. Any notices to or correspondence with a student that are provided by e-mail will be provided to the student’s official Law School e-mail address.
Students may also provide additional contact information to the Office of the Registrar, such as a current work address or work telephone number. For the student's convenience this information may be used by the Law School administration when contacting the student. However, the use of this additional contact information is optional with the Administration in any given instance and does not relieve students of the obligations of (a) keeping a current local mailing address, telephone number, and emergency contact on file, and (b) checking the student's official Law School e-mail account for official communications.

Students are deemed to have received notice of any ruling, decision, policy change, rule, requirement, schedules of classes and examinations and any other official decision if (1) notice is sent to the last known U.S. mail address provided by the student to the Registrar's Office or (2) if the notice is sent to the student's official Law School e-mail account. Students are expected to read their Law School e-mails by using the e-mail system provided to them by the Law School.

Information Sources

Members of the Law School community must be familiar with policies and other notices that may affect them. The Law School disseminates information on its policies through a number of means and provides individual notice to students as appropriate. Students are urged to check the information sources listed below on a frequent basis.

OnTrack System

Elon OnTrack is a secure site, http://ontrack.elon.edu/datatel/openweb, which allows students, faculty members and staff to access and maintain information that pertains to Elon University, including class schedules, grades and financial aid information. To fully utilize Elon OnTrack, a person must have an active username and password for OnTrack. A student experiencing problems with OnTrack should contact the computer support help desk at (336) 278-5200 to receive or reset login information.

Law School E-mail Account

Elon Law strongly encourages the use of technology to facilitate learning and communication. To this end, each incoming student is given an e-mail account through Elon. Law School administration and faculty will communicate with students only through their Elon e-mail addresses; personal e-mail addresses from commercial e-mail providers will not be used.

The faculty and administration will rely on e-mail as a means of communication, and students should regularly check their assigned Elon e-mail accounts. Students experiencing difficulty with their e-mail accounts should contact Technology Services.

Mailboxes

Physical distribution is more appropriate than electronic distribution for some printed materials. For this reason each incoming law student is assigned a numbered mailbox for his or her use. The mailboxes are situated on the second floor of the Law School. Students are encouraged to check their assigned mailboxes often (at least daily) for important information and communications. Questions about the student mailboxes may be directed to the Registrar.

Bulletin Boards
Three bulletin boards are located on the upper floor of the Law School near the student lockers. Student organizations and individual students may post announcements on these three boards. Class and official Law School activity announcements take priority for space on the boards. There is also a bulletin board outside the law library.

Law School Website

The Law School has an Internet website. Changes in policies, first class assignments, inclement weather announcements, and other news may be posted on the site from time to time.

Work While Attending Law School

The Law School requires students enrolled full time to devote substantially all of their working hours to the study of law.

Students may not accept any employment during their first year of law school. In rare circumstances and with advance permission from the Office of Career and Student Development, a first-year student may work at the Reference Desk in the Law Library during the Spring of their first year.

In the second and third year, students may not work more than twenty hours per week during the academic year. Second and third year students should seek approval from the Office of Career and Student Development prior to undertaking any employment by completing an Employment Permission Form for 2L and 3L Students. Students should also inform the OCSD of any employment outside the Law School, as this office regularly compiles employment statistics. A student may work limited hours at the Law School while on Residency, subject to approval by OCSD and after their residency schedule has been finalized.

Student Complaints

As an ABA-accredited law school, Elon University School of Law is subject to the ABA Standards for Approval of Law Schools. The ABA Standards may be found at http://www.americanbar.org/groups/legal_education/resources/standards.html. Any student at the law school who wishes to bring a formal complaint or concern to the administration of a significant problem that directly implicates the school’s program of legal education and its compliance with the ABA Standards should submit their complaint in writing to the Office of Career and Student Development. The complaint may be emailed to Studentaffairs@elon.edu or submitted in person, but must be signed by the complainant.

When a formal written complaint has been received, the Assistant Dean of Career and Student Development shall investigate as soon as possible, but no later than 30 calendar days after the filing of the written complaint. The Assistant Dean of Career and Student Development shall attempt to resolve the complaint, if possible, within the 30 calendar day period. If resolution is not possible, the Assistant Dean of Career and Student Development may refer the matter to the appropriate administrator, administrative body, or an administrative official designated by the Dean of the Law School (the “Dean’s designate”).
If referral of the complaint is made as referenced above, the administrator, administrative body or Dean's designate shall attempt to resolve the complaint as soon as possible, but in no event later than 30 calendar days after referral.

Upon completing the investigation of the complaint, the Law School shall communicate its findings and, if appropriate, its intended actions to the complainant.

If the complainant is dissatisfied with the outcome or resolution, that individual has the right to appeal the decision. The complainant should submit his/her written comments in a timely manner, but in no case more than 14 days after communication of the findings of the investigation, to the Dean of the Law School. The Dean's decision shall be communicated to the complainant and the investigator(s) within 30 calendar days and shall be final.

The Law School shall maintain a complete written record of each complaint and how it was investigated and resolved. Written records shall be maintained in a confidential manner by the Assistant Dean of Career and Student Development.

Please note that this handbook contains separate sections pertaining specifically to Title IX and sexual misconduct complaints and those complaints that may fall within the Elon Law Honor Code and student personal responsibility policy. Jurisdiction over a student complaint may overlap and may not be exclusive to one Elon Law policy.

Sexual Misconduct and Interpersonal Violence (Title IX)

Elon University strives to provide a safe environment for the campus community and support the institution’s educational mission at all times. Elon University does not tolerate acts of sexual harassment, interpersonal violence, sexual misconduct, and sex and/or gender based discrimination. All members of our community are expected to conduct themselves in a manner that reflects personal integrity and a respect for others.

Elon University recognizes the serious and negative impacts sexual and interpersonal violence and harassment have on individuals and the University community. To that end, the University endeavors to eliminate and prevent them and address their effects. This policy outlines how the University receives, investigates, responds to, and resolves complaints of sexual misconduct, interpersonal violence, and sex and/or gender based discrimination and harassment as defined herein whether occurring on or off campus regardless of whether the Responding Party, as defined in this policy, is a student, faculty member, staff, or third party.

Students, staff, and faculty are strongly encouraged to report any and all instances of sexual harassment, sexual and/or interpersonal violence, and gender-based discrimination to Elon University Campus Safety and Police or the Title IX Coordinator. Additional reporting choices, including a list of confidential options, can be found in Reporting and Resources. When an allegation of sexual misconduct and interpersonal violence is brought to the attention of an appropriate university official, protective and other remedial measures will be used to reasonably ensure that such conduct ends, is not repeated, and the effects on the victim and community are remedied, including sanctions when a responding party is found to have violated this policy.

The University has designated the following person(s) as Title IX Officer(s) to coordinate compliance and handle inquiries regarding this nondiscrimination policy.

Title IX Coordinator: Michael L. Neiduski, Title IX Coordinator, Leadership & Professional Development 106, 2067 Campus Box, Elon, NC 27244, (336) 278-5787, mneiduski@elon.edu

Deputy Title IX Coordinator for the Law School: Ms. Melissa Duncan, Assistant Dean of Career & Student Development, Law School Room 110C, 2005 Campus Box, Elon, NC 27244, (336) 278-9256, mduncan6@elon.edu

Title IX Investigator: Chris Jamison, Investigation and Resolution Specialist, Leadership & Professional Development 103, 2067 Campus Box, Elon, NC 27244, (336) 278-6918, cjamison3@elon.edu

Student Access to Files

Elon University complies with the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 (FERPA as amended). This act is designed to protect the privacy of educational records, to establish the right of students to inspect and review their educational records, and to provide guidelines for the correction of inaccurate or misleading data through informal and formal hearings. Students also have the right to file complaints concerning alleged failures by the institution to comply with FERPA.

Under the provisions of FERPA, students have the right to withhold the disclosure of Directory Information, defined as:

1. Name, address, telephone number, dates of attendance, class, and electronic e-mail address.
2. Previous institution(s) attended, major field of study, awards, honors (including Dean’s list), degree(s) conferred (including dates).

3. Past and present participation in officially recognized sports and activities, physical factors (height, weight of athletes), date and place of birth.

Students should consider very carefully the consequences of any decision to withhold Directory Information; any future requests for such information from non-institutional persons or organizations will be refused. Students who wish to withhold Directory Information should contact the Office of the Registrar. The institution will honor requests to withhold the information listed below but cannot assume responsibility to contact students for subsequent permission to release such information. The institution assumes no liability for honoring instructions that such information be withheld. The items listed below are designated as Directory Information and may be released for any purpose at the discretion of the institution unless the student has requested the information be withheld:

FERPA also affords students certain rights to their education records. These rights include:

(1) The right to inspect and review the student’s education records within 45 days of the day the University receives a request for access. A student should submit to the Office of Career and Student Development, Registrar’s Office, or other appropriate official, a request that identifies the record(s) the student wishes to inspect. The University official will make arrangements for access and notify the student of the time and place where the records may be inspected. If the University official to whom the request was submitted does not maintain the records, that official shall advise the student of the correct official to whom the request should be addressed.

(2) The right to request the amendment of the student’s education records that the student believes is inaccurate, misleading, or otherwise in violation of the student’s privacy rights under FERPA.

A student who wishes to ask the University to amend a record should write the University official responsible for the record, clearly identify the part of the record the student wants changed, and specify why it should be changed. If the University decides not to amend the record as requested, the University will notify the student in writing of the decision and the student’s right to a hearing regarding the request for amendment. Additional information regarding the hearing procedures will be provided to the student when notified of the right to a hearing.

(3) The right to provide written consent before the University discloses personally identifiable information from the student’s education records, except to the extent that FERPA authorizes disclosure without consent. The University discloses education records without a student’s prior written consent under the FERPA exception for disclosure to school officials with legitimate educational interests. A school official is a person employed by the University in an administrative, supervisory, academic or research, or support staff position (including law enforcement unit personnel and health and counseling staff); a person or company with whom the University has contracted as its agent to provide a service instead of using University employees or officials (such as an attorney, auditor, or collection agent); a person serving on the Board of Trustees; or a student serving on an official committee, such as a disciplinary or grievance committee, or assisting another school official in performing his or her tasks. A school official has a legitimate educational interest if the official needs to review an education record in order to fulfill his or her professional responsibilities for the University. Upon request, the University also discloses education records without consent to officials of another school in which a student seeks or intends to enroll.

The University may make disclosure to parents and other parties based on provisions of FERPA, which are listed in The Federal Register, Volume 73, No. 237, December 9, 2008. These disclosures are made at the discretion of University officials.

(4) The right to file a complaint with the U.S. Department of Education concerning alleged failures by the University to comply with the requirements of FERPA. The name and address of the Office that administers FERPA is:

Family Policy Compliance Office
U.S. Department of Education
400 Maryland Avenue, SW
Washington, DC 20202-5901

A copy of Elon University’s FERPA Policy and a Notification of Student Rights can be found at the back of this Student Handbook.

Questions about student records and FERPA may be directed to the Office of Career and Student Development or the Registrar’s Office. Health and counseling records are not covered by FERPA and can only be released with signed permission unless as allowed by law. Students wishing to release their health or counseling records should contact the R.N. Ellington Health and Counseling Center at (336) 278-7230.

Requests for copies of a student’s transcript may be made at the following address:
http://www.elon.edu/e-web/law/academics/transcriptrequest.xhtml?m=1 (note: it may take up to a week to produce a transcript). All Law School transcripts reflect the student’s complete Law School academic record. No transcripts will be issued without the written authorization of the student. No transcript is issued for a student who has an outstanding financial obligation to the University.

Disability Resources

The Law School and Elon University are committed to the principle of equal opportunity. One of the ways we express that commitment is in our efforts to accommodate qualified students with disabilities as they face the challenges of university life. Faculty, staff, administrators and students work together to find approaches and accommodations that enable students to benefit from the wide variety of programs and activities on campus.

The Law School’s Director of Academic and Administrative Services works with the Koenigsberger Learning Center to arrive at the most suitable approaches and accommodations for its students. More information about Disabilities Resources, as well as the Disabilities Services Guidebook, are available online.

Students who have a disability that will require accommodation during a trimester must complete a disability accommodation request form. Information about required forms and documentation are available at http://www.elon.edu/e-web/academics/support/disabilities_services.xhtml. This form should be submitted to Susan Wise, Director of Disabilities Resources, on the main campus (contact information below).
Accommodations are granted only to students who have provided documentation of a disabling condition which results in a functional impairment that requires accommodation. For additional information, please consult the Elon University Disabilities Guidebook. An evaluation that was used for disability accommodation in undergraduate school may be sufficient for this purpose (additional information and further evaluations may be required.)

Requests for accommodations must be received and decided prior to any class session, activity, test or examination potentially affected. Because of the time involved in considering a request for accommodation and in fashioning an appropriate accommodation if one is warranted, requests should be made as early as possible during the term. Accommodations are not retroactive.

Health Insurance Requirements and Resources

Elon University is committed to the health and well-being of all of its students.

Elon requires students to be in compliance with national laws and requirements regarding insurance for national and international students. Elon University Student Health Services provides quality evaluation and treatment of acute illness and injury to currently enrolled Elon University students (graduate and undergraduate). Student office visits are free of charge except physicals, well-woman exams, and allergy shots. There are charges for medications, supplies, lab tests, injections, and procedures, due at time of visit. All payments to Student Health Services are out-of-pocket. Any charges incurred from referrals to an outside provider are the responsibility of the student. Most outside practices require students to provide verification of insurance prior to scheduling an appointment. Students who matriculate assume responsibility for all costs associated with health care not provided by Health Services or off campus.

Elon University requires all students who are US citizens to be in compliance with the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act (ACA): The ACA is a federal law that requires all U.S. citizens have health insurance that meets a certain standard of care, or pay a tax penalty for going without insurance. Students who are US citizens should provide proof of compliance with the ACA prior to initial matriculation on their Health History Form or by e-mailing their information to healthservices@elon.edu. This includes providing one of the following: 1) providing documentation of current insurance that meets ACA requirements or documentation of having paid any penalties for non-insurance enrollment. Students should notify Health Services immediately if their insurance policy/coverage changes throughout their time at Elon. Students who need to update their insurance policy may do so by sending a copy of their updated insurance card to healthservices@elon.edu. Students who matriculate assume responsibility for all costs associated with health care not provided by Health Services or off campus.
Students who are not US citizens nor are international students on a student visa are exempt from compliance with the ACA. International students should see requirements below. Elon University will not be responsible for any medical care or costs associated with the provision of medical care on or off campus. Students who matriculate assume responsibility for all costs associated with health care not provided by Health Services or off campus. Students who are exempt to the ACA requirements should e-mail a notification for exemption confirmation of their status to Student Health Services at healthservices@elon.edu.

Elon University does not offer a student insurance policy and students who are not covered under a partner/spouse/parent employer-sponsored policy are directed to the ACA Marketplace. Students who are eligible for insurance in the ACA Marketplace (undergraduate and graduate students) may have access to health insurance through several means. All plans must meet the minimums standards as required by the Affordable Care Act. Acceptable insurance plans may include coverage as a dependent on a spouse, partner or parent’s insurance plan. This may include your coverage in an employer sponsored plan, state marketplace plan or other insurance plan. More information about eligibility in your state may be found at Affordable Care Act Marketplace.

Students who may be “aging out” of a spouse/partner/parent’s plan may be eligible for continuation of that coverage under COBRA. Students should consult with their current insurer for more information about costs and eligibility.

Students who may need assistance with a temporary “bridge” plan until the next ACA open enrollment period may also consult independent insurers. Additional information about a “bridge” plan may be found at http://www.associatedinsuranceplans.com/USPlans/. This is not a University endorsed plan but does provide options for students to consider. Note these plans are only meant to bridge coverage until the student can enroll in an ACA compliant plan during the open enrollment period and are not meant as a means of long term coverage.

International students (those with F or J visas) must either provide proof of acceptable insurance in your home country or enroll in the student insurance policy arranged by the Isabella Cannon Center for Global Engagement. The premium will be billed to your student account; you must provide proof of insurance to have it removed from your account. If you are an international student and have questions about your eligibility for international insurance or requirements, please contact Mr. François Masuka at fmasuka@elon.edu.

Health and Counseling Services

Elon University offers a wide variety of health and counseling services to our law students, faculty, and staff. Law students are eligible to receive services at the R.N. Ellington Health and Counseling Center. The modern facility offers a wide variety of health and counseling services to the university community throughout the school year.

A variety of medical expertise is offered by the staff of physicians, nurse practitioners, nurses, and a paramedic, to bring quality, efficient service and care to the University community. All counselors in the center are fully licensed by the State of North Carolina and offer brief, solution-oriented therapies.

Student visits to the Health and Counseling Center are free of charge. There are nominal charges for medications, lab tests, procedures and medical supply items.
The University has also arranged for medical resources in the Greensboro/Guilford County area. Visit the Health and Counseling Center Web site at https://www.elon.edu/u/health-wellness/health-services/law-students/ for additional information.

Counseling services are available onsite at the law school campus during the regular academic year (August-May). Onsite office hours are 8:00 a.m. – 5:00 p.m. on Thursdays. The counseling office is located in the Admissions building at 219 W. Friendly Avenue.

Law students may also access services at the counseling center on Elon’s main campus located in the R.N. Ellington Center for Health and Wellness at 301 S. O’Kelly Avenue. Office hours are 8:00 a.m.-5:00 p.m., Monday through Friday. To schedule an appointment at either location, please call (336) 278-7280 during regular office hours.

Elon law students also have access to BarCARES Inc., a non-profit organization that provides confidential, professional counseling to lawyers and law students in participating Bar Associations and law schools. For more information on BarCARES, visit http://www.ncbar.org/members/barcares/ or call (800) 640-0735.

Recreation/YMCA

The Law School collaborates with the Kathleen Price Bryan Family YMCA, which is located just a few blocks from the Law School at 501 West Market Street. The Law School provides each law student with a membership in the YMCA at no additional cost. Students may also purchase family memberships at a discounted rate. The Law School understands the importance of physical fitness and exercise and is pleased to provide this benefit to its students. The YMCA includes a large fitness center, two swimming pools, basketball courts and a running track. Visit the YMCA’s Web site at http://www.bryanymca.org/.

Students may, at their own expense, choose to join one of several other fitness facilities that are located downtown and throughout Greensboro. Greensboro and Guilford County offer numerous public recreational facilities, including tennis courts and extensive greenways and parks, excellent resources for walking or running enthusiasts.

Law students may also utilize fitness facilities and recreation opportunities on the Elon University home campus. Visit the Elon University Campus Recreation Web site at http://www.elon.edu/e-web/students/campus_recreation/default.xhtml.

Parking/Public Transportation

The Law School provides its students free parking at the corner of Friendly Avenue and Church Street. (This free parking arrangement may not be available at all times.) Students wishing to park closer to the Law School have access to public parking decks, one of which is directly across the street from the Law School. The Law School has an allotment of entry cards for this parking deck which will be distributed to students on a first-come, first-serve basis. Students opting for the parking deck are responsible for the monthly rate of $85. If this card is secured from the Law School, this amount will be added to the student’s account by the University Bursar or paid out of pocket. Students must turn in their entry cards to the Law School at the end of each academic year, so they may be redistributed at the beginning of the next school year. Students may also choose to arrange for parking in various private parking lots in the area.

Students may choose to utilize Greensboro’s public transportation system. Made possible by the financial support of Elon University and college partners, HEAT (Higher Education Area Transit) provides enhanced and expanded transportation services to the entire Greensboro community. Please contact Stacie Dooley, Director of Student Life, at sdooley3@elon.edu for a free HEAT access card.

The specific schools located along the HEAT routes include: Bennett College; Elon University School of Law; Greensboro College; Guilford College; Guilford Technical Community College (GTCC Jamestown and Greensboro campuses); North Carolina A&T State University; and The University of North Carolina at Greensboro (UNCG). Qualified students from the Law School and the other schools will be able to ride HEAT service and all other GTA fixed route service on a fare-free basis. Elon law students may request HEAT fare cards for each trimester. These passes are available through the Office of Career and Student Development. For more information on HEAT and other GTA routes, visit https://www.greensboro-nc.gov/departments/transportation/gdot-divisions/greensboro-transit-agency-public-transportation-division/routes.

Technology

This section of the handbook serves as an addendum to the Elon University Technology Policies. The Law School provides IT resources to support and promote academic pursuits. The Law School expects students to use these resources with a strong ethical base and awareness of personal responsibility. Any access or use of IT resources that interferes, interrupts or conflicts with these purposes is not acceptable and will be considered a violation of Elon’s Acceptable Usage Policy.

Students are expected to safeguard the integrity and security of Elon Law technology resources, as well as safeguard individual passwords. This specifically includes all network, e-mail and database usernames and passwords provided by Elon or its vendors.

All users are expected to comply with all applicable state, federal and international laws, as well as respect the rights and property of others, including privacy, confidentiality and intellectual property.

Use of these resources in a manner which creates an intimidating, hostile or offensive educational environment is a violation of the Elon Law School Honor Code and the University’s Technology Policy. These activities include, but are not limited to:

- Sending, downloading, storing, displaying, or otherwise disseminating materials which are obscene, lewd, or sexually harassing in any format.
- Sending, downloading, storing, displaying, or otherwise disseminating materials which (i) are disrespectful of the rights of another law student or other person, or (ii) constitute harassment or discrimination in any format.

Students leaving Elon Law for any reason, other than graduation, will have all their email accounts and all database access terminated within seven (7) days.
The Elon University Technology Policies and all other policies incorporated or referenced herein, shall apply to all members of the Law School community. The community includes, but is not limited to faculty, students, administrators, staff and all others who use, access or employ locally or remotely, the University's or Law School's IT resources whether individually controlled, shared, stand-alone, or networked.

Any uses that undermine the integrity of the Elon Law network, the privacy or safety of others, or that are illegal, are prohibited. Penalties for violation of the University's or Law School's technology policies may include, but are not limited to: restricted access or complete loss of access to the Elon Law network and IT Resources, termination and/or expulsion from Elon University School of Law, or other appropriate disciplinary action, and civil and/or criminal liability.

Related Policies

Elon University School of Law incorporates by reference the University’s Technology Policies [available at http://www.elon.edu/e-web/bft/technology/policies.xhtml], as well as the Law School Honor Code.

Solicitation of Funds

Solicitation for fundraising is allowed as long as the established Elon University procedures are followed. Students should contact either the Office of Career and Student Development or the Development Office for more information.
II. Course Descriptions

FIRST-YEAR REQUIRED COURSES

Civil Procedure (LAW 610) – 5 hrs.; Fall Term
A basic procedure course which explores the techniques for attaining judicial enforcement of substantive rights. Topics such as venue, pleadings, joinder of claims and parties, discovery, res judicata, trial and appellate review will be covered. Federal and state jurisdiction will also be examined, including the Constitutional aspects of such jurisdiction.

Contracts (LAW 620) – 5 hrs.; Winter Term
A comprehensive study of the creation, transfer and termination of contract rights and duties. Fundamental common law principles such as capacity to contract, mutual assent, consideration and legality of subject matter will be addressed. Pertinent portions of the Uniform Commercial Code, particularly Article 2 dealing with sales, will be covered. Fundamental principles relating to performance, enforceability, contract defenses, and remedies will be addressed.

Criminal Law (LAW 630) – 3 hrs.; Winter Term
A study of substantive criminal law, including an examination of crimes and their elements. Specific common law and statutory crimes will be covered. Available defenses will also be explored.

Criminal Law Lab (LAW 635) – 1 hr.; Winter Term
This course is taught in conjunction with the first-year Criminal Law course. The Criminal Law Lab tracks a simulated criminal law case and provides students with the opportunity to engage in basic lawyering tasks (including interviewing, negotiation, oral argument, and drafting) under the supervision of a practicing criminal lawyer. This course is graded on a Pass/Fail basis.

Introduction to Legal Research (LAW 659) – 1 hr.; Fall Term
Students will gain proficiency in the use of basic legal research tools, as well as effective and efficient research methods for devising strategies to find cases, statutes, regulations, and secondary authorities with both hard-copy and computer-assisted legal research tools (Bloomberg Law, Fastcase, LexisNexis and Westlaw).

Introduction to Legal Studies (LAW 605) – 3 hrs.; August Term, with one credit earned over Fall, Winter, and Spring Terms
This intensive “immersion-style” course is designed for entering first year law students. It introduces students to the analysis and reasoning necessary to understand legal materials. By taking this course students should achieve the skills necessary to understand cases and statutes and how to craft legal arguments from these materials. The principal topics will include: sources of law; structure of the American legal system; analysis of a case; the concept and use of precedent; progressive evolution of common law doctrine; emergence of new doctrine; analysis of a statute; approaches to statutory interpretation; relationship between statutes and case-law and between statutes themselves; and presumptions in statutory interpretation. Small section meetings will supplement large section lectures. Small section instruction will include case briefing, development of study skills, and professional writing practice.

Lawyering, Leadership & Professionalism (LAW 684) – 2 hrs.; over August, Fall, Winter and Spring Terms
This course considers three aspects in the development of competent, leading lawyers: exercising problem-solving lawyering skills, developing a professional identity that guides students’ selected career paths, and exhibiting professionalism as an active member of the bar and officer of the court. Together, these three components coalesce to provide a sound foundation for the acquisition and refinement of legal skills and support development of a competitive legal career. This approach enhances the learning experience for students while reinforcing that excellence in knowing the law and basic exposure to expert application of the law are essential personal priorities and critical outcomes from legal education.

Lawyering, Leadership & Professionalism and Introduction to Legal Studies start during the August Term and one credit (LLP) and two credits (ILS) of the courses are awarded at the end of the August Term. The courses continue during the Fall, Winter, and Spring Terms. The second credit for the courses are awarded at the end of the Spring Term.

Legal Method & Communication I (LMC) I, II, & III
These courses are designed to teach students the essential skills of legal method, analysis, and communication. The LMC course sequence draws together various components of the first-year curriculum in a series of simulated cases. As students move through the sequence they will receive individualized feedback on increasingly complex written and oral assignments. The course sequence includes:

Legal Method & Communication I (LAW 668) 2 hrs.; Fall Term
This course introduces students to methods of legal analysis and problem-solving, and the unique requirements of written and oral communication in the legal profession. Topics include reading legal authorities, understanding the structure of legal rules, writing accurate descriptions of the law, rule-based reasoning, synthesis, and common law analysis. Students will complete a sequence of written assignments and oral presentations, one or more of which will be based on subjects being studied in other Fall Term classes.

Legal Method & Communication II (LAW 669) 2 hrs.; Winter Term
LMC II builds on the skills taught in the Fall Term and introduces students to new topics, including statutory analysis and interpretation, the differences between advisory and persuasive writing, types of legal argument, the structure of legal memoranda and briefs, and the ways in which ethical obligations inform a lawyer's writing and project management decisions. Students will complete a series of written and oral assignments, including a memo to a trial court and an oral argument on a motion. One or more assignments will be based on subjects being studied in other Winter Term classes.

Legal Method & Communication III (LAW 673) 2 hrs.; Spring Term
This course builds and expands on the skills taught in LMC I & II. Students will be introduced to advanced analytical and writing skills such as persuasive writing techniques, classical rhetorical devises, policy and Constitutional arguments, and written and oral appellate advocacy. Students will draft at least two briefs, including an appellate brief, and will prepare and deliver an appellate oral argument. One or more assignments will be based on subjects being studied in other Spring Term classes.

Property (LAW 640) – 5 hrs.; Spring Term
A study of property rights and interests in personal property and real property. Topics covered include the acquisition of rights in property, possessory and non-possessory interests, estates in land, concurrent ownership, landlord-tenant relations and land-use regulation.

Torts (LAW 650) – 5 hrs.; Fall Term
A study of the legal rules which determine whether non-contractual civil liability arises from conduct resulting in harm to others. Topics covered include intentional wrongs and negligence, as well as defenses commonly asserted in tort actions.

UPPER-LEVEL REQUIRED COURSES

Business Associations (LAW 710) – 4 hrs.; Must be taken during either Spring of First Year or Fall of Second Year
A study of basic corporate law, including formation, management, and dissolution of corporations, and the rights and duties of those involved with corporations. The law related to business organizations such as partnerships and limited liability companies (LLC) will also be covered.

Constitutional Law I and II (LAW 720 and 721) – 2 hrs.; 3 hrs.; Must be taken during Second Year
A study of the principles of American constitutional law. The course will examine the concept of judicial review, as well as other specific provisions of the Constitution, including the Due Process Clause and the First Amendment. Constitutional Law II is a continuation of Constitutional Law I.

Evidence (LAW 730) – 4 hrs.; Must be taken during either Spring of First Year or Fall of Second Year
The aim of this course is to develop familiarity with the techniques by which evidence of controverted facts is presented in litigation before judicial tribunals. The Federal Rules of Evidence, North Carolina Rules of Evidence, and common law rules will be examined.

Professional Responsibility (LAW 682) – 2 hrs.; Summer Term or Fall Term of Second Year
A study of the professional obligations of attorneys imposed both by regulation and the noble traditions of the legal profession. The course will utilize hypothetical fact situations and problems likely faced by attorneys to reinforce the model rules and to develop a commitment to ethical decision-making in students.

Residency-in-Practice (LAW 890A) – 7-8 credits plus 2-3 credits for accompanying course; May be taken during the Winter or Spring Term of Second Year
The Residency-in-Practice course requires students to work 32 or 36 hours per week for 10 weeks in an approved governmental, judicial, non-profit, corporate, or private law firm, earning 7 or 8 academic credits. This academic requirement promotes “learning from practice” by providing students with opportunities for substantial lawyering experience reasonably similar to the experience of a lawyer advising or representing a client or engaging in other lawyering tasks, under direct attorney or judicial supervision at the field placement. By stepping in the role of a lawyer, students deepen their legal knowledge acquired in substantive courses, sharpen skills needed to be a successful lawyer, and make the professional connections and observations important to career development. The residency placement process begins in the Spring of students’ 1L year, with the release of a catalogue of participating placement sites containing information regarding practice areas, type of work, and any special requirements. Through an application process, students are placed in their residency based on their expressed preferences and goals. Students may choose to propose an independently arranged placement for approval as a residency. Once in the residency, students work with their site supervisor and a faculty supervisor to create a learning plan for their residency placement, insuring that the student maximizes their educational opportunities during the residency. Students are meet in Affinity Groups and in individual conferences with the Faculty Supervisor. Learning journals and time logs are required. Students will be awarded a grade on a Pass/Fail basis.
Students must also take an accompanying course (2-3 credits) chosen from a group of courses identified as relevant to the students’ residency practice. Some of these courses will be offered through distance learning technology, so that students have the possibility of completing a residency and the accompanying course away from the law school. This accompanying course will bring students up to a full academic load for the term.

Bar Exam Foundations, 2 credits (LAW 822)
This course, which takes place during the 3L Fall Term, is designed to help students maximize their performance on the bar exam in their jurisdiction of choice. In addition to reviewing and organizing critical bar-tested topics and to assisting students develop expert study strategies, the course will focus on the tactics and strategies for writing essay answers and taking multiple choice tests. Topics include Contracts, Torts, Property, Criminal Law, Criminal Procedure, Civil Procedure, Evidence, Constitutional Law, Professional Responsibility, Property, Family Law, Wills and Trusts, and Secured Transactions. Assessment will be based on simulated bar examinations. This is a graded course. Enrollment in this course is limited to third-year students. This course is not available to satisfy the upper level writing requirement.

********

Students must also fulfill a “communications” requirement after the first year. This may be satisfied through designated “communications courses” or by participating in a designated “communications activity,” such as moot court.
ELECTIVE COURSES (updated Summer 2019)

Accounting for Lawyers, 2 credits (LAW 711)
An introduction to the basic concepts of financial accounting. Intended for students with little or no accounting background, the course is designed to equip these students with the fundamental skills necessary to read and critically review a corporation’s financial statements. This course is not open to students who have received credit for more than one undergraduate or postgraduate course in financial accounting.

Advanced Torts, 3 credits (LAW ___)
This course is designed to build on the foundations laid in the first year Torts class, where students primarily concentrate on intentional torts and negligence (as well as defenses to such torts). The purpose of this course is to provide students with more extensive and in-depth exposure to the torts arena. This is particularly important because tort law is a subject that is heavily tested on bar exams and, in practice, tort issues arise often. To that end, this course will address the various torts and aspects of those torts that are not covered in the first year curriculum. Upon completion of this course, students should be able to thoroughly analyze tort problems, by applying tort law to facts. Further, students should have an understanding of how tort law works in practice. Finally, students should gain an appreciation of the theory, philosophy, and public policy behind the common law of torts.

Advocacy Fellows Externship, 3 credits (LAW 693)
The Advocacy Fellows Externship course is an upper-level elective which consists of a combination of supervised work hours and periodic sessions with a faculty advisor. It is designed to provide opportunities for students to gain practical legal experience while working under the supervision of a licensed attorney in an advocacy setting. Examples of advocacy settings would be litigation practices (e.g., district attorney, attorney general, public defender, legal aid or other law office that engages in courtroom advocacy, as well as judicial offices), or offices engaging in policy or social advocacy (e.g., non-profit organizations, government agencies, or other entities). The course requires a minimum of 135 hours of work (during summer term(s)). As part of the Externship, students may observe attorney meetings and strategy sessions, negotiations, client conferences, participate in strategy development, conduct legal research and drafting and other legal work as assigned by the supervisor. The student also will be required to attend periodic sessions with the faculty supervisor with in person, by phone or online via WebEx or some other medium. Students are eligible for the Advocacy Fellows Externship after completing three trimesters at the law school and must be in compliance with all Fellows criteria. The Director of Externships must approve any placement prior to the beginning of the course. Registration is limited to Advocacy Fellows.

Administrative Law, 3 credits (LAW 715)
A study of the administrative process and practice before administrative agencies at all levels of state and federal government. The provisions of the state and federal Administrative Procedures Acts will be explored. In addition, constitutional issues, such as procedural due process, will be examined. This course may permit synchronous participation online consistent with Law School technical requirements for such courses.
Advanced Civil Procedure, 3 credits (LAW 785)
f/k/a Complex Civil Litigation
This course will focus upon the major procedural and substantive issues that arise in the context of complex civil litigation. For the purpose of this course, litigation is considered complex because of the nature or quantity of information involved. The course reviews and expands on the topics covered in the Civil Procedure course with a focus on class action litigation. Specifically, the course will consider the preclusion doctrines, joinder devices, the management of complex discovery, and advocacy techniques. The course format is a combination of short lecture, class discussion, and simulations.

Advanced Criminal Procedure, 3 credits (LAW 735)
This course builds on the required Criminal Law course and focuses on one or more specific criminal procedure topics. Such topics may include the process of “Bail to Jail,” the adjudication of a criminal case including use of prosecutorial discretion, grand jury indictments, criminal discovery, preparation and examination of witnesses (lay and expert), plea negotiations and fundamentals of criminal trials (district and superior court).

Advanced Evidence Workshop, 2 credits (LAW 843)
Advanced Evidence Workshop will explore various evidentiary topics in-depth, including experts, hearsay, privilege, and character evidence, as well as synthesize doctrinal components. The exploration will occur within the context of the trial process, incorporating trial advocacy skills, such as witness examination and offering evidence. The course also will include comparisons of state and federal law. Evidence is a prerequisite to this course.

Advanced Family Law Practice, 3 credits (LAW 774)
In this class, students will work through a family law case from the initial client interview through a mediated settlement. Half of the class will represent the husband and the other half will represent the wife, each group divided into two teams. At various times during the trimester a member of the team will take the role of the client and another will take the role of the lawyer to give team members practical experience. Topics covered include child custody, child support, post-separation support and alimony, equitable distribution, attorney’s fees, tax implications, settlement agreements, appraisals, and methods of alternative dispute resolution. North Carolina Family and Related Laws Annotated and a calculator are required.

Advanced Legal Research, 2 or 3 credits (LAW 661)
Advanced Legal Research builds on skills introduced in the first year legal research class. It will provide a more extensive discussion of the materials and tools available to perform the research required during their professional life. This course will look at both state and federal materials more extensively than covered in the first year course. International and foreign material will be introduced with the majority of this segment looking at their relationship to the general practice of law, focusing primarily on US treaties and Inter-Governmental Organizations. Cost effective legal instruction will be emphasized throughout the course, focusing on when it is appropriate to use online versus paper resources. The credit hours will be dependent upon whether this is taught as a straight skills course (2 credit) with the assessment based on a series of research assignments or if there is a writing component and oral presentation component (3 credit). This course may permit synchronous participation online consistent with Law School technical requirements for such courses. This course may permit asynchronous participation online consistent with Law School technical requirements for such courses.
Advanced Legal Research: Electronic Research, 1 credit (LAW 662)
This skills course will focus on the use of electronic resources in conducting legal research in a real life environment. We will examine the cost effective means of performing legal research; explore the advanced searching methods for both Lexis-Nexis and Westlaw and examine the other online materials, both subscription and free, and their appropriate use within the research and practice areas. This course may permit asynchronous participation online consistent with Law School technical requirements for such courses.

Advanced Legal Research: North Carolina Legal Materials, 1 credit (LAW 664)
This course examines the three branches of the North Carolina Government. Students will learn to find statutes, cases, administrative decisions, and treatises on specific topics. Both print and online sources will be examined. The focus will be on research strategies to solve practical questions that an attorney would encounter in a typical North Carolina practice using cost effective methods. This course may permit asynchronous participation online consistent with Law School technical requirements for such courses.

Advanced Legal Research: Research for Lawyers in Public Interest and Small Practices, 1 credit (LAW 663)
This skills course will train students to perform effective research with resources that have low or no direct cost to the user, primarily books and free online sources.

Advanced Trial Practice and Procedure, 2 credits (LAW 782)
This course prepares students to handle all aspects of the preparation and trial of relatively complex civil cases. Each student will prepare and try a simulated case. Students will gain experience with discovery tools and techniques, as well as every facet of a trial, including opening statements, introducing evidence, interrogating witnesses, and closing arguments. Trial Practice and Procedure (3 credits) is a prerequisite to this course. Depending on enrollment, this course may be sectioned.

Agricultural & Food: Law & Policy, 2-3 credits (LAW 831)
This course will examine major legal and policy issues surrounding the production, distribution, and consumption of food. The first part of the course will survey the regulation of agriculture and food at the federal, state, and local levels (e.g. the FDA and USDA, state agriculture regulation, zoning and other local ordinances). The second part of the course will consider “hot topics” in contemporary food policy, such as food labeling and consumer choice (e.g. organics, GMO products); hunger, nutrition, and obesity; working conditions in agriculture and food service industries; farmland preservation and rural economic development; and the globalization of the food chain.

Antitrust Law, 3 credits (LAW 818)
A study of unfair trade practices and antitrust law. The course will cover topics such as monopolies, price fixing and kickbacks. It will also examine various unfair trade practices and federal and state statutes prohibiting such practices. Business Associations is a prerequisite to this course.

Appellate Practice, 3 credits (LAW 772)
This course will provide students with the opportunity to develop and refine their analytical and communication skills while drafting an appellate brief and presenting one or more formal oral arguments before a panel of judges. Students will be introduced to the appellate litigation process, standards of appellate review, the rules that govern appellate practice and procedure in the state and federal courts, and will study the use of various rhetorical techniques in the context of appellate argument. A special section of this course may be coordinated with Elon’s Moot Court program.

Bankruptcy, 3 credits (LAW 811)
This course focuses on the rights and remedies of debtors and their creditors under the United States Bankruptcy Code. In addition, the interplay of the Bankruptcy Code and the provisions of Article 9 of the Uniform Commercial Code and other provisions of state law are examined. This course will also provide an overview of state law rights and remedies of judgment debtors and creditors.

Bar Exam Foundations: MBE, 2 Credits (LAW 833)
The primary goal of this course is to develop expertise in sound analytical processes necessary for multiple choice questions. Instruction will include strategies for answering Multistate Bar Exam style questions as well as deepening student knowledge about the substantive underpinnings of the law. Instruction will occur within the context of core courses, including Contracts, Torts, Criminal Law, Criminal Procedure, Property, Civil Procedure, Constitutional Law, and Evidence. All instruction is conducted on-line. This is a graded course. The final examination consists of a three hour simulated Multi-State Bar Examination. All first-year courses are pre-requisites for this course.

Bar Exam Foundations: MEE, 2 Credits (LAW 835)
This course is designed to provide students experience in and practice with the essay portion of the Uniform Bar Exam (UBE). The course will promote legal analysis and communication skills needed to succeed on the Multistate Essay Exam (MEE). The course will present instruction in the most successful strategies and tactics for answering short essay questions and provide students opportunities for application and practice. This is a graded course and is offered fully online. The final examination will consist of a three hour simulated MEE essay examination. All first-year courses are pre-requisites for this course.

Bar Exam Foundations: Multistate Performance Test: 2 credits (LAW 832)
The primary goal of this course is to introduce the student to the Multistate Performance Test portion of the Uniform Bar Exam (as well as the MPT administered in some non-UBE states). The skills necessary for assessing a client file, identifying issues, and reaching and communicating legal conclusions will be emphasized. All instruction is conducted on-line. This is a graded course. All first-year courses are pre-requisites for this course.

Business Drafting, 2 credits (LAW 812)
This course will teach students the basic principles of contract interpretation, negotiation, and drafting. Emphasis will be placed on drafting contractual agreements that meet clients' needs and effectively anticipate potential legal problems. Students will read and analyze a variety of contracts and contract provisions, and will work both independently and collaboratively to negotiate and draft a series of written contracts. Types of contracts to be studied and drafted may include contracts for the sale of goods, service contracts, agency agreements, employment agreements, and stock or asset purchase agreements. Business Associations is a prerequisite to this course.

Business Fellows Externship Course, 3 credits (LAW 692)
The Business Fellows Externship course is designed to provide opportunities for students to gain practical legal experience while working under the supervision of a qualified attorney or judge focusing in the area of business law. The course requires a minimum of 135 hours of work. Registration is limited to Business Fellows. As part of the Externship, students may observe... attorney meetings and strategy sessions, negotiations, client conferences, and participate in litigation strategy development, contract drafting, contract review, and legal research while under the supervision of counsel. The student also will be required to attend periodic sessions with the faculty supervisor. Students are eligible for the Business Fellows Externship after completing one year at the law school. The Director of Externships must approve any placement, prior to the beginning of the course.

Capstone Leadership Project, 1 credit (LAW 755)
The Capstone course will provide 3L students an opportunity to apply leadership skills in service of a tangible product, outcome, or effort aimed at creating positive, sustainable impact on the profession, the Law School, the community, or the world. This elective will require approximately 55 credits of work during the second year, including reflective learning activities and preparation of a final report. Projects may be derived from diverse sources and should encourage student initiative and creativity. Thus the final report could take a number of different forms -- e.g., a written document of approximately 10 pages, slide presentation, video/DVD, etc. However, each project report must include a written executive summary that will both describe the project and its outcomes as well as document the specific leadership skills the student deployed in pursuit of the project and what the student learned about his or her strengths and developmental needs as a leader. Project proposals must be submitted in writing to the Director of the Capstone Leadership course or the Director's designee(s) and will be approved based on published criteria. All projects will be approved no later than the start of the second year. Teams of no more than four students may also carry out a single project, provided each student demonstrates equal effort and signs the final report. There will be a minimum of two progress check-ins with the Director of the Capstone Leadership course or the Director's designee(s) during the second year. The course will be graded on a Pass-Fail basis.

Children and the Law, 2 credits (LAW 776)
A study of legal issues particularly relevant to children. Topics covered include parental custody and support, emancipation, adoption and reproductive technology, abuse and neglect, delinquent and undisciplined children, and children's First Amendment rights.

Civil Pretrial Litigation I: Discovery, 2-3 credits (LAW 847)
This course covers the major fact-finding steps in the pretrial litigation process. Topics covered include litigation planning, fact investigation, and discovery. Evidence is a recommended prerequisite.

Civil Pretrial Litigation: Pleadings, 2 credits (LAW 852)
This civil litigation simulation course explores pleadings strategies with an emphasis on techniques for both effectively pleading a case in compliance with the applicable rules of civil procedure and persuasively advocating for a client. Students will learn to develop legal strategy, case theory, and litigation plans. The simulation includes drafting and serving complaints, motions to dismiss, related memoranda of law, and answers. Pleading and responding to counterclaims and affirmative defenses will be addressed, as well as amending pleadings. Students will also have the opportunity to make oral arguments in support or opposition to motions. In addition, students will gain experience in collaborative development of work product and professional interaction with colleagues, opposing counsel, and the court. Throughout the course, students will consider issues of legal ethics and professional practice.

Client Interviewing and Counseling, 2 credits (LAW 839)
This course covers the fundamental lawyering skills of interviewing and counseling – skills essential to the practice of law in any context. It will introduce the theories and techniques used in interviewing and counseling, utilizing simulations and role playing exercises designed to transfer the classroom discussions and theoretical readings into practical experience. Skills addressed in the interviewing segment include: active and empathetic listening, building rapport, fact gathering, question formulation, preliminary client goal identification, development of a case overview, theory development, and concluding the interview. The counseling segment will introduce the process by which the lawyer helps the client make decisions by clarifying the client’s objectives, identifying potential strategies and solutions and their likely consequences and, when appropriate, providing advice. Throughout the course, we will discuss ethical and professionalism issues that often arise in lawyer-client interactions.

Closely Held Business Enterprises, 2-3 credits (LAW 826)
This course examines issues relating to privately held businesses, particularly those with relatively few owners. Topics that will be studied include choice of business entity, organizing and funding the entity, including private securities offerings, entity conversions, succession planning, buy-sell arrangements, employment agreements, compensation matters, governance issues, fiduciary obligations, purchase and sale of the business, and accounting principles. Entities that will be covered include corporations, partnerships, and limited liability companies. Business Associations is a prerequisite to this course; Income Tax is recommended, not required.

Commercial Law: Negotiable Instruments, 2 credits (LAW 672)
A study of the rules of law applicable to transactions under Articles 3 and 4 of the Uniform Commercial Code (UCC) and other pertinent law, focusing particularly on negotiable instruments, banking and payment systems.

Commercial Law: Sales, 2 credits (LAW 670)
A study of the law of contracts for the sale of tangible, movable items. The course focuses on Articles II and IIA of the Uniform Commercial Code.

Commercial Law: Secured Transactions, 2 or 3 credits (LAW 671)
A study of the law of secured transactions, focusing on Article 9 of the Uniform Commercial Code. This course may be offered in person or online, using weekly practice problems and online office hours. The Law School’s attendance policy applies in full effect to courses offered online.

Communication Skills for Lawyers, 1 credit (LAW 703)
This course focuses on the elements of effective oral communications for lawyers. Emphasis will be placed on both the organization of spoken content as well as the delivery of same. The course considers the specific oral communication requirements of such topical areas as appellate advocacy, client interviewing and counseling, and negotiations. Students will deliver several presentations which will be filmed and on which both oral and written feedback by peers and the professor will be given.

Conflict of Laws, 3 credits (LAW 848)
This course examines how courts choose which law should be applied to transactions, relationships, or occurrences having contacts with more than one state. The course will also touch on adjudicatory jurisdiction, the recognition of foreign judgments, choice-of-law clauses, and choice-of-forum clauses. It will address the various approaches adopted by states and/or advocated by scholars (namely the Restatements (Second) & (Third) of Conflict of Laws), focusing on cases involving torts, contracts, family law and procedure.
Constitutional Litigation, 2 credits (LAW 851)
Constitutional tort law operationalizes the Constitution by providing a vehicle for holding state, local, and federal officials, local governments, and private parties operating under color of state law liable in damages for violations of people's constitutional rights. The course will examine, at both a theoretical and practical level, the litigation of constitutional torts through 42 U.S.C. § 1983 and Bivens actions, including elements of a claim, immunities, procedural defenses, remedies, and attorney's fees. The study of constitutional litigation calls for advanced application of constitutional, tort, and civil procedure principles.

Construction Law, 3 credits, (LAW 806)
This course will examine the legal issues involved in the construction process, including the rights and obligations of owners, contractors, subcontractors, and design professionals. Topics of study include project design and delivery systems, construction claims and damages, workplace safety, alternative dispute resolution, liens and suretyship. It is anticipated that one class session will be held at the site of a notable construction project in the area. The course includes a classroom component as well as independent writing exercises.

Consumer Protection, 3 credits (LAW 819)
This course will survey state and federal consumer protection law. The central theme of the course is the enhancement of efficiency, transparency, access, and fair dealing in consumer markets. Topics to be covered include deceptive trade practices and advertising, consumer privacy, and consumer credit and debt collection practices.

Constitutional Law Appellate Advocacy Clinic, 4 credits (LAW 849)
In this clinic, students will work under the close supervision of a law school faculty member to research, draft, and submit an amicus brief on a constitutional law-related topic to the Supreme Court of the United States or one of the federal Courts of Appeals. Students will represent clients who have interests implicated by the ongoing litigation and desire to have their concerns represented before the federal courts. Clients will be arranged by the faculty member in advance and may involve amicus briefs on the merits or in support of a petition for a writ of certiorari. Classroom sessions will include instruction on relevant constitutional law and statutory provisions at issue in the cases as well as appellate advocacy more generally. Although the students will engage in an in-depth analysis of specific constitutional law issues, the primary learning objective of the course is for students to develop and hone their analytical, legal writing, legal research, and advocacy skills. Constitutional Law I and II are highly recommended, and courses in First Amendment Speech and Religion are recommended. This course will be available to satisfy the upper level writing requirement. An application process will be used to determine enrollment in the course.

Copyright Law, 2-3 credits (LAW 763)
This course will examine copyright law and policy. Its overall purpose is to give students the tools to understand, navigate, form sophisticated views about, and rethink in creative ways a range of current and future copyright law issues. The course thus addresses both copyright logistics (how the law actually works and how to use it) as well as theory and policy (what the law should be and why). The course will focus on U.S. copyright law – federal and state – but will also at key points present comparative views of other copyright systems in order to foster a greater understanding of global copyright practices and policies. A final examination and several graded assignments/quizzes during the course of the trimester are anticipated. Although no prior intellectual property knowledge or experience is required, the course will also complement Elon’s other IP offerings, thereby expanding and sharpening students’ knowledge of the field.

Criminal Pretrial Practice, 3 credits (LAW 803)
This course will focus on the pretrial strategy and tactics employed by trial lawyers in federal criminal cases. The course will require students to conduct pretrial criminal procedures by following simulated cases. The cases will involve the prosecution of criminal offenses in federal court. Students will alternate handling segments of the case as both a prosecutor and as defense counsel. Students will complete five to six graded homework assignments that will be handed out and turned in over the course of the trimester. The assignments will consist of researching and writing appropriate court documents (e.g., motion to suppress evidence, motion to compel discovery, etc.). Students will also be prepared to interview witnesses (including the defendant), argue motions, and make charging decisions. Knowledge of Criminal Procedure and Evidence is helpful, but not required.

Criminal Procedure, 2-3 credits (LAW 732)
The major constitutional restraints upon the criminal justice process are the focus of this course. Particular attention is given to the provisions of the Fourth, Fifth, and Sixth Amendments to the United States Constitution, including such specific issues as arrest, search and seizure, interrogations and confessions, the exclusionary rule, and the right to defense counsel. Overall consideration is given to the impact of Fourteenth Amendment Due Process requirements throughout state and federal criminal justice systems. This course may permit synchronous participation online consistent with Law School technical requirements for such courses.

Critical Race Theory, 2 credits (LAW 752)
Critical race theory analyzes the intersections between race and the law. Specifically, it examines and critiques race as both a social and legal construct and explores the psychological and practical consequences that flow from those constructs. In this course students will consider the theoretical and intellectual contributions of critical race theory to legal discourse, as well as the liberal and conservative critiques of its tenets. Thus, the course will investigate critical race theory from multiple vantage points to assess both its strengths and its shortcomings as an advocacy tool for attorneys.

Death Penalty Jurisprudence, 2 credits (LAW 794)
This course examines capital punishment from a philosophical and jurisprudential perspective. We will consider it in relation to morality, the concept of the rule of law in society, the nature of legal rules and concepts, the nature of judicial decision making, and the relation of law to the social sciences.

Deposition Workshop, 2-3 credits (LAW 783)
This course teaches students how to take and defend depositions. Students in the class examine and defend witnesses in a mock deposition setting and receive feedback and critique from experienced litigators on how to improve their deposition skills. In addition to the experiential approach to learning, students also watch demonstrations and engage in discussions of different deposition skills such as the application of the discovery rules, planning discovery, opening the deposition, entering into stipulations, engaging in information gathering, seeking admissions, making and responding to objections, concluding the deposition, and using depositions in motion practice and at trial.

Drug Use: Criminal Law, Policy, and History, 2-3 credits (LAW 856)
This course will introduce students to the major legal and policy issues regarding illegal drug use. In doing so, it will first provide a historical background on drug use within the United States and then spend the majority of its sessions considering the laws and policies that govern illegal drugs. Alcohol, tobacco, and caffeine regulation will also be considered. While focused on drug use in the United States, the course will also address drug law and policy internationally.

Employment Discrimination, 3 credits (LAW 823)
This course will cover theoretical, legal and practice issues around employment discrimination law. The course will focus on U.S. employment discrimination law, primarily Title VII of the 1964 Civil Rights Act, which prohibits employment discrimination based on “race, color, religion, sex, or national origin.” The course will also examine sexual harassment, the constitutional law of employment discrimination, Title I of the Americans with Disabilities Act ("ADA"), the Age Discrimination in Employment Act ("ADEA"), affirmative action, and various state and local statutes addressing emerging issues in employment discrimination law, such as employment discrimination based on physical appearance or attractiveness, cyber-harassment, speech codes and “safe spaces,” and privacy violations like revenge pornography. Finally, the course will consider the interaction of the above with other related and emerging fields, like labor law, intellectual property (including trade secrecy), privacy, cyberlaw, cybersecurity and information law. The course will use practice problems (some handed in for evaluation), drafting exercises and administrative procedure (particularly EEOC filings) to apply theoretical principles. Outside speakers from private practice and government will join the class via video. This course may permit synchronous participation online consistent with Law School technical requirements for such courses.

Employment Law, 2-3 credits (LAW 714)
A study of state and federal employment law. Topics covered include common law claims such as breach of contract and wrongful discharge; wage and hour laws; anti-discrimination laws; and concerted labor activity and collective bargaining.

Entertainment Law, 2 credits (LAW 840)
A study of the legal and business aspects of the entertainment industries. In particular, the course will emphasize the aspects of contract and intellectual property law unique to this subject area. The course will focus primarily on the film, television and music industries, but will touch on other industries as well.

Entity Taxation, 3 credits (LAW 815)
This course examines the federal income taxation of subchapter C corporations, general partnerships, limited liability companies, subchapter S corporations, limited partnerships, and other business entities. State tax implications may also be addressed. Business Associations is a prerequisite to this course.

Environmental Law, 3 credits (LAW 841)
The study of state and federal environmental regulation. Relevant state and federal statutes, regulations and case decisions will be examined, with particular emphasis afforded federal statutes such as the National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA), the Clean Water Act (CWA), and the Comprehensive Environmental Response and Liability Act (CERCLA). Knowledge of the basics of Administrative Law is strongly recommended for students enrolling in this course.

Estate and Gift Taxation, 2 credits (LAW 771)
A study of the tax consequences of transfers of property. Applicable federal and state statutes will be examined. The course will be primarily taught through hypothetical estate planning situations and problems highlighting the statutes and rules covered. While Income Taxation is not a prerequisite, it would be helpful to have this background for the course.

Estate Planning, 2-3 credits (LAW 772)
This course examines the typical mechanisms used for managing the transfer of property during life and at death, with an introduction to minimization of estate and gift tax liability and estate administration. Selected topics may include: gifting and intrafamily transfers, planning for incapacity, special needs trusts, planning for beneficiaries receiving means-tested benefits, use of the marital deduction, charitable trusts, retirement plan benefits, life insurance, succession planning for owners of closely held businesses and drafting of instruments of transfer and trust agreements. Wills and Trusts is a prerequisite to this course.

Family Law, 3 credits (LAW 775)
This course will cover the variety of laws impacting the family unit and defining the rights and duties of family members. Topics covered will include marriage, annulment, separation, divorce, support, custody and equitable distribution. Course requirements may also include other writing assignments/group activities to provide the students with a sense of the practical side of the practice of family law.

Federal Courts, 3 credits (LAW 788)
This course examines jurisdiction of the federal courts over federal questions and diversity of citizenship cases; distribution of powers between state and federal courts; use of state law in federal courts; civil procedure in federal districts courts; and appellate review of federal and state court decisions.

Federal Tax Practice and Procedure, 2 credits (LAW 729)
This course will provide an overview of federal civil tax procedure, including practice before the Internal Revenue Service and the United States Tax Court. Using a practical approach, the course will cover typical tax controversies from the examination phase through litigation. Issues covered will include the structure of the IRS, the examination phase, the administrative appeals process, statute of limitations, assessment procedure, taxpayer rights, investigative authority of the IRS, and penalties.

First Amendment, 3 credits (LAW 722)
This course deals with the complex and ever-evolving jurisprudence regarding the First Amendment to the United States Constitution. Primary emphasis will be on the many facets of freedom of expression, freedom of religion, and the Establishment Clause.

First Amendment: Religion, 2 credits (LAW 754)
This course examines the tensions inherent in the First Amendment’s providing for free exercise and prohibiting the establishment of religion, exploring how principles of neutrality, voluntarism, separation, and accommodation have influenced the Supreme Court’s decisions. Potential topics include nondiscrimination, endorsement, coercion, public funding as it relates to religious programs and institutions, compelled exemptions, and nongovernmental actions and religion.

First Amendment: Speech, 2-3 credits (LAW 757)
This course surveys the Free Speech clause of the First Amendment, and considers both the theory underlying the clause and judicial interpretations of the extent of its protections. Potential topics include hate speech, political speech, freedom of association, indecency and obscenity, tort law and the First Amendment, access to the media, commercial speech, and copyright. We will pay particular attention to the application of free speech rules, doctrines, and values to emerging technologies. This course may permit synchronous participation online consistent with Law School technical requirements for such courses.

General Externship, 3-4 credits (LAW 690)
The General Externship course is designed to provide opportunities for students to gain practical legal experience while working under the supervision of attorneys and judges. Students may earn 3 credits for 135 hours of qualifying work in the fall, winter or spring trimester or in the summer at a non-profit, government, judicial or in-house counsel office. Also in the summer, students have the option of earning 4 credits for 180 hours of qualifying work. Qualifying work is substantial lawyering experience reasonably similar to the experience of a lawyer advising or representing a client or engaging in other lawyering tasks under approved direct attorney or judicial supervision. Information on possible placements can be found in Symplicity, as well as in the Externship Notebooks on reserve in the library. In addition to the minimum hours of supervised work, the General Externship requires students to participate in sessions with a faculty advisor with other externs, and submit reflective written work and time records. Students are eligible for the General Externship course after completing three or four trimesters at the law school, depending on the particular externship placement requirements. Students must have their placements approved by the Director of Residencies in order to register for the course. Applications are available on the website of the Office of the Registrar.

Guardian Ad Litem Clinic, 4 credits (LAW 758)
In this clinic, students will work under the supervision of a faculty member to represent the best interests of abused and neglected children in appeals of juvenile matters in the North Carolina Court of Appeals and North Carolina Supreme Court, assigned to the clinic by the Guardian Ad Litem Appellate Counsel for the state. It is anticipated that one or two cases will be assigned each trimester. Enrollment is limited to 6 students per trimester. Classroom sessions will include instruction on relevant North Carolina statutory and case law related to abused and neglected children and the appellate rules of North Carolina generally and specific to juvenile cases. The faculty will also meet with students outside of the classroom to discuss the case, formulate strategies and issues to pursue on the appeal, formulate a research strategy, outline arguments for the brief, review drafts of the brief and finalize the brief before submission to the appellate court. In handling an appeal, the members of the class will do many or all of the following: review trial transcripts and juvenile records; review and settle the record on appeal; respond to appellate motions and writs; draft and file Guardian Ad Litem Appellee Briefs; fulfill statutory mandates to provide and promote the best interests of juveniles in appellate proceedings; provide a voice for abused and neglected children in North Carolina; and help achieve safety and permanency in a child's life. Students will work enough hours each week to satisfy the requirements for the number of credit hours awarded for the course. While students will learn some substantive and procedural law specific to juvenile matters, the primary learning objective of the course is for students to develop and hone their analytical, legal writing, legal research and advocacy skills. Professional Responsibility is a prerequisite to the course, and Child Protection and the Law, Children and the Legal System and similar courses focused on children's are recommended as a pre- or co-requisite. Students must be eligible for NC State Bar Limited Practice Certification. This course is graded on a Pass/Fail basis. All clinical courses at the law school are subject to a "no drop" policy. This means that after the course registration period has closed, students will be permitted to drop a clinical course only with the permission of the clinical faculty.
Health Care Organization and Finance, 2 or 3 credits (LAW 723)
The world of health law breaks down into two main tributaries — financial/operational issues, and bioethics. The financial and operations arena spans a variety of important and volatile concepts. These concepts range from the Affordable Care Act, to HIPPA, to advanced directives, and quality of care. The course would include these and other important topics.

Health Law, 2 credits (LAW 745)
This course will cover the major legal issues related to the health care system. Health care decision making through various legal documents, e.g., health care powers of attorney and living wills, will be addressed. In addition, issues related to representing medical personnel and hospitals, including defense of medical malpractice suits, will be discussed.

Humanitarian Immigration Law Clinic, 4 credits (LAW 768)
The Immigration Clinic provides students with practical experience in the areas of client interviewing, cloud-based case management software, and preparing an application for federal immigration benefits. Students will be given great autonomy to assist refugees and asylees in filing for family reunification, adjustment of status (green card), and naturalization (US citizenship). Students will also have the opportunity to conduct legal research and writing and represent clients in federal benefits hearings at USCIS Field Offices. Prerequisites: Students must have completed all of the first-year requirements. Professional Responsibility must be completed prior to or taken concurrently with this clinical course. Immigration law is not a prerequisite, but is encouraged and may be taken concurrently. Clinical Hours: For three (3) credits, students must complete 100 hours of clinical work as part of the requirements for satisfactory completion. Performance in the clinic is also used to determine whether the student earns a High Pass/Pass/Low Pass/Fail. If you are completing your Upper Level Writing requirement as a part of HILC for an additional credit hour—for a total of four (4) hours, the requirements for the ULW will be separately addressed with your supervising faculty member. All clinical courses at the law school are subject to a “no drop” policy. This means that after the course registration period has closed, students will be permitted to drop a clinical course only with the permission of the clinical faculty.

Immigration Law, 3 credits (LAW 740)
This course will examine United States immigration and naturalization law. Federal statutes and regulations addressing admission of foreign nationals, removal, citizenship, and employment will be addressed.

In-House Corporate Practice, 2 credits (LAW 699)
This course focuses on the role of "in-house" legal counsel in the corporate context. The organization of the corporate law department will be discussed, including those functions within corporations handled generally by in-house lawyers and the relationship of in-house counsel to outside counsel. A sampling of specialties of in-house corporate practice will be presented, as well as the in-house lawyer’s role in transactional matters such as mergers, acquisitions, divestitures and major contract projects. Class sessions will frequently include visiting General Counsel who will speak on issues relevant to their practices. Contemporary business issues will be discussed and students will be required to keep current by reading business papers and journals. Students will be graded on the basis of a final paper. Business Associations is a pre- or co-requisite.

In-House Counsel Externship, 3 Credits (LAW 691)
The In-House Counsel Externship Course is a component of the Law School’s Externship Program, which is designed to provide opportunities for students to gain practical legal experience while working under the supervision of in-house counsel in the corporate offices of for-profit organizations in the law school area. The In-House Counsel Externship Course is an upper-level elective which consists of a combination of supervised, unpaid work hours and periodic sessions with a faculty advisor. As part of supervised Externship work, students may observe attorney meetings and strategy sessions, negotiations, client conferences, and participate in litigation strategy development, contract drafting, contract review and legal research while under the supervision of corporate counsel.

In addition to the minimum hours of supervised work, the Externship course requires students to participate in sessions with a faculty advisor and submit reflective written work and time records. Students are eligible for the In-House Counsel Externship Course after completing four trimesters at the law school. The Externship Director or Designated Faculty Advisor must approve proposed Externships prior to registration in the In-House Counsel Externship course.

Students may not receive any compensation for their work in the Externship course. Business Associations is a prerequisite course for the In-House Counsel Externship.

NOTE:
3 credits = 135 hours of work (Winter, Spring, and Fall)
4 credits = 180 hours of work (Summer)

Income Taxation, 3 credits (LAW 712)
A study of the basic principles of federal taxation of income. This course focuses primarily on the provisions of the Internal Revenue Code addressing taxation of individuals. Concepts such as adjusted gross income, exemptions, deductions, and tax credits will be examined.

Independent Study, 1-3 credits (LAW 999 A, B, C)
This course will allow students to engage in independent legal research and writing under the supervision of a full-time faculty member. The work must involve the production of a significant research paper or comparable project. Students may not enroll in an Independent Study without written permission by the supervising faculty member and the Associate Dean for Academic Affairs. The written permission must identify the number of credits to be awarded to the student upon satisfactory completion of the course. A student also must spend a minimum of 42.5 hours on the research and writing project per credit earned. A student may not receive more than four credits total through Independent Study courses. Independent Studies may be graded P/F at the discretion of the supervising faculty member.

Insurance Law, 2-3 credits (LAW 746)
This course covers the basics of insurance law, including the nature of insurance, insurance contract formation and interpretation, and government regulation of the insurance industry. Various types of insurance, such as property, health, life, and disability, will be covered.

Intellectual Property, 3 credits (LAW 716)
This course covers the basic principles of intellectual property law in the United States and internationally. The course provides an overview of the law governing the securing and exploitation of property and other rights in ideas, including protection by patents, copyrights, trademarks, state legislation, and the common law.

Intellectual Property (International Arena), 3 credits (LAW 709)
This course surveys intellectual property (IP) law and policy, focusing on the international arena. The course will consider global debates regarding the character and desired scope of IP, considering successful and failed attempts at harmonization. The course will also examine the principal multilateral IP treaties and international dispute settlement mechanisms, and compare various aspects of foreign intellectual property regimes with those of the United States. Knowledge of Intellectual Property Law is recommended.

International Business Law, 3 credits (LAW 741)
This course provides students with an opportunity to see the application of business law principles through the intensive study of U.S.-based businesses operating abroad. Topics covered in the course include the study of the regulatory requirements for operating a business abroad, including tax, intellectual property, environmental and labor considerations. Students in the course also explore the business considerations of operation abroad, such as foreign exchange issues, finance considerations, and the assessment of socioeconomic and political condition of off-shore destinations. The course may include a travel component.

International Criminal Law 2-3 credits (LAW 827)
This course will focus on the evolution of International Humanitarian Law (IHL) and the development of a responsive judicial system over the past two centuries. It will begin with a brief look at the history of war crimes and the laws of armed conflict going back to antiquity, and then concentrate on the beginning of the development of the legal and judicial underpinnings of IHL in the second half of the 19th century. It will then discuss the background and history of the early Geneva Conventions, the 1899 and 1907 Hague Conferences and resulting conventions, and the efforts by the international community to deal judicially with the war crimes committed during World War I. It will also explore the allies’ more successful efforts to bring to justice perpetrators of the massive war crimes committed during World War II through the Nuremberg and Tokyo International Military trials as well as the thousands of military commission and national trials throughout Europe and Asia. It will also look at the background and history of the Genocide Convention, the postwar Geneva Conventions as well as the crimes and trials before the International Criminal Tribunal for Rwanda, the International Criminal Tribunal for Yugoslavia, the Extraordinary Chambers before the Courts of Cambodia, and the U.S. Military Commission trials in Guantanamo. It will also explore questions about cultural genocide and other legal concepts and precedents that have developed in relation to modern unconventional warfare.

International Intellectual Property, 2 credits (LAW 836)
This two credit course with a travel component concerns International Intellectual Property. Readings and 2 pre-trip class meetings will introduce students to international aspects of intellectual property (IP) law and policy. We will examine the principal multilateral IP treaties and compare various aspects of foreign intellectual property regimes with those of the United States. The course travel components include visits to the several international and regional IP offices located in The Hague, Netherlands. Meetings with representatives of the World Intellectual Property Office (WIPO) and the European Union Intellectual Property Office will be planned. We also plan to visit with Italian attorneys and representatives of companies who are strong proponents of Geographical Indicators (GIs) that seek to preserve agricultural policy and cultural heritage. Knowledge of Intellectual Property Law is recommended.

International Law: Human Rights, 3 credits (LAW 756)
This course will examine human rights and their status as international law and the major issues that confront the world in the implementation and enforcement of that law. Potential topics include the nature and foundation of international human rights law, examination of the core human rights treaties including the International Bill of Human Rights, the role of the United Nations and the Human Rights Council, Regional Human Rights systems, available procedures for human rights violations, humanitarian intervention, and accountability mechanisms for human rights violators. Students are not required to have any prior knowledge of international law or human rights to undertake this course.

International Law: Private, Conflicts of Law, 2-3 credits (LAW 748)
This course will examine how the answer to a legal problem is affected by the fact that the elements of the problem have contacts with more than one jurisdiction. Potential topics include the limits of each state’s power to regulate international disputes; policies underlying the recognition and enforcement of foreign judgments, threshold problems in the forum such as notice and proof, and consideration of specialized areas such as property, family law, administration of estates, and international partnerships and corporations. This course will require a paper, which may satisfy the upper-level writing requirement.

International Law: Public, 2-3 credits (LAW 742)
A study of the basic rules and principles governing the conduct of nation-states and international organizations and their relations with each other. Topics include the law of treaties and customary law, the relationship between international law and municipal law, human rights law, the use of force in international relations, and international criminal law.

International Law: Refugee and Asylum, 2 credits (LAW 743)
This course provides a comprehensive introduction to the international legal regime for the protection of involuntary migrants. It critically assesses the legal right of states to exclude aliens, and the reasons that refugees are exempted from systems of migration control. The essential premise of the course is that refugee law should be understood as a mode of human rights protection, the viability of which requires striking a balance between the needs of the victims of human rights abuse, and the legitimate aspirations of the countries to which they flee. The course will address the legal definition of a refugee, refugee rights, and the institutional structures through which protection is accomplished. It will define and apply contemporary legal standards, situate United States asylum law within its international legal context, and subject the present protection regime to critical scrutiny.

International Public Law, 2 credits (LAW 837A)
This is a two-credit course with a travel component. Readings, two pre-trip class meetings, and online instructional modules will introduce students to the basic rules, principles, and structures of international law. The course examines the inception, formation, and current workings of the legal institutions that govern and influence world law and politics. Over the term, we will examine 1) the basic principles of the international legal system, 2) the major forms of international law, 3) the role and influence of international organizations and non-state actors, 4) the international legal rules that govern trade, human rights, the use of force, and war crimes, and 6) the nature of international law itself, including questions of compliance, effectiveness, and enforcement. The course travel component includes visits to the International Court of Justice, the International Criminal Court and the International Criminal Tribunal for the Former Yugoslavia, visits with local lawyers who work in the areas of public international law and human rights, and visits to other regional points of interest, both legal and cultural. Grading will be based upon class participation, assignment completion, and a culminating presentation made during one or two post-trip class meetings.

Internet Law, 3 credits (LAW 747)
This course examines the legal issues triggered by the emergence of the Internet. Topics covered include the regulation of Internet access and domain names; contract formation, execution and enforceability; personal jurisdiction and choice of law; trademark and copyright infringement; and privacy concerns.

Judicial Process, 2 credits (LAW 790)
Beginning with the ideas of Justice Benjamin Cardozo in his classic, The Judicial Process, and ending with the writings of modern, influential judges, the course explores the methodologies and other considerations that influence judicial decision making, including constitutional and statutory interpretation, illustrated by examining significant judicial decisions and the lives and careers of some of the judges who made them.

Labor Law, 3 credits (LAW 702)
This course examines labor-management relations in socio-legal perspective, drawing on both traditional legal materials (i.e. statutes, regulations, judicial opinions) and social research (i.e. theoretical perspectives & empirical studies from the social sciences). The aim of the course is to provide students with an overview of significant issues and doctrines in labor law, introduce students to theory and research on labor unions and labor-management relations, and encourage students to consider how insights from social theory and research can inform legal practice.

Land Use Planning, 3 credits (LAW 807)
This course examines selected problems in the law of zoning, subdivision control, and urban planning, with emphasis on their effect on the form and shape of the built environment in which we live. Topics include subdivision exactions; conditional use permits, variances, and related zoning mechanisms; issues of sprawl, smart growth and the development of desirable places to live; the role of local and state government as well as the courts; the takings clause of the U.S. Constitution and other constraints on the exercise of power in controlling land use.

Law Firm Management, 1 credit (LAW 830)
This course will acquaint students with the data and skills necessary for delivery of legal services today and in the future. Topics and skills addressed include management theory and techniques, interviewing, counseling, negotiations, systems analysis and design, technology and professional responsibility. Lecture, demonstration, and clinical stimulations will be utilized.

Law Review, 1 credit (LAW 996)
Subject to the approval by the Elon Law Review faculty advisor, students on the Elon Law Review may receive one credit for each academic trimester in which the students successfully fulfill their duties as a members of the Elon Law Review Staff Member or Editorial Board Member, provided the student spends a minimum of 42.5 hours on these duties. The Editor-in-Chief and Managing Editor receive two credit hours for a total of two academic trimesters in which they successfully fulfill their duties, provided those students spend a minimum of 85 hours on those duties. No student may receive more than two credits for law review activities per trimester. Law review credits are awarded on a pass/fail basis. All Elon Law Review staff members are required to submit an article-length note of publishable quality, subject to the guidelines in the Law Review Bylaws, by the end of their first year as members on Elon Law Review. The note must be written independent of a class; students may not submit a paper that was also written for class credit.

Leadership Fellows: General Externship, 3 credits (LAW 689)
The Leadership Fellows Externship is designed to provide opportunities for Leadership Fellows to gain practical legal experience while working under the supervision of a licensed attorney or judge who is either 1) working full-time in public service or 2) is in private practice but plays a leadership role in the Bar, in pro bono service, or in the community. Examples of qualifying placements are state or federal government law offices, including all levels of attorney general, prosecutorial and public defender offices; state and federal governmental agencies such as the Social Security Administration, EEOC, and EPA; law offices of past and present officeholders in local and state bar associations; and law offices of members of the N.C. Pro Bono Society. The course requires a minimum of 135 hours of work. Like in other Externship courses, students are also required to participate in group and individual meetings with a faculty advisor (electronically if necessary) and to engage in reflective learning through journal entries, goals memos and assessments. Registration is limited to Leadership Fellows.

Mastering Legal Analysis, 1-3 credits (LAW 683)
Mastering Legal Analysis is designed to improve students’ ability to de-construct legal rules, to explain and evaluate the significance of facts, to thoroughly support conclusions of law, and to effectively organize content. These skills are critical in applying law to the hypothetical questions typical of both law school and bar exams. The hands-on learning methodology used in the course will include in-class analytical and writing work in both individual and group settings.

Mergers and Acquisitions, 3 credits (LAW 814)
This course explores the principal legal issues and also the practical realities of negotiated corporate acquisitions and mergers. Business deals will be analyzed from inception to closing, with the focus on the lawyer’s role in each phase of a transaction. The class will provide students with the opportunity to complete tasks that junior transactional associates are commonly expected to undertake. Throughout the trimester there will be various simulations and fact patterns that will allow students to see and participate in many aspects of a basic business transaction. Students will review and discuss due diligence materials and an example acquisition agreement as well as participate in other aspects of a hypothetical transaction. Business Associations is a prerequisite to this course.

Mediation, 3 credits (LAW 804)
An introductory exploration of mediation as a method of dispute resolution, this course covers mediation theory, skills, and perspectives in a variety of areas of law. Students will learn the basic skills to serve as both a neutral mediator and to represent clients as a lawyer during the mediation process. Students will develop a sophisticated understanding of mediation and will learn when to use mediation as a settlement process. In addition to assigned readings and class discussion, learning objectives will be met through in class role-plays and written analysis of mediation role-plays.

Military Justice, 3 credits (LAW 706)
This course provides an overview of the nature and sources of military law, including the Uniform Code of Military Justice. The course explores various topics at the intersection of military and criminal law, including but not limited to the following: non-judicial punishment, court martial, and Article 32a of the UCMJ. The course will also examine contemporary topics relating to the legal aspects of United States military operations throughout the world, including rules of engagement, law of armed conflict, and the role of the military lawyer in assisting to implement U.S. foreign policy.

Mock Trial Competition, 1-2 credits (LAW 786)
Credit is awarded to students who successfully compete in and/or support a mock trial team in participation in regional and/or national competitions. Successful completion of these requirements above and participation in one competition (whereby the student spends a minimum of 42.5 hours in the interscholastic competition activities above) will receive 1 credit. Students who compete in two competitions (whereby the student spends a minimum of 42.5 hours in the interscholastic competition activities above in each of the competitions) will receive 2 credits. This course is graded on a pass/fail basis.

Moot Court/Appellate Advocacy Competition, 1-2 credits (LAW 900)
Credit is awarded to students who successfully complete at least three trimesters of service on the Moot Court Board and who compete in at least one interscholastic Moot Court competition, whereby they independently or as a member of a team prepare an appellate brief, practice regularly with faculty coaches and advisors for oral argument and present an oral argument in the competition. Successful completion of these requirements above and participation in one competition (whereby the student spends a minimum of 42.5 hours in the interscholastic competition activities above) will receive 1 credit. Students who complete in two competitions (whereby the student spends a minimum of 42.5 hours in the interscholastic competition activities above in each of the competitions) will receive 2 credits. This course is graded on a pass/fail basis.

Negotiations, 3 credits (LAW 759)
All lawyers must negotiate. Whether you plan to be a commercial lawyer, a family lawyer, a criminal lawyer, a government lawyer or any other type of lawyer, you will be negotiating with other attorneys, clients, and court personnel. This class, combining theory and practice, aims to improve both your understanding of negotiation and your effectiveness as a negotiator. Students will engage in multiple negotiations. Drawing on negotiation scholarship from both legal and non-legal perspectives, the readings, lectures and discussions will provide students with strategies and techniques for negotiating more effectively and a framework for analyzing their own negotiating ability.

Patent Law, 3 credits (LAW 798A)
All lawyers should understand patent law, both now and in the future. Patents spur and protect innovation. They hold the key for entrepreneurial success. They can make you rich. They can make you poor. They can make you famous. They can get you thrown in jail. They can help save the world. This course will help you understand patents’ impact and importance for all types of clients and industries, thereby helping make your future clients and enterprises more successful and secure. No prior intellectual property interest or science background is necessary, although the course will help sharpen your interest in IP if you already have it. And if you don’t yet have it, here’s a great chance to get it and get in on a cutting-edge, vitally important area of law. A final (most likely take-home) exam and at least one other graded task during the term are anticipated. Hands-on, fun, in-class activities that simulate (a) helping clients get patent protection and (b) guiding them through Patent Law are guaranteed.

Pretrial Litigation, 3-4 credits (LAW 802)
This course covers the major steps in the pretrial litigation process. Topics covered include litigation planning, fact investigation, legal research, pleading, discovery, pretrial motions, and settlement strategy. This course is recommended for third-year students who have a working knowledge of evidence.

Prisoners’ Rights, 2 credits (LAW 829)
This course examines imprisonment of convicted offenders with a focus on the government’s power to punish by imprisonment, the limits of that power, and the responsibilities the government assumes when exercising it. Primary emphasis will be on topics related to prisoner civil rights litigation including the history of prisoner litigation, procedural matters, prisoner rights, conditions of confinement, and access to courts. Emerging topics in current prisoner litigation will be addressed.

Privacy Law, 2 or 3 credits (LAW 846A)
This course will examine the current legal, political, social and technological aspects of US privacy law. Topics will include: traditional privacy theory and torts; contracts; commercial and financial privacy; medical privacy; cyberlaw privacy (i.e., metadata, cookies, cybersecurity; revenge pornography); governmental privacy (i.e., surveillance, freedom of information, leakers like Julian Assange and Edward Snowden); workplace privacy (i.e., algorithmic decision-making, trade secrecy); and international developments (i.e., the European Data Protection Directive, "right to be forgotten"). This course may permit synchronous participation online consistent with Law School technical requirements for such courses.

Real Estate Transactions, 3 credits (LAW 728)
This course deals with residential and commercial real estate transactions and the different steps in a real estate transaction from the lawyer's initial contact with the client to the final closing of the transaction. Topics to be covered include: the market context for real estate transactions; purchase and sale agreements; the work of realtors; listing agreements with realtors; title insurance; financing arrangements; surveys and descriptions; deeds; mortgages; closing documents involved in a real estate closing; planned unit developments; condominiums; leases; and the ethical responsibilities of the attorney in representing the parties to a typical transaction.

Regulatory Compliance Survey, 3 credits (LAW ____)
This course is designed for law students who are interested in strategic and tactical legal transactions that influence an organization's state and/or federal regulatory compliance. The purpose of the course is to provide students with a survey level overview of the processes and content of an effective, value-added compliance program within an organization. This is important because a compliance program is part of enterprise cultures that encourage ethical conduct. Lawyering skills are well suited to the tasks of implementing compliance initiatives in support of the goals of an enterprise. To meet these needs, this course will address: Essential foundations of a compliance program; Structures of effective compliance programs; the role of compliance in risk management; the role of compliance in meeting an organization's larger vision, mission, and goals. Upon completion of the course, students should be more conversant about regulatory compliance and have a deeper appreciation of the inextricable link between compliance and legal needs of an organization. Additionally, students should become aware of the vast job opportunities in the compliance field.

Remedies, 3 credits (LAW 795)
This course examines the various remedies available to claimants in civil litigation. It will cover damages, including compensatory, punitive and statutory damages. Equitable remedies such as injunctions and accountings will also be covered. Restitutionary remedies will also be addressed. This course may be offered in person or online, using weekly practice problems and online office hours. The Law School's attendance policy applies in full effect to courses offered online.

Securities Regulation, 3 credits (LAW 713)
A study of United States and state legislation and regulations affecting the issuance and trading of corporate securities. The course will focus particularly on the provisions of the 1933 Securities Act and the 1934 Securities Exchange Act. It will also examine the development of the Securities Exchange Commission and its responsibilities and powers in regulating securities. Business Associations is a prerequisite to this course.

Small Business and Entrepreneurship Clinic, 3-6 credits (LAW 767)
The Small Business and Entrepreneurship Clinic is a law office which provides business-related legal services to entrepreneurs, small business owners, and non-profits who would not otherwise be able to afford legal representation. Students participating in the clinic will develop analytical, planning, editorial and counseling skills in the context of client projects and reality-grounded coursework. Services provided by the clinic include, but are not limited to, choice of entity advising, organizational document drafting and review, contract review and drafting, employment and human resource advising, regulatory compliance, drafting financing documentation, non-profit formation, and application for tax-exempt status. To be eligible for the clinic, students must have completed all of the first-year requirements and have undertaken Professional Responsibility and Business Associations. Business Drafting, though not required, is strongly encouraged. Students are required to apply for NC State Bar Limited Practice Certification. All clinical courses at the law school are subject to a “no drop” policy. This means that after the course registration period has closed, students will be permitted to drop a clinical course only with the permission of the clinical faculty.

Sports Law, 2 credits (LAW 792)
This course touches on various issues in sports law, from free agency, to unions, to Title IX, to drug testing and the role of agents. These principles cut across subject matter domains, including contracts law, labor law, evidence, administrative law and constitutional law. The course elicits basic principles involved in professional and college sports and applies them to real world situations.

State and Local Government, 2 credits (LAW 793)
A study of the creation and the powers and responsibilities of the state and its branches of government and various agencies, counties, cities, and other municipal corporations and their officers and citizens.

Trade Secrets, 2 credits (LAW 805)
This course examines trade secret law, often viewed as a fourth intellectual property regime, by addressing the law and theory applicable to the protection of confidential and proprietary business information ranging from formulas to customer lists. It will include the common law development of trade secrets as well as the philosophical underpinnings in contract, property, and tort law, and the development to the present through the Restatement and the Uniform Trade Secrets Act. It will also examine the relationships between federal and state trade secret law, the relationships between trade secret law and the other three intellectual property regimes, and the relationships between trade secret law and other areas of law, such as law governing business relationships and government operations.

Trial Practice and Procedure, 3 credits (LAW 781)
Trial Practice and Procedure (TPP) is designed to develop basic advocacy skills for use in courtrooms and other legal settings. In the TPP course, students first learn and perform the various aspects of the trial of a lawsuit, including the development of a theory and theme, opening statements, direct and cross examination of lay witnesses, the use and introduction of demonstrative evidence, and closing arguments. Skills are practiced in weekly courtroom simulations. All simulations are done in a small group setting; some simulations may be videotaped. Students are also required to prepare for and conduct a trial to verdict. The final trial serves as the course’s final exam. TPP is a three-credit course, meeting weekly. The TPP course also includes two intensive “workshop” sessions which will be scheduled during other available times, subject to the schedules of students and faculty. Evidence is not a prerequisite for TPP; however, it is strongly recommended that students in TPP have either completed Evidence or be enrolled in Evidence while enrolled in TPP.

Understanding Business Operations, 2 credits (LAW 834)
The most successful business attorneys understand not only the legal challenges confronting their clients but also understand (at least at a basic level) the business operational issues their clients face. Understanding Business Operations is a basic business course for law school students and is appropriate for those who seek to understand business operations as practiced by potential clients and client organizations. This course provides a broad introduction to the concepts, methods, activities and philosophy of contemporary business in the world today and is suitable for those individuals who have little or no formal business/accounting training. The course will cover the fundamental nature of business operations (e.g., the nature of contemporary business, management, marketing, accounting, finance, operations, e-commerce, etc.) while introducing the student to the language, principles and environment of business. Business Associations is a prerequisite to this course.

Wills and Trusts, 3 credits (LAW 770)
This course explores the gratuitous transfer of property at death, including intestate and testate succession. It also examines the nature, establishment, management, and termination of inter vivos and testamentary trusts.

Wills Drafting Clinic (In-House), 3-6 credits (LAW 773)
The Wills In-House Clinic is a learning-by-doing class with intensive instruction units, followed by actual supervised practice, under the Rules of the NC State Bar. Students receive intensive instruction encompassing necessary knowledge and skills and will be assigned to represent low income homeowners, referred to the clinic by Habitat for Humanity of Greater Greensboro and LANC. Students will interview clients, draft documents to meet the needs of clients, conference with clients to explain and review documents and oversee the self-proving signing protocol for those documents. Enrollment limited to students who have (1) completed at least 43 law school credit hours; (2) successfully completed Professional Responsibility; (3) successfully completed Wills and Trusts; and (4) are certified by the Dean as being of good character with requisite legal ability and training to perform in the clinical context. Wills & Trusts and eligibility for NC State Bar Student Practice Certification are prerequisites for this course. All clinical courses at the law school are subject to a “no drop” policy. This means that after the course registration period has closed, students will be permitted to drop a clinical course only with the permission of the clinical faculty.
III. Student Governance

Student Bar Association

The Student Bar Association (SBA) is the official representative body of the students. All students enrolled at Elon Law are automatically members of the SBA. The SBA seeks to benefit all members by furthering student interests and sponsoring events of both an academic and social nature. The SBA’s Mission Statement reads: “Our Mission is to create a forum for student leadership, community service, and social networking to support the University’s goals of engaged learning, professionalism and civic participation through open communication with Elon students, Elon faculty, and the community.”

The SBA is funded by the Law School on a per capita basis. The SBA is the governing body that serves as the umbrella organization and funding source for other law school organizations and committees.

Honor Council

The Honor Council is responsible for the administration of the procedures set forth in the Honor Code. The Honor Council also is responsible for the interpretation of the Code.

Contact:
E-mail: lawhonorcouncil@elon.edu

Other Student Organizations

Elon Law’s student body, with its wide variety of interests outside of the classroom, has developed numerous student organizations. These organizations reflect students’ social, political, service or professional interests and enrich students’ educational experience with workshops, panels, concerts, networking opportunities and conferences throughout the academic year. Through involvement with student organizations, students find connections to further their career and personal goals. A complete list of current student organizations is available on the Law School’s website.

Any student interested in starting a new organization should contact an SBA representative to find out more about the approval process.
IV. Leadership, Fellows, Clinical and Co-Curricular Programs, and Pro Bono Opportunities

Leadership Program

Elon University School of Law is committed to developing successful lawyers who are also leaders – in their firms, in the legal profession, and in the community and society at large. The school’s goal is to develop civic-minded lawyer-leaders who throughout their careers are engaged in improving the profession and community for the public good.

Throughout their time at Elon, students will learn about the theories of leadership in the classroom, as well as the practice of leadership through simulations and experiential opportunities.

Preceptor Program

One of Elon Law’s distinctions is the Preceptor Program, through which more than 70 experienced lawyers from a broad range of practice settings mentor law students.

Each first-year student is assigned to a Preceptor at the beginning of the academic year. Students are encouraged to connect with their preceptor through informational interviews and shadowing opportunities.

Preceptors often invite students to accompany them to observe trials, client interviews, depositions, and mediations. While primarily involved with first-year law students, Preceptors regularly interact with second- and third-year law students, as well as with alumni of the Law School.

Leadership Fellows Program

As part of the Law School’s mission to infuse its legal education with an emphasis on leadership development, the school formed the Leadership Fellows program in 2009.

To be considered for the Leadership Fellows program, applicants to the law School must complete a separate application for the Leadership Fellows Program. Students invited into the Leadership Fellows Program demonstrate exceptional leadership through community, collegiate, military, or other leadership experiences, as well as academic achievement. They also identify, through an essay in the Leadership Fellows application process, how the leadership skills they have acquired could be further developed and utilized at the Law School, in the practice of law, and in their communities.

Leadership Fellows are expected to maintain a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.67, assist administration and faculty with the Leadership Lecture Series and other leadership programming, and undertake a Capstone project during their third-year of study.

Advocacy Fellows Program

Elon Law’s Advocacy Fellows program is designed to provide students with the essential knowledge and practical, hands-on experience and skills necessary to become exceptional trial and/or appellate advocates on behalf of their clients.

Applicants to the Law School must submit a separate application to be considered for the Advocacy Fellows Program. Rising 2L students may also apply for the Program. The Program seeks students with a demonstrated interest in advocacy, including experience in various advocacy settings. Advocacy Fellows are expected to maintain a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.67, participate in activities sponsored by the Advocacy Fellows Program, and take specific courses identified by the advocacy faculty as essential for a solid grounding in advocacy law.

Business Fellows Program

The Business Fellows Program seeks to encourage and cultivate students’ interest in business law. The goal of the Program is to prepare Business Fellows to represent a variety of business clients, from small, start-up companies to large multinationals.

Applicants to the Law School must submit a separate application to be considered for the Business Fellows Program. Rising 2L students may also apply for the Program. The Program seeks students with strong business backgrounds (either based on their previous academic studies or through work experience) and a manifested interest in pursuing a career in business or business law. Business Fellows are expected to maintain a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.67, participate in activities sponsored by the Business Fellows Program, and take specific courses identified by the business law faculty as essential for a solid grounding in business law.

Clinical Programs

Elon Law’s clinical programs put legal theory into practice, providing students with essential lawyering skills through casework management, research, writing, client interaction and courtroom advocacy, while also helping individuals in need.

Humanitarian Immigration Clinic
Elon University School of Law established the Humanitarian Immigration Law Clinic in December of 2010, allowing students, under the supervision of law faculty, to provide free legal services to low-income refugees and asylum seekers in North Carolina.

Under the supervision of law faculty, Elon Law students manage all aspects of refugee and asylee cases, meeting with clients, performing intake interviews, analyzing cases for legal remedy, gathering evidence, drafting and filing applications and briefs, and maintaining client correspondence. Students also observe and participate in hearings before federal administrative agencies and courts.

Small Business and Entrepreneurship Clinic
The Law School’s Small Business and Entrepreneurship Clinic is a law office which provides business-related legal services to entrepreneurs small business owners, and non-profits. The clinic’s office is located in the Greensboro Chamber of Commerce’s Collab facility, located adjacent to the Law School. Services provided by the clinic include, but are not limited to, choice of entity advising, organizational document drafting and review, contract review and drafting, employment and human resource advising, regulatory compliance, drafting financing documentation, intellectual property, non-profit formation, and application for tax-exempt status for non-profits.

Wills Drafting Clinic
Elon Law’s In-House Wills Drafting Clinic gives student lawyers, who have their Limited Practice Certification from the NC State Bar, the opportunity to represent low-income homeowners referred by Habitat for Humanity of Greater Greensboro and Legal Aid of North Carolina. Student lawyers interview clients, draft documents to meet the needs of clients, meet with clients to explain and review documents, and oversee the self-proving signing protocol for those documents.

The wills drafting course operates as a law firm. Student lawyers alternate serving as the firm’s managing partner. In firm meetings, student lawyers lead discussion of ethical dilemmas related to wills drafting and engage the class in a detailed exploration of legal issues surrounding the transfer of property at death in North Carolina.

Guardian Ad Litem Clinic
In the Guardian Ad Litem Clinic, students work under the supervision of a faculty member and the Guardian Ad Litem Appellate Counsel in North Carolina to represent the best interests of abused and neglected children in appeals of juvenile matters in the North Carolina Court of Appeals and North Carolina Supreme Court. The course is ideal for those interested in family law and/or juvenile justice, as well as trial and appellate advocacy.

Coverdell Fellows Program
Elon Law’s Paul D. Coverdell Fellows Program offers two returned Peace Corps volunteers a scholarship in the amount of $31,500 toward Elon Law's total program tuition. Fellows also will receive top placements in public interest law firms or organizations during their second year of study through Elon Law's nationally recognized Residency-in-Practice Program. Elon Law is the first law school in the South to offer Coverdell Fellowships in partnership with the Peace Corps. To be considered for a Coverdell Fellowship, applicants to Elon Law with experience in the Peace Corps should note their service on their applications.

Moot Court Program
The Moot Court Board at Elon Law is comprised of students who have excelled in the school’s annual intramural moot court competition. The top 20 competitors in the annual competition are invited to membership on the Board.

Members of the Board join teams coached by the Law School's faculty, competing in interscholastic competitions with other law schools throughout the nation, including the ABA National Appellate Advocacy Competition and the National Moot Court Competition.

Representative competitions include, and the Craven Competition at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

Members of the Board who fulfill their service requirements are eligible to receive one academic credit for each interscholastic competition in which they compete, up to a total of two academic credits.

The Moot Court Director registers the school’s teams for moot court and all other external skills-based competitions except mock trial competitions. Students may not register the school or themselves for an external competition without prior permission from the Director.

The Moot Court Board hosts the annual intramural moot court competition, giving rising second-year Elon Law students an opportunity to showcase their written and oral appellate advocacy skills. The Board also plays a key role in coordinating the annual Billings, Exum & Frye National Moot Court Competition.

Mock Trial Program
Elon University School of Law participates in two national trial advocacy competitions, creating an opportunity for second and third year students to expand their advocacy skills. The Mock Trial program, which started at Elon Law in 2010, allows students to participate on an Advocacy Board. The Advocacy Board plans for regional and national competitions and conducts an intramural competition which determines selection for the Advocacy Board. Students on the Board may participate in one of two national competitions: the Texas Young Lawyers Association national criminal trial competition and the American Association of Justice national civil trial competition. Students participating on national competition teams receive academic credit for their work on the team.

The Mock Trial Director registers the school’s teams for all mock trial competitions. Students may not register the school or themselves for an external trial competition without prior permission from the Director.

Pro Bono Opportunities
In keeping with the legal profession’s obligation to serve the poor and under-represented, the Law School’s service initiatives offer students opportunities to develop and apply lawyering skills, as well as to experience working for and studying in the public interest. From student and faculty participation in pro bono work to community service programs and projects, the Elon Law community is dedicated to fostering a service ethic.

There are several pro bono and community service projects sponsored by student organizations designed to provide support, services, and assistance to populations in need throughout the Greensboro area and beyond. All students are eligible to volunteer for community outreach and advocacy projects. For more information regarding pro bono service at Elon Law, please visit the Pro Bono Board’s website. Students interested in participating in pro bono opportunities can also send an email to probono@elon.edu.
V. Admission to the Law School

Law School students and faculty are fully and constructively engaged in the optimum development of each student’s knowledge, skills and personal attributes, and in the improvement of our system of justice. The Law School evaluates applicants’ potential for academic success and professional growth, focusing on their demonstrated achievement, aptitude for the study and practice of law, and interest in civic engagement and leadership. Because achievement of Elon’s educational mission mandates that its Law School be relatively small, all of the well-qualified applicants who apply to Elon Law may not be accepted for admission.

General Application Procedures

The Law School enrolls first-year students only in August.

To be considered for admission, all applicants (regular decision or early decision) must follow this procedure:

1. Application and Fee. The applicant must submit a law school application, along with the $50.00 application fee. This fee is not refundable and is not credited toward other fees in the event of admission. (This fee may be waived at the discretion of the administration).
2. Law School Admission Test (LSAT). Each applicant must take the Law School Admission Test (LSAT), which is administered by the Law School Admission Council (LSAC). A Credential Assembly Service (CAS) Report will be requested by the Law School. The results of a test taken more than five years prior to the date for which the applicant seeks admission will not be considered in the absence of unusual circumstances. Applicants may contact LSAC at (215) 968-1001 or www.lsac.org. The Elon University School of Law LSAC code number is 5500.
3. LSAC’s Credential Assembly Service (CAS). Each applicant must register with the CAS, so that Elon Law will receive a current Law School Report. It is the applicant’s responsibility to meet all of LSAC’s requirements and to ensure that Elon Law receives a completed CAS report.
4. Resume. Applicants who have a resume should include it with their application. Even if a resume is submitted, however, the applicant must still respond to all questions on the application.
5. Letters of Recommendation. The applicant must provide at least two (2) letters of recommendation. It is recommended that these letters be forwarded to CAS, which will then forward them to the Law School. A letter may be sent directly from a recommender to the Law School when it addresses an applicant’s fitness for Elon’s particular program.
6. Interview. The law school conducts interviews of candidates who are competitive for admission. This is part of the school’s holistic approach to evaluating candidates and allows the candidate and law school to learn more about each other than brochures, web sites, or application documents can reveal. Applicants who are invited for an interview will meet with a faculty member or administrator. In-person visits to the law school are preferred, as they allow the applicant to tour the facility with a student admissions ambassador, speak with current students, potentially sit in on a class and get a true sense of the Elon Law community. Recognizing that many applicants are located in other states, the law school also offers telephone and Skype interviews. Every applicant who is ultimately admitted will have an interview, though every applicant will not necessarily be invited for an interview. All applicants and prospective students, whether invited for an interview or not, are welcome to visit the law school to speak to an admissions professional and/or a student admissions ambassador.

An applicant who has been academically dismissed from a law school must wait at least one year following this dismissal to apply for admission to Elon Law.

The application and supporting materials should be submitted through LSAC. Additional application materials or addenda specific to Elon Law may be submitted to the Elon Law Admissions Office, 201 North Greene Street, Greensboro, North Carolina 27401. Phone: (336) 279-9200; Fax: (336) 279-8199; E-mail: lawadmissions@elon.edu. Requests for more information and questions should also be directed to this office.

The Law School will attempt to notify an applicant if a required item is missing from the application file. However, the applicant remains ultimately responsible for ensuring that the application file is completed in a timely fashion.

Elon Law applicants are under a continuing obligation after the submission of their application to notify the law school of any changes in the information provided in their application responses. See the Character & Fitness Requirements for more information.

Applicants should retain copies of their law school applications, since many state boards of law examiners request copies of applications in connection with taking a state bar exam.

All materials submitted in support of an application become the property of the Law School.

Character and Fitness Requirements

In addition to a bar examination, there are character, fitness, and other qualifications for admission to the bar in every U.S. jurisdiction. Applicants are encouraged to determine the requirements for any jurisdiction in which they intend to seek admission by contacting the jurisdiction. Addresses for all relevant agencies are available through the National Conference of Bar Examiners.

The law school application asks questions related to your conduct in the past - academic discipline, criminal charges, and even what may seem like minor traffic violations. These questions are the first step in assessing your character and fitness for the legal profession, and how you respond to them can have important implications not just for your admission to law school, but for your admission to the practice of law. Applicants should answer all questions on their application for admission completely and accurately. Full and honest disclosure is critical in the law school admission process and later in the licensing process. In addition, Elon Law applicants and students are under a continuing obligation, after the submission of their application and through graduation from the law school, to notify the law school of any changes in their applications and specifically to report any conduct that would fall within the scope of the application questions related to character and fitness, even if such conduct occurred after an applicant is admitted or enrolls at Elon Law.
As part of your bar exam application, many states ask that you or your law school submit a copy of your law school application. The State Bar or Board of Law Examiners will compare your answers to its questions with those provided in your law school application. Discrepancies can result in adverse consequences, so it is imperative that the information you provide on your law school application is accurate and complete. If your answers on your law school application are inconsistent with those on your bar exam application, the Board of Law Examiners will likely initiate a more intensive review of your file. Should that occur, you may suffer sanctions, including: revocation of law school admission; delay in certification of fitness; or the Board may determine that you are not fit to practice law, which means you will be unable to sit for the bar exam and, subsequently, practice law. Acceptance by Elon Law does not guarantee certification by any state's Board of Law Examiners.

Every state has its own process for evaluating the character, fitness, and other qualifications for admission to the Bar of that state, and we encourage you as an applicant to law school to determine what those requirements are in the state in which you intend to practice. You can find detailed information about requirements in various states in the Comprehensive Guide to Bar Admission Requirements, published by the National Conference of Bar Examiners, or you can contact the board of law examiners in the jurisdiction where you plan to seek admission to practice.

If you have questions about the character and fitness questions or the Elon Law application for admission generally, please contact the Office of Admissions at 336.279.9200.

Regular Decision - Rolling Admission Option

Under this option, applicants will be considered and admission decisions made periodically throughout the year. Those applicants who select the Regular Decision-Rolling Admission option, who do not select an option, or who applied Early Decision but did not fulfill its requirements or whose decision was deferred, will be considered under the Regular Decision - Rolling Admission option. Generally, applications are considered in the order that they are completed, so early applications are encouraged. Applicants whose credentials fall squarely within the school's ranges for admission or denial of admission will likely receive a decision within two to six weeks after their application is completed. Applicants whose credentials do not fall squarely within these ranges, but whose applications are competitive for admission, may be held for further review. The Admissions Committee makes every effort to announce its decision on completed applications within a reasonable time.

Applicants admitted under the Regular Decision-Rolling Admission option must submit a non-refundable deposit of $250 by April 15, or within 2 weeks of their admission, whichever is later. A second $500 non-refundable deposit must then be submitted by May 15. These deposits will be credited toward fall trimester tuition.

Early Decision Option

The Early Decision option is available for prospective students who, after careful consideration of their future plans and a thorough investigation of a variety of law schools, have concluded that Elon Law will provide them with the legal education that best fulfills their needs and expectations. Applicants who are certain that Elon Law is their first-choice institution are encouraged to apply as Early Decision candidates.
Early Decision candidates must submit their applications by December 1, and all items necessary for completion of the application must be received by December 15. Only completed applications are considered for admission. An application is considered complete when all required documents have been received including: the application itself, the application fee, a CAS report, the personal statement, two letters of recommendation, and the character fitness statement (if necessary). Early Decision candidates must take the LSAT no later than December to be considered for this option. Applicants should also consider, and incorporate into their application timelines, the time it will take for their CAS reports to be processed and transmitted to the Law School.

Early Decision candidates agree that they will not submit an early decision application to any other law school this year. Early Decision candidates will be notified by January 10 with a decision. Decision options for Early Decision candidates are admitted, denied, or deferred for further review. Applications deferred for further review are kept active with all other applications under the Regular Decision cycle. Some candidates deferred for further review at the Early Decision stage may ultimately be offered admission through the Regular Decision cycle. If an Early Decision applicant is denied admission or the decision is deferred for further review, the applicant may continue being considered for admission to law schools to which he/she had previously applied and may initiate applications to additional law schools.

Early Decision candidates agree that, if admitted to Elon Law under the Early Decision option, they will withdraw any pending applications to other law schools and not submit any additional applications. The accepted Early Decision candidate will submit a non-refundable deposit of $750 to Elon University within two weeks of admission. This deposit will be credited toward tuition.

Applicants admitted under the Early Decision option will be notified of the receipt of a law school scholarship prior to their deposit deadline; however, other financial aid awards, including loan packages, will not be determined until later in the spring.

The Law School reserves the right to provide other law schools with the names of applicants accepted under its Early Decision option.

Procedure for Accepted Applicants

In addition to submitting the enrollment deposits described above, all accepted applicants must submit an Enrollment Confirmation Form and scholarship agreement (if applicable).

Generally, applicants must have received a bachelor’s degree from an accredited institution prior to enrollment in the School of Law. During the application phase, applicants will submit their post-secondary school transcripts to LSAC, and the School of Law will receive copies of these transcripts from LSAC. While this is sufficient for the application phase, accepted applicants must ensure LSAC has received a final and official transcript indicating the award of a bachelor’s degree prior to enrolling in Elon Law. If the applicant is a candidate for his or her undergraduate degree in May or June, he or she should wait to request the transcript until after receiving the degree. Per ABA Standards and Elon Law policies, an applicant must have received their bachelor’s degree, and the law school must receive a final and official transcript indicating the award of such degree, prior to the applicant’s enrollment at Elon Law. In no event will an applicant be allowed to continue as a student at Elon Law if he or she has not submitted their final and official transcript indicating the award of a bachelor’s degree by October 5 of the fall the applicant enrolls at Elon Law; a student who has not submitted such transcript by October 5 will be withdrawn from Elon Law.
In rare instances, the school may, consistent with ABA Standards, admit exceptionally well-qualified applicants who have successfully completed three-fourths of the work acceptable for a bachelor’s degree, e.g., through 3-2.5 year programs with undergraduate institutions.

Transfer/Visiting Applicants

Elon Law accepts applications for transfer and visiting students. In addition to complying with the general admission procedures, a transfer applicant must submit a letter of good standing and a transcript from their current law school, one of which should indicate the applicant’s current class rank. A student from a law school approved by the American Bar Association may be admitted to advanced standing as a candidate for a degree.

The School of Law requires 86 credit hours for graduation. Transfer students are generally required to complete five full-time trimesters in residence at Elon Law and receive at least 56 credits toward the JD degree at the law school. Up to 30 academic credits may be given for work at another law school. Course credit is generally awarded for work completed with a grade of C or higher. A transfer applicant who has been academically dismissed from a law school must wait at least one year following this dismissal to apply for admission to Elon Law. Students ineligible for readmission at another law school may not transfer to Elon.

Transfer students may choose to participate in full intramural Moot Court Competition and may be eligible for the Elon Law Review subject to the decision of the Review’s Executive Board. International transfer applicants must comply with additional application requirements detailed on the law school web site.

With the approval of the Admissions Committee, it may be possible for students from other law schools to matriculate at Elon as visiting students. Visiting students must have the permission of their home law school and must be in good academic standing there. They are limited to one year in residence at Elon. Visiting students will not be eligible for an Elon degree. In addition to complying with the general admission procedures, a visiting applicant must submit a letter of good standing and permission to visit and a transcript from their home law school, one of which should indicate the applicant’s current class rank.

International Applicants

In addition to complying with the general admission procedures, international applicants must submit their foreign transcripts through the LSAC Credential Assembly Service (CAS). If applicants have completed any postsecondary work outside the United States (including its territories) or Canada, they must use this service for the evaluation of their foreign transcripts. The one exception to this requirement is if they have completed the foreign work through a study abroad, consortium, or exchange program sponsored by a United States or Canadian institution, and the work is clearly indicated as such on the home campus transcript. This service is included in the CAS subscription fee. A Foreign Credential Evaluation will be completed by the American Association of Collegiate Registrars and Admissions Officers (AACRAO), which will be incorporated into the CAS report. If the Admissions Committee determines that an applicant must submit a TOEFL score, the applicant must contact the Educational Testing Service (ETS) and request that the TOEFL score be sent to LSAC. LSAC’s TOEFL code for the CAS is 0058. The applicant’s TOEFL score will be included in the Foreign Credential Evaluation document that will be included in the CAS law school report.
To use the CAS, applicants should log in to their online LSAC account and follow the instructions for registering for the service. A Transcript Request Form should be printed out for each institution and sent promptly to them. More time is usually required to receive foreign transcripts. Questions about the CAS should be directed to LSAC at (215) 968-1001, or LSACInfo@LSAC.org.

Admitted international students are eligible to receive scholarship awards from the law school. Due to U.S. government regulations, federally-sponsored financial aid is not available to international students. However, international students with an eligible co-borrower may apply for alternative loans with private lenders.
VI. Financial Information

Tuition

Pursuit of a legal education requires a significant financial investment; however, with proper planning and use of available resources, such as the scholarships, loans, and part-time employment described in this chapter, it can be affordable.

Tuition for full-time, first-year students entering in August 2019 is:

2019-20
- August Term: $6,340
- Fall Trimester: $15,380
- Winter Trimester: $15,380
- Spring Trimester: $15,380

2020-21
- Fall Trimester: $15,380
- Winter Trimester: $15,380
- Spring Trimester: $15,380

Fall 2021
- Fall Trimester: $15,380

Total Program $114,000

There is no part-time tuition available for upper-level or first-year students.

All scholarships (academic, donor, or service) and Law School grants are intended for full-time enrollment. Reduction in course load below the minimum required for full-time status will result in reductions or cancellation of awarded scholarships.

All charges are due as billed. Students unable to pay the entire bill at that time must make alternative arrangements with the Bursar’s Office.

Indirect Expenses 2019-2020

Indirect expenses are those not actually charged by Elon Law. The amount a student spends on these indirect expenses is within the student’s control. The numbers below represent the maximum amount a student may receive in financial aid for these indirect costs. Many, if not most, students will incur less expense than this based on the choices they make, and students are encouraged to be as conservative as possible in their spending and particularly their borrowing to fund these expenses.
Indirect costs will depend greatly on the choices a student makes. It is important that students consider all choices carefully, e.g., housing location, whether to have a roommate with whom to share costs, whether to take advantage of public transportation, such as the free city bus pass provided by the law school rather than driving, whether to park in the free parking lot provided by the law school, rather than spending the allotted $85.00 per month to rent a parking space in the city parking deck across from the school, etc. Living expenses can vary significantly according to these lifestyle choices. These in turn impact on costs of attendance and future loan debt. The chart below incorporates estimated annual costs.

Tuition Payments

Students are billed for the next term's tuition a few weeks before the term begins, and tuition payments for each term are due on or before the date of registration or the first day of classes for the term. Students may visit https://ebill.elon.edu to view their account online and make a payment. Payments may also be mailed to the Bursar's Office at P.O. Box 398, Elon NC 27244.

Financial Aid/Financial Planning

Assistance may be in the form of scholarships, grants, loans, or employment.
The Office of Financial Planning is located on the Elon University Campus, but does hold weekly office hours at the Law School. This office assists students in obtaining funds to meet their educational costs and living expenses while in law school. Many students borrow funds to finance their legal education. To be eligible for Unsubsidized Federal Stafford Loans, applicants must complete the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA). Elon’s federal school code is 002927. Law students may be eligible to borrow additional funds through the Federal GradPlus loan program. Applicants should complete the FAFSA as soon as possible after October 1st. It is important that a student’s FAFSA data be received and processed by the federal processors by March 1 (preceding fall registration), Elon Law’s priority deadline for the Federal Perkins Loans. After that time, campus-based funds may be depleted. For more detailed information on application procedures or financial aid, please go to the financial aid section of Elon Law’s website: http://www.elon.edu/e-web/law/admissions/FinancialPlanning.xhtml. The FAFSA may be obtained online at www.fafsa.ed.gov.

Admitted international students are eligible to receive scholarship awards from the law school. Due to U.S. government regulations, federally-sponsored financial aid is not available to international students. However, international students with an eligible co-borrower may apply for alternative loans with private lenders.

Questions regarding financial aid should be directed to the Office of Financial Planning:

E-mail: lorenzet@elon.edu

Scholarships & Fellowships

Most scholarships awarded by the Law School are merit-based. Merit scholarships, which range from $5,000 to full tuition, are awarded based on applicants’ potential for outstanding contributions to the Law School, the legal profession and society. All admitted students are automatically considered for merit-based scholarships, and students selected to receive these scholarships will generally be notified within two to four weeks of their admission.

Continuing students may apply to increase their scholarship amounts after spring grades have been posted. These scholarships and grants are based on the availability of funds.

Students selected as Leadership, Business or Advocacy Fellows will receive additional scholarship awards for the academic year, as well as awards covering the tuition cost and a portion of living expenses for a summer externship experience.

Coverdell Fellowships are available for returning Peace Corps volunteers. These Fellowships provide scholarship awards in addition to the school’s merit scholarship program.

Veterans Educational Benefits

In addition to the scholarships and financial aid generally available to law students, veterans of the United States military may be eligible to receive educational assistance based on their military service. Such benefits may include the Montgomery GI Bill, the Post-9/11 GI Bill and the Yellow Ribbon Program. To discuss this potential, applicants and students may contact the VA Certifying official at Elon University, Courtney Smith, in the Financial Planning Office, at (336) 278-7640 or Employment Programs

Student research assistantships are provided to selected second and third-year students with excellent academic records. The program enables students to work closely with faculty members engaged in significant legal research. Research assistants are paid on an hourly basis.

Outside Employment: The Law School requires students to devote substantially all of their working hours to the study of law. This means that an upper level, full-time student may not work in excess of 20 hours per week while attending law school. Entering students may not accept any outside employment during their first year, with the exception of approved Library student workers in the Spring Trimester (see “Work While Attending Law School” above). Please refer to the “Work While Attending Law School” section of this handbook for further guidelines.

Second and third-year students often benefit enormously from employment as law clerks, not only in terms of their finances, but also by adding practical experience to their school education and strengthening their resumes for future employment. However, full-time students must limit their outside employment in accordance with the restrictions set forth above.

The Office of Career and Student Development is available to provide individual career counseling, networking opportunities, job search advice, and other career coaching for students and alumni. Students are required to meet with the OCSD at least once per year, and to attend relevant lunchtime career panels and lunch-and-learns.
VII. Academic Programs & Policies

Curriculum

General Information

In the 2014-2015 academic year, the Law School adopted an innovative new curriculum that became effective with the class entering in August 2015 (the Class of December 2017). Under that new curriculum, the Law School’s standard course of study shifted from a traditional 6-semester, 3-year program to a 7-trimester, 2.5-year program. Current first-year students will have a 4-week August Term, followed by a 12-week Fall Trimester, 10-week Winter Trimester, and 10-week Spring Trimester.

In addition to the required first-year curriculum, all students must take a number of upper level required courses. These upper-level required courses provide students with the knowledge and skills necessary to pass the bar examination and to practice successfully, as well as keeping students engaged throughout their law school careers.

Elon Law’s curriculum provides instruction in the fundamentals of law, including instruction in legal writing, professional responsibility, skills training, and oral advocacy. In the tradition of Elon University (the "University"), the Law School curriculum also emphasizes active student engagement and leadership studies. The curriculum is designed to provide students with a rigorous intellectual foundation to become successful lawyers. In addition to the traditional doctrinal and skills courses, Elon provides instruction in speaking and presentation skills, study skills, time management, and leadership development.

The Learning Objectives for Elon Law’s curriculum can be found on the Law School’s website at https://www.elon.edu/e/law/academics/program-characteristics.html.

The Law School’s academic program is enhanced by the proximity to Greensboro’s legal and judicial offices and through the program’s close relationship with the North Carolina Business Court. Instruction takes place in a technology-enriched environment and is complemented with frequent interactions with local professionals.

Graduation Requirements

General Juris Doctor (J.D.) Requirements

The Law School requires 86 credit hours for graduation. Students must pass all required courses in order to graduate. At least 64 of the 86 credit hours required for graduation must be earned by attendance in regularly-scheduled law school class sessions.¹ This does not include externships, residencies, moot court, trial competitions, law review, directed research programs, or courses taken in parts of the University outside the Law School for which credit toward the J.D. degree is granted.

¹ If approved by the Associate Dean for Academic Affairs, these 64 hours may include coursework at another law school for which a student receives credit toward the J.D. degree by the Law School.
Full-time students are required to take a minimum of 10 credit hours each trimester and are limited to a maximum of 14 credit hours per trimester. The Law School’s academic year consists of more than 140 days on which classes are regularly scheduled. The academic year is approximately ten months long, consisting of an August Term (1Ls only), Fall Trimester, Winter Trimester and Spring Trimester.

Each student must also fulfill a Communications Requirement after the first year. The Communications Requirement is intended to develop communication skills and provide the student interim feedback on those skills. The Requirement may be filled by the completion of a law review note, competition on Moot Court or Mock Trial, completion of a Leadership Fellow Capstone Project, or a course designated by the Associate Dean for Academic Affairs as a “Communications Course.”

Each student is also encouraged to complete a Bridge to Practice Course after the student’s residency. The Bridge Course may involve an extended simulation, a field component, or a live-client experience in the relevant practice area and could involve other educational approaches at the professor’s discretion. Bridge courses will provide students opportunities to: (1) exercise professional judgment; (2) evaluate legal strategies; (3) build on and apply legal knowledge from other courses to novel factual situations; (4) synthesize legal knowledge from across doctrinal areas; and (5) practice advanced oral and written communication skills. The Associate Dean for Academic Affairs will designate which courses count as Bridge to Practice Courses.

Finally, every student must take Bar Exam Foundations, a 2-credit course that takes place in the 3L Fall Term.

To graduate from Elon, students generally must be enrolled as full-time students in residence for a minimum of seven trimesters. Except in extraordinary circumstances, the J.D. degree must be completed no later than 84 months after a student has commenced law study at the law school or a law school from which the school has accepted transfer credit.

A cumulative grade point average of 2.250 or higher is required for graduation.

Program of Study

The First Year

The required first-year program consists of 40 credit hours. The first-year class at the Law School is divided into six sections of approximately 20-25 students. Other than small break out groups for the first-year leadership course (Lawyering, Leadership & Professionalism) and the lab component to the first-year Criminal Law course, all first-year courses are taught by full-time faculty.

2 The Law School’s residency requirement excludes August Term, Fall Term, and Summer Sessions. Residencies generally take place during the Winter and Spring 2L Terms. Students who transfer to Elon after their first year at another law school are deemed to satisfy this requirement upon completion of four trimesters at Elon. An Elon student who visits another law school with the approval of the Associate Dean for Academic Affairs shall also be deemed to be “in residence” for that visit term.

Lawyering, Leadership & Professionalism and Introduction to Legal Studies take place mostly within the 1L August Term, but continue with short mandatory sessions during each of the Fall, Winter, and Spring Trimesters. One credit for the LLP and two credits for ILS are awarded at the end of the August Term, and the other credit for each course is awarded at the end of the Spring Trimester.

For the Spring Trimester, first-year students choose whether to take Business Associations or Evidence, though those courses are subject to enrollment caps.

The Second Year
The second-year under the Law School’s new curriculum combines required courses, elective courses, and experiential learning through a residency-in-practice requirement. All second-year students are required to take either Business Associations or Evidence during the Fall trimester, and Professional Responsibility before the Winter trimester.

Also during either the Winter or Spring trimester of the second year, students must complete a Residency-in-Practice, along with an accompanying course. Residency-in-Practice placements may include a position in a judge’s chambers, a non-profit legal organization (such as Legal Aid), a government agency, a corporate counsel office, or a private law firm. In the Residency-in-Practice, students work 32 or 36 hours per week for 10 weeks for 7 or 8 academic credits while taking an accompanying course at the law school (either in person or via distance learning depending on the proximity of the student’s Residency-in-Practice placement).

The student must take at least one “communication” course during the 2L or 3L year, selected from a group of such courses as designated by the Law School faculty. These courses continue the communications focus of the first-year curriculum.

The chart below shows a sample second-year schedule, though a student’s actual second-year schedule may differ substantially, as the Residency-in-Practice may be taken in either the Winter or Spring Trimester, and Business Associations and Evidence may be taken in either the Fall Trimester or the Spring Trimester of their first year:

* Students are required to satisfy a “Communications Requirement” during either the 2L or 3L year. This may be done through courses designated as “Communications Courses” at the Law School or through various activities such as moot court or mock trial.

Constitutional Law II is taken in the trimester that the student is not in Residency.

The Final Trimester

The final trimester under the Law School’s revised curriculum is intended to prepare students to pass the bar examination and to transition to practice. As such, students return to take the Law School’s Bar Foundation course. This course reviews core bar-tested subjects. This course takes place during the 3L Fall Trimester.

In the Fall Trimester of the third year, students are also encouraged to take a “Bridge-to-Practice” course, selected from a list of such courses as designated by the Law School faculty, which serves to transition students from the study of law to the practice of law through the use of simulations and other practice-focused teaching techniques.

The chart below shows a typical final-trimester schedule for students under the Law School’s new curriculum:

Upper-Level Writing Requirement: All Classes

The faculty has approved an Upper-Level Writing Requirement which must be completed by all law students during their second or third year as a graduation requirement. The goals of the Upper-Level Writing Requirement are:

1. To further develop students’ basic writing and research skills;
(2) To provide students with an opportunity to analyze, synthesize, and organize a substantial body of knowledge; and
(3) To provide students with an opportunity for in-depth engagement in a narrow legal subject area.

A student satisfies the Upper-Level Writing Requirement by completing one or more written projects that require rigorous intellectual effort. Projects must be completed under the active and regular supervision of a faculty member who provides instruction, guidance, and feedback on the student’s work, and who is available for individual meetings to discuss the student’s progress toward successful completion of the Upper-Level Writing Requirement.

The requirement can be met by writing, among other things, a scholarly paper, a law review note or comment, legal briefs or memoranda, or other legal documents. Generally, the length of the documents to be drafted in order to complete this requirement should be at least twenty (20) pages of text in the aggregate, but the professor supervising completion of the project or projects shall have the discretion to determine the required length.

The courses that may be used to satisfy the Upper-Level Writing Requirement are noted in the registration materials sent to students each term.

In addition, a student may satisfy the Upper-Level Writing Requirement in the context of an Independent Study course for credit, as approved in advance by the Associate Dean for Academic Affairs.

An Intent Form must be submitted to the Law School Registrar within one week of the first day of the term when the student intends to complete the requirement. To receive credit for satisfactorily completing the Upper-Level Writing Requirement, the student must submit a Completion Form, signed by the faculty member supervising the Requirement, which certifies that the Requirement has been satisfactorily completed.

Academic Regulations and Procedures

General Information

Changes in Class Schedule

The Law School reserves the right to cancel or discontinue any course because of insufficient enrollment or for any other reason. In order to assure quality instruction, the University and the Law School reserve the right to close registration when the maximum enrollment has been reached and to make changes in schedule and/or faculty when necessary. Notice will be given to enrolled students as changes are made in the law program.

Credit Hours for Coursework

All courses at the Law School must assign an appropriate amount of both instructional and out-of-class student work for students to earn academic credit. For determining those amounts, see the “Policy on Determining Credit Hours for Coursework” attached at the end of this Handbook.

Dropping Courses/Withdrawal
Students may not withdraw from a required course. For elective courses (other than externships, clinical courses, courses where students commit to parties outside the law school, or where withdrawal may adversely affect the education of other students), the Law School provides a drop/add period at the beginning of every semester or trimester. The drop/add period typically lasts for the first week of class. A specific deadline for the drop/add period is included in the registration materials sent to students. After the drop/add period closes, a student may officially withdraw from an elective course with a "W" (withdraw without penalty) up until halfway through the term. Dropping a course after the halfway period will result in a failing grade in the course. The length of the term is determined by counting all calendar days from the first day of classes through the last day of exams, including the first and last day. Any exception to this policy is within the discretion of the Dean or the Associate Dean for Academic Affairs.

A student who withdraws from the University for any reason (except for a medical reason) receives a grade of "W" if the withdrawal is before the designated half-term time period.

To remain enrolled as full-time students, all students must maintain at least 10 credit hours each trimester to be considered full-time students. It is important that students realize that registration changes that place them below full-time status may unfavorably affect financial aid and scholarship requirements, veteran’s rights, foreign student visas and other benefits and requirements. The student is responsible for any changes in his or her course registration and for maintaining his/her status as a full-time student.

Examinations and Grading

Taking Final Examinations

In many courses, students are evaluated by an examination at the end of the course. Faculty may use other types of assessments as additional or alternative bases for evaluating student achievement. Exam times and room assignments are distributed by the Registrar.

Anonymous Grading

Law School exams are anonymous and self-identification of any kind is not permitted. Students are not to put their name, class level or personal comments (which could be used to identify a student) anywhere on exam materials. Instead, students are given an exam identification number each term by the Registrar’s Office. Faculty grade examinations anonymously, referring only to the exam identification number.

Each exam period students will receive a new exam identification number. Students should memorize or bring this number to each exam. Numbers will not be given out over the phone or to a third party.

Examination Accommodations

See Section I of this Handbook for information about requesting accommodations, including examination accommodations, based on disability.

Rescheduling a Final Examination
Students are required to take all of their exams at the times scheduled unless granted approval by the Registrar to reschedule an exam. A student may request that a scheduled exam be rescheduled when the student has two exams within a 24 hour period.

The student has the burden of seeking approval to reschedule an exam, and exams will not be rescheduled unless a student seeks such approval. In order to protect anonymity, students should not contact their professors or their faculty assistants if they need to reschedule a final exam.

The Registrar will determine which exam will be rescheduled and when the rescheduled exam will be administered. Exams that qualify for rescheduling due to multiple exams within a 24 hour period will generally be rescheduled for the individual student’s next available exam slot that does not create a new conflict under this rule. Rescheduled examinations are generally scheduled for after the regularly scheduled examination slot.

All requests for rescheduled examinations based on a scheduling conflict must be in writing and presented along with any supporting documentation to the Registrar. The form to request rescheduling of an exam based on a scheduling conflict is available at the following web address: http://www.elon.edu/docs/e-web/law/Examination%20Schedule%20Conflict%20Form.pdf. All such requests must be made at least twenty one (21) calendar days prior to the beginning of the examination period.

An illness or death in the family, illness of the student, or other compelling circumstances may also warrant a change in exam scheduling. If an emergency situation arises that prevents exam attendance, the student should immediately notify the Registrar.

Failure to Take a Final Examination

If an exam is not taken, the student will receive an “F” for the exam and may fail the course for the trimester.

Grading Scale

As of the first-year courses beginning in Fall 2017, students are graded in most courses on a letter and number grading scale, as set forth in the chart below:
First-Year Courses, Business Associations, and Evidence

All first year courses and second year Business Associations and Evidence courses are subject to a mandatory grade distribution as follows:

(A) At least 15% of the class must receive a grade of 3.33 (B+) or above, with the professor having the discretion to award no more than 3% of the class a grade of 4.33 (A+);

(B) At least 15% of the class must receive a grade of 1.67 (C-) or below, with an additional 5% of the class receiving a grade of 1.33 (D+) or below;

(C) The median grade for the class must be a 2.67 or 3.00;

(D) In exceptional circumstances the Associate Dean for Academic Affairs has the discretionary power to waive compliance by a faculty member with the requirements of the mandatory curve.

The courses subject to this curve are Torts, Civil Procedure, LMC I, II, and III, Legal Research, Contracts, Criminal Law, Property, Business Associations, and Evidence (regardless of whether the latter two courses are taken during the 1L Spring or the 2L Fall).

Students who withdraw from the Law School after the ABA annual enrollment reporting date in October are included in the bottom of the First-Year Mandatory Grade Distribution, including Subsection (C) above.

The Mandatory Grade Distribution for Business Associations and Evidence if taken in the 2L Fall will factor in both (1) the withdrawn students as described immediately above and (2) students who were excluded after the 1L Spring.

Upper-Level Courses Other than Business Associations and Evidence

Upper level courses other than Business Associations and Evidence are not subject to a mandatory grade distribution (even if required for certain students), but are subject to a mandatory mean of between 3.00-3.33. This mandatory mean is not to be applied in any course that is assessed on a pass/fail basis. In exceptional circumstances the Associate Dean for Academic Affairs has the discretionary power to waive compliance by a faculty member with the requirements of the mandatory mean for upper-level courses.

Other Grading Information

Certain courses in the curriculum may be graded on a pass/fail basis. Students in a pass/fail course may receive one of the following:

“HP” – High Pass – indicating that the student performed with distinction in the course.

“P” – Pass – indicating that the student satisfied course requirements at an expected level of performance.

“LP” – Low Pass – indicating that the student satisfied course requirements but below the expected level of performance.

“F” – Fail – indicating that the student failed to satisfy course requirements.

Assuming a student receives an “HP”, “P”, or “LP” in a pass/fail course, the student will receive credit hours for the course but will not receive any quality points and the course will not factor into the student’s grade point average. A student who receives an “F” in a pass/fail course does not receive credit hours for the course and the failure will be included in the calculation of the student’s grade point average.

In addition to the other grades discussed herein, students may receive a grade of “I” for Incomplete. As a general rule, a grade of “I” for incomplete must be removed within thirty (30) calendar days from the date the “I” grade is posted. Unless an “I” is removed by the date designated, or the date is extended by the Dean or Associate Dean for Academic Affairs, an “I” grade is automatically changed to an “F”.

A student may also receive a grade of “WD” (Medical Leave of Absence) upon documentation of a medical condition that has impacted the student’s ability to complete coursework and any exam in the course.

Generally, a student’s grade point average is computed by dividing the total quality points on work attempted at Elon by the number of hours attempted, except for pass/fail courses in which the student passed and courses with grades of “I” (Incomplete), “WD” (Medical Leave of Absence), or “W” (Withdrawal).

Dissemination of Grades

ELON LAW FACULTY POLICY REGARDING SUBMISSION OF COURSE GRADES

To offer students prompt feedback on their course performance, to facilitate student exam review, and to assist in decisions regarding continuing enrollment at the law school, each member of the faculty shall submit his or her course grades to the registrar promptly after the end of each trimester and, in any event, by no later than the close of business on the date that is:
• in the case of a course in which there is a final exam, 14 calendar days after the faculty member’s receipt of all of the exams for the course;

• in the case of a Legal Method & Communication course, 14 calendar days after the last day of the trimester; and

• in all other courses, 14 calendars days after the earlier of (i) the last day of the exam period for the trimester and (ii) the day on which the faculty member receives from all of the students in the course their final work product for the course.

In all three cases set out above, the 14-day period begins to run the day after the receipt of exams, end of term, or receipt of final work product. Grades are due by 5PM on the 14th day.

Once received by the Registrar, all grades will be posted through the University's OnTrack system. Students are able to review their current as well as past grades through the OnTrack system. As a general rule, grades for first-year students will not be available until grades for at least two of three or three of four first-year courses in a trimester have been received by the Registrar's Office.

Feedback on Grades

Students are encouraged to review their exams with faculty members after grades have been posted. While exams are not allowed to leave the building, students will have access to their exam to have a productive meeting with faculty. Generally, items may not be copied, and in no instance may an exam be copied without the permission of the professor. Each faculty member may have individual policies regarding setting an appointment to discuss an exam. Students should review the class syllabus for more information.

Students who receive a grade of 2.33 (C+) or below in a required course are required to review their coursework and complete a guided self-assessment with respect to that work. See “Grade of 2.33 or Below in Required Course” section below.

Change of Grades

After a faculty member has submitted a grade to the Registrar, a faculty member may change the grade only if it was incorrect due to mathematical, administrative or other mechanical error. If a faculty member discovers a mathematical, administrative or other mechanical error in one student’s grade, then discovers the same error was also made in the grading of other students’ papers, the faculty member must change the grade of all the students affected by the error. A grade may not be changed as a result of a substantive reevaluation of a student’s work or otherwise.

Academic Success

The Law School provides a comprehensive program dedicated to the academic success of its students. The Office of Academic Success offers various opportunities for all students to enhance their academic skills and achieve their academic goals, including one-on-one meetings, workshops, courses, and academic resources. Students whose academic performance indicates a need for additional assistance are placed into a proven student-centered study skills program, Advanced Legal Construction and Analysis, following their 1L fall trimester. Further work in honing the fundamental skill of lawyering is provided in the 2L fall trimester via the Mastering Legal Analysis course, which is required for a select group and open to all students. This program and course are described as follows:

- Advanced Legal Construction and Analysis. The Advanced Legal Construction and Analysis program (ALCA) focuses on meeting students’ individual academic challenges and seeks to improve their organizational, writing, and study skills. The ALCA program may involve individual and small group sessions with the professors in the Office of Academic Success and, depending on the needs of students, take the form of a traditional classroom setting.

- Mastering Legal Analysis. The Mastering Legal Analysis course is designed to improve students’ ability to deconstruct legal rules, to explain and evaluate the significance of facts, to thoroughly support conclusions of law, and to effectively organize content. These skills are critical in applying law to the hypothetical questions typical of both law school and bar exams. The hands-on learning methodology of the course includes in-class analytical work in both individual and group settings. The course concludes with a medium-length professional writing assignment.

The Office of Academic Success assists with preparation for the bar exam in a variety of ways, beginning in the first year of law school. Guidance in selecting a jurisdiction and applying for admission to practice is provided, elective courses tied to the three components of most bar exams are offered, as is the required 3L Bar Exam Foundations course. Post-graduation study assistance also is made available.

Academic Standards

Cumulative GPA below 2.67.

To assist students in achieving their educational goals, those with cumulative GPAs³ below 2.67 or who earn a grade that is lower than 2.33 in a required course are subject to the requirements and restrictions set forth below.

A student with a cumulative GPA below 2.67 at the end of any term:

- Must participate in the Law School’s Advanced Legal Construction and Analysis Program during the following term, and satisfactory participation in the ALCA Program by the student in each term during which she must participate is a requirement to graduate;
- will be restricted from running for office in any Student Body organization
- must have any request to study abroad approved by the Associate Dean for Academic Affairs prior to registration, and
- will have all requests to engage in paid work subject to individual review and approval by the Assistant Dean of Career and Student Development.

A student with a cumulative GPA below 2.67 at the end of the third term of the student’s first year must successfully complete:

- Mastering Legal Analysis during the fall term of the student’s second year; and ³ For all purposes herein the term “GPA” means the student’s grade point average as recorded on the student’s official transcript.

• Commercial Law: Secured Transactions; Criminal Procedure; and either Family Law or Wills and Trusts prior to graduation.

Grade of 2.33 (C+) or Below in Required Course. It is mandatory that students who earn a grade of 2.33 (C+) or below in any course required for all students, as soon as reasonably practicable during the following academic term, review their coursework and complete a guided self-assessment with respect to that work.

Cumulative GPA below 2.25.

Exclusion

Any student who falls below a cumulative GPA of 2.25 at the completion of the Spring Trimester of his or her first year will be excluded from continued matriculation at the Law School.

Second year students must maintain at least a cumulative GPA of 2.25 at the completion of each trimester. Any student whose cumulative GPA falls below 2.25 at the completion of any second year trimester will be excluded.

For the purposes of these two paragraphs, cumulative 1L GPA is calculated solely on a student’s most recent fall, winter, and spring trimesters and does not include any previous course grades that may exist. GPAs after the 1L year are calculated solely based on the student’s grades upon readmission.

Notices of dismissal are sent by U.S. mail to the student’s address on file with the Registrar and by electronic mail sent to the student’s official Elon student email account. For purposes of these rules, the date of dismissal is the date the e-mail is sent.

All students are considered to be in good academic standing except those that have been academically dismissed per the policy immediately above.

Petitioning for Readmission

Students who are academically excluded after the 1L Spring trimester or 2L Fall, Winter or Spring trimesters whose Law GPAs are below 2.25 but are at least 2.0 are eligible to petition for readmission to the Law School. Petitions will be reviewed by the Law School’s Academic Standards Committee or a subcommittee thereof appointed by the Dean of the Law School, and are subject to the following standards:

• Petitions are on-paper only and will consist of a copy of the student’s academic transcript and a statement concerning the extraordinary circumstance that led to the academic performance resulting in exclusion and its resolution or mitigation, including any documentation of the circumstance. A petitioning student has no right to personally appear before the Committee. The Committee will not receive any other information or evidence from the petitioning student.

• Petitions will only be granted on the ground a student has had inconsistent academic performance during the first year that can be materially attributed to an extraordinary circumstance which occurred during or near the academic trimester or trimesters that caused the student to fall below a 2.25 Law GPA. Such circumstances and their resolution or mitigation should be articulated in the petition. Consistently poor academic performance across the first year will in almost all cases be disqualifying with respect to readmission.

- The Academic Standards Committee has the power to place conditions on the student’s readmission. Failure to comply with these conditions will result in the student’s academic dismissal from the Law School.

Petitions are due 5 business days after a student’s academic exclusion. There is no right of appeal of the Committee’s decision.

A student who fails to have a cumulative GPA of at least 2.25 at the completion of the final trimester shall not be permitted to graduate. The Associate Dean for Academic Affairs, however, shall have the discretion to afford such a student the opportunity to continue taking courses in order to raise his or her cumulative GPA to at least 2.25 and thereby qualify to graduate.

An administratively dismissed student, including a student whose petition for readmission is not granted, may reapply for admission to the Law School after one academic year.

Academic Counseling for Cumulative GPA below 2.25 Before the End of 1L Spring or 2L Fall

Students whose GPAs are below a 2.25 after the 1L Fall trimester and/or Winter trimester will be counseled as soon as possible after grades are released with respect to the academic performance necessary at the end of the Spring 1L trimester to be eligible to continue study at the Law School.

Satisfactory Academic Progress

Upper-Level Students. Federal regulations governing student financial assistance programs stipulate that in order to continue to be eligible for funds, students must maintain satisfactory academic progress toward a degree. To maintain satisfactory academic progress at the Law School, students must be making measurable academic progress, as measured by a minimum GPA and completion of a minimum number of credit hours for which the student enrolls. This latter requirement is intended to ensure the student is earning academic credits at a rate that is leading to graduation in a timely manner.

These requirements are as follows:

- Law students are required to maintain a cumulative GPA of at least 2.25 on all course work at the end of each term after the first year.

- Law students are required to complete and receive academic credit for a minimum of 67% of all credit hours attempted per term. “Complete and receive academic credit” for a course means receiving a passing grade. Courses repeated for any reason, including for medical leaves of absence granted for previous terms, will be counted as attempted credit hours.

Any student who does not comply with either of these requirements will lose eligibility for federal financial aid and/or be academically excluded from the Law School by the Associate Dean for Academic Affairs. Merit-based scholarships and other institutional awards may be subject to other measures of satisfactory academic progress.
An administratively dismissed student, including a student whose petition for readmission is not granted, may reapply for admission to the Law School after one academic year.

Effect of Exclusion on Post-Exclusion Enrollment

A student who takes a summer course at the Law School and is notified during the course that he or she has been academically excluded may be allowed to complete the course for credit or may withdraw from the course. If an academically excluded student withdraws from a summer school course after the drop-add period is over, no refund for tuition is available. In addition, any student who takes (i) a summer study abroad course through the Law School or (ii) a summer session course through another law school (whether such course is offered domestically or abroad), and is notified during the course that he or she has been academically excluded from the Law School shall not be eligible to receive a refund.

Effect of Exclusion on Tuition

A student who is academically excluded may be eligible for a partial tuition refund in accordance with the University's tuition refund schedule. A right to tuition refund is effective as of the date of the academic dismissal.

Return of Law School Property

Upon notification of academic exclusion from the Law School, the student must return all of the following Law School property:

a. Student locker key
b. Phoenix Card
c. Parking passes
d. Any library materials in the student's possession
e. Any other property issued by the University to the student

Failure to return Law School property in good condition may result in repair or replacement charges to the departing student.

Return of Student Property

When a student departs the Law School, any student personal property must be removed from the Law School within ten (10) days of the effective date of departure. After the expiration of the ten (10) day time period, the property will be considered abandoned by the student and disposed of by the Law School.

Courses taken Elsewhere

Policies Applicable to All Students

The rules set forth in this section apply to students admitted to the Law School as transfer students, and to students permitted by the Law School to take courses at another law school or at another school or department within the University. Students should also consult the appropriate section
Candidates for the J.D. degree are generally required to complete at least five full-time trimesters in residence at the Law School and receive at least 56 credits toward the J.D. degree at the Law School.4

Students may receive credit for work at another law school only upon the receipt of an official transcript from the other school. The Law School will not request the transcript; the student has the responsibility to do so.

No credit toward the Elon J.D. degree will be given for any course taken at another law school, including as part of a study abroad program hosted by another school, or another school or department within the University in which the grade received is less than a “C.” No quality points will be awarded for grades for any course taken at another law school or another school or department within the University; this means that such credits for any course taken outside the Law School, if applicable toward the Elon J.D. degree, will apply on a pass/fail basis. Students should be aware that if they take a course outside the Law School in their final term and fail to earn a “C” or higher, no credits will be granted toward the J.D. degree for that course. If this occurs, a student may fall short of the 86 credits required to graduate. The Law School reserves the right to require a grade higher than a “C” for courses taken elsewhere if the particular circumstances warrant.

Transfer Students

The Law School welcomes applications from students who have compiled strong academic records at other law schools and wish to transfer to the Law School. A transfer application will be considered only if the applicant has attended a school accredited by the American Bar Association. Up to 30 academic credits may be recognized for courses taken by a transfer student at another law school. Transfer students who have completed more than one full year of law study will generally be limited to a maximum of no more than 30 credits for work at the other law school.

Whether a particular course or courses a student has taken at another law school may be used to satisfy the specific J.D. course requirements of the Law School will be determined upon admission. Transfer students are not automatically eligible for membership on Law Review on the basis of class rank at another law school. The editorial board of the Law Review may, at the transferring student’s request, review the transfer student’s transcript and invite an exceptionally well-qualified transfer student to become a member without participating in the writing competition. Likewise, transfer students who were on Moot Court Board at other schools are not automatically eligible for membership at Elon Law, but are eligible to compete in the Intramural Moot Court Competition or other available try-outs for the Elon Moot Court Board.

Courses Taken by Elon Law Students Outside the Law School

4 August Terms and December Term do not count toward the residency requirement, a student’s residency-in-practice does. With respect to the Class of December 2017 and later classes, students who transfer to Elon after their first year at another law school are deemed to satisfy the residency requirement upon completion of four trimesters at Elon.
In limited circumstances, the Law School permits students to receive credit towards their J.D. requirements for courses that are not taken at the Law School, whether at another law school or at another school or department within the University. In all cases, students must obtain advance permission from the Associate Dean for Academic Affairs if the student wishes to receive credit towards the J.D. degree for courses taken outside the Law School. If advance permission is not obtained, no credit will be granted toward the J.D. requirements. Under no circumstances will permission be granted retroactively. Students may take courses at foreign institutions and receive credit for those courses only if the foreign school complies with the ABA Criteria for Accepting Credit for Student Study at a Foreign Institution.

Summer Sessions at Other Law Schools

Generally, a student may receive a maximum of six credits for courses taken during the summer at another accredited law school toward his or her J.D. requirements (for a total of twelve credits taken over two summers). A request to receive credit towards the J.D. degree for courses taken during the summer school of another accredited law school must be submitted to the Associate Dean for Academic Affairs prior to taking those courses. The form is available online.

Whether a particular course or courses a student takes during summer school at another law school can be used to satisfy the specific J.D. course requirements of the Law School will be determined in the discretion of the Associate Dean for Academic Affairs. As previously stated, any student with a GPA below 2.67 must have his or her summer course registration (whether such course or courses are taken at the Law School or elsewhere, including any registration to study abroad) approved by the Associate Dean for Academic Affairs. See Academic Regulations and Procedures—Academic Standards, above.

Visiting Status During a Regular Academic Term

If a student has a strong academic record and presents a compelling educational reason involving rigorous curricular offerings that are not available at the Law School, the Associate Dean for Academic Affairs may permit the student to attend another accredited law school for one regular academic term as a visiting student, while still receiving the J.D. degree from the Law School (assuming satisfactory completion of all J.D. degree requirements). The Associate Dean for Academic Affairs may, in rare circumstances, consider a petition to visit another law school based on extraordinary compelling personal circumstances that make such visit necessary.

Petitions for permission to visit another law school must be submitted to the Associate Dean for Academic Affairs prior to attending the other law school. Students submitting such petitions must

1. Demonstrate compelling reasons to attend the other law school; and
2. Have a cumulative GPA of 2.25 or above immediately before attending the other law school.

Students who are granted permission to visit another law school must complete their last term at the Elon Law, except in extraordinary circumstances. If permission is granted for a student to visit another accredited law school, the term of the visit is deemed to satisfy the general six semester/seven trimester “in residence” requirement set forth above. See Curriculum—General Juris Doctor (J.D.) Requirements, above.

Visiting Students from Other Law Schools
The Law School is pleased to admit a limited number of visiting students from other ABA-accredited schools ("transient students") who are in good academic standing at their home law schools and who have the permission of their home schools to study at the Law School. Transient students are expected to adhere (1) to the requirements and standards of their home institution; and (2) to the academic and other standards specified in this Student Handbook, the Law School Honor Code, and other policies of the Law School. A transient student is solely responsible for ensuring that any course work completed at the Law School will be recognized by and will satisfy the applicable graduation requirements of the transient student’s home school.

Students requiring financial assistance should contact the Financial Aid Office at their home schools and/or the Office of Financial Planning at Elon University for assistance and application materials. Students who have been approved for transient status at the Law School should seek the advice of the Associate Dean for Academic Affairs to complete registration.

A list and description of the courses offered at the Law School is available in this Handbook and on the Registrar’s website.

Student Practice Certificate

Certification under the Third-Year Practice Rule allows Elon Law students to gain practical experience, including appearing in court, under the supervision of a licensed North Carolina attorney. An information packet and the forms for seeking certification in North Carolina are available through the Registrar’s Office.

Students who have completed at least three semesters or trimesters (or 45 credit hours), have taken Professional Responsibility, and are in good academic standing are eligible for student practice certification. The North Carolina State Bar issues the student practice certifications. The certification process is detailed in the North Carolina State Bar Rules Governing Practical Training of Law Students, Subchapter C, Sections .0200 through .0207. The student practice certificate forms are available at https://www.elon.edu/e/CmsFile/GetFile?FileID=757.

Certification allows students to represent indigent clients, the state in criminal prosecutions, a criminal defendant represented by the public defender, and government agencies, under the supervision of a licensed North Carolina attorney. Potential employers include government agencies and non-profits such as Legal Aid, the Public Defender’s Office, the District Attorney’s Office, and the Attorney General’s Office. Students working with private law firms are also eligible for certification, but their certification extends only to representation of non-paying indigent clients. If a student or supervising attorney has questions about the scope of the representation allowed under the certification, they should consult the rules and/or contact the North Carolina State Bar. For certification rules in other jurisdictions, go to http://guides.ll.georgetown.edu/StudentPractice.
VIII. Honors, Prizes and Awards

Honors

Class rank and honors will be determined by the cumulative grade-point average. The Law School Registrar calculates class rank after all grades are received each Fall, Winter, and Spring trimester.

Degree Honors

The degree of Juris Doctor will be awarded with honors under the following circumstances:

Summa Cum Laude: Any student who graduates in the top two percent of the graduating class shall be designated as graduating summa cum laude. For example, a student who graduates ranked 2/105 is in the top 2% of the class (2/105 = 1.90%) and will receive the honor of summa cum laude. On the other hand, a student who graduates ranked 3/105 is in the top 3% of the class (3/105 = 2.86%) and will receive the honor of magna cum laude.

Magna Cum Laude: Any student who graduates between the top three percent and the top seven percent of the graduating class shall be designated as graduating magna cum laude. As explained above, a student graduating ranked 3/105 will received the honor of magna cum laude, as that ranking puts the student in the top 3% of the class. A student graduating 7/105 (=6.67%; top 7%) will also receive the honor of magna cum laude, whereas a student graduating ranked 8/105 (=7.62%; top 8%) will receive the honor of cum laude.

Cum Laude: Any student who graduates between the top eight percent and the top fifteen percent of the graduating class shall be designated as graduating cum laude. As an example, a student graduating ranked 8/105 will receive the honor of cum laude (8/105=7.62%, which is top 8% of the class). Likewise, a student graduating ranked 15/105 will receive the honor of cum laude (15/105 = 14.28%, which is top 15%), while a student graduating 16/105 will not (16/105 = 15.24%, which is top 16%).

The award of honors is determined exclusively by the final cumulative grade-point average.

Dean's List

After each term, the Dean will publish a "Dean's List." To qualify for the Dean's List, a student must be a full-time student and earn a trimester grade point average that places the student in the top 15 percent of his or her class for courses taken during that term.

Awards Given by the Faculty and Administration

Gergen Leadership Award

Each year the members of the faculty at Elon Law select for recognition an individual from the graduating class whose activities represent the twin principles of leadership and professionalism. This award is named in honor of David Gergen, whose professional life and contributions have embodied the highest levels of selfless leadership and service. Gergen has served as adviser to four United States presidents. He is the Director of the Center for Public Leadership and Professor of Public Service at the Harvard Kennedy School, one of the country's preeminent political commentators, and Chair of Elon’s Law School Advisory Board.

Distinguished Service Award

In the Spring of 2012, the Law School Faculty created the Distinguished Service Award to recognize a graduate student for service to the law school through engagement in and contributions to the life of the school and demonstrated commitment to its mission.

“Strongest Comprehensive Performance”

These awards are presented by the faculty for performance in required classes. The “Strongest Comprehensive Performance” award is given to the student that, in the opinion of the faculty member teaching the required course, has had the strongest performance in the course. This assessment is not limited to the highest grade – it can include participation, oral and written work, group work as well as final grade.

Additional Recognition/Awards

North Carolina Advocates for Justice Student Advocacy Award

This award recognizes a graduating student for demonstrated commitment to public service and excellence in trial and/or appellate advocacy skills.

ALI-CLE Award

This award is to recognize a graduate who best represents a combination of scholarship and leadership, the qualities embodied by the parent organization, the American Law Institute.

American Bankruptcy Institute’s Medal for Excellence

This award is given by the American Bankruptcy Institute on behalf of its more than 5,000 members, to the student having demonstrated excellence in the study of bankruptcy law.

CLEA’s Outstanding Student Award

(Clinical Legal Education Association) This award is for excellence in representing clients; excellence in the student’s course work, including exploring the legal, ethical, strategic and pertinent issues raised in representing clients; and the student’s overall contribution to the clinical community.

International Academy of Trial Lawyers Award

This award recognizes a graduating student who demonstrates an overall ability in trial advocacy by high achievement in trial practice, evidence, and pleading and procedure courses.

Michael L. Rich Memorial Award for Excellence in Criminal Law
The Michael L. Rich Memorial Award for Excellence in Criminal Law Studies was created in 2017 by Elon Law faculty to honor the memory of Professor Mike Rich, the Maurice Jennings Emerging Scholar and associate professor of law. This award recognizes excellence in study of criminal law, his main area of scholarship.

National Association of Women Lawyers Recognition

This award goes to the graduate who has shown academic achievement, motivation, tenacity and drive, and who is likely in the future to contribute to the advancement of women in the society.

North Carolina Bar Association Pro Bono Recognition Awards

This award from the North Carolina Bar Association recognizes those members of the graduating class who have provided at least 75 hours of pro bono legal service to the community.

North Carolina State Bar Student Pro Bono Award

This award recognizes the public service rendered by one law student at each North Carolina law school and is presented annually at the October meeting of the NC State Bar.

Order of Barristers

The Law School established a chapter of this national organization in the spring of 2012 and, per the organization’s constitution, may select up to 10 members for induction each year. Membership in this national organization recognizes graduating law students who have excelled in moot court and mock trial activities.
IX. Student Withdrawal from the Law School

Withdrawal

A student may withdraw voluntarily from the Law School before the start of his or her first examination in any term, provided formal written notice is given to the Registrar. Readmission following withdrawal is subject to the following conditions:

1. There is no right to automatic readmission.

2. A request for readmission will be considered on the basis of the admission standards prevailing at the time readmission is sought. The student must comply with any new admission requirements even if such requirements differ from those existing at the time he or she was originally admitted to the Law School. A request for readmission may be made by sending a letter to the Office of Admissions.

3. If a student who has withdrawn is readmitted, law school credits earned five or more years prior to the date of reenrollment will not be recognized.

4. A first-year student who withdraws before completing all the requirements of the first trimester will, if he or she is subsequently granted readmission, be required to reenroll as a beginning first-year student.

5. The exclusion, suspension, or withdrawal of a student with a pending conduct or Honor Code violation does not deprive Elon Law of jurisdiction. However, at its discretion Elon Law may suspend action until a student who withdrew or was dismissed requests readmission or, in the case of suspension of a student, until the suspension is lifted. Unless the Dean provides otherwise, no student who withdraws or is dismissed while any action on the complaint is pending will be eligible for consideration for readmission if the application for readmission is made more than one year after the effective date of the student’s withdrawal or exclusion. If application is timely made, the student normally will be eligible to be considered for readmission only after the complaint has proceeded to ultimate disposition through conduct and/or Honor Code procedures. If a student withdraws from the Law School while a matter is pending and then applies to another law school, that law school will be notified that the student withdrew leaving a disciplinary matter unresolved, and a letter of good standing will not be issued on behalf of that student.

Medical Leave of Absence

If a student has a documented medical and/or mental health condition that has impacted their ability to complete course work and will keep them from taking exams, the student should consult the Office of Career and Student Development for a medical leave of absence which will remove the student permanently (with grades of WD) from all classes. Students seeking a medical leave of absence must withdraw from all courses; they may not obtain a withdrawal from only selected courses. Students who take a medical leave of absence will not be permitted to complete courses. A medical leave of absence must be processed before the last day of classes.

Any student who is granted a Medical Leave of Absence must provide medical documentation in order to apply for readmission. This documentation should be provided to the Office of Career and Student Development  Documentation must include a Clinical Treatment Provider Report Form completed and signed by the student’s care provider. Students are generally not readmitted to the Law School for the trimester immediately following the term for which they obtained a medical leave of absence. Contact the Office of Career & Student Development for copies of the Medical Leave of Absence and Readmission forms.

Return of Law School Property

Upon withdrawal, the student must immediately return all of the following Law School property:

- a. Student locker key
- b. Phoenix Card
- c. Parking passes
- d. Any library materials in the student’s possession
- e. Any other property issued by the University to the student

Failure to return Law School property in good condition may result in repair or replacement charges to the departing student.

Return of Student Property

When a student departs the Law School, any student personal property must be removed from the Law School within thirty (30) days of discontinuing enrollment. After the expiration of the thirty (30) day time period, the property will be considered abandoned by the student and disposed of by the Law School.

Tuition Refund

No tuition or fee refunds are available for summer school or study abroad programs.

With respect to first-year students, tuition and fees for the August Term and fall, winter, and spring trimesters are refundable as follows: If a student withdraws by the end of the first week of the August Term, the student will receive a full refund of the tuition paid for that term. There are no refunds beyond this date.

For withdrawals during a trimester, first-year students will receive refunds on a pro rata basis during the first six weeks of a trimester. Following is a table of pro rata charges:

This chart is also applicable to second- and third-year students who withdraw during a trimester.

For any student (upper-level or first-year) to be eligible for a refund upon withdrawal, the student must meet with the Director of Academic and Administrative Services regarding his/her intentions. The student must also check out with the Financial Planning and Bursar’s Offices. The effective date of withdrawal is determined by the Law School and any applicable refund is calculated as of the date of withdrawal.

Unpaid charges owed by the student will be deducted from the calculated refund. The acceptance deposit is nonrefundable. Medical leaves of absence will be handled on a case-by-case basis.

Transfer to Another Law School

A student who wishes to apply for transfer to another law school is required to provide notice to the Office of the Registrar. A letter of good standing (if applicable) and an unofficial copy of a transferring student’s grades will be sent to the school into which the student seeks to transfer, pursuant to a request made by the student.
X. Graduation and Admission to the Bar

In addition to the academic requirements included in this Handbook, all students must satisfy their financial obligations to the institution prior to receiving their diploma. This includes any library fines and any other outstanding charges from the University Bursar.

Commencement Ceremony

To honor its graduates, the Law School conducts a Commencement Ceremony in December of each year. It may, at its discretion, also conduct other commencement ceremonies. In conjunction with the Ceremony, the Law School often hosts a reception for the graduates and their spouses, families, and friends.

Information regarding announcements, invitations, and other details of time and place will be available through the Office of Career and Student Development. All potential degree candidates should consult that office at the beginning of their last term.

Admission to the Bar

The student should make a timely inquiry concerning requirements for admission to the Bar, including character and fitness qualifications. Failure to follow proper procedure and to adhere to announced deadlines may result in considerable delay in approving an application for admission to the Bar. All credit and residence requirements must be completed (with a grade recorded or certification by the faculty member to the Registrar) before an applicant may sit for the Bar Examination.

Applications for admission to the North Carolina State Bar are available at the North Carolina Board of Law Examiners’ website. (To ensure privacy, when using Law School computers to access the application, students should take care to save the application only to personal files.) Careful attention must be given to the completion of the application. Students should review their Law School application (available in the Registrar’s Office) prior to completing their bar application to ensure all character and fitness questions are complete and accurate. Students are under an ongoing obligation to update and amend their Law School application to fully and accurately reflect any incidents or affirmative responses in the Character and Fitness section of the application. Forms for amending Law School applications are available in the OCSD office.

With respect to bar exam applications, exam components, and exam preparation, students should seek advice from the Office of Academic Success.

The Board of Law Examiners in the jurisdiction where graduates are sitting for the Bar will request certification information from the Law School for every student sitting for the exam. It is the responsibility of every third-year student to make sure all requirements have been met for certification.

All coursework must be completed by the end of the grading period in order to ensure that the Dean can certify graduation and eligibility to the Bar. Students with incompletes from previous semesters or trimesters should be aware that their coursework is not considered completed until a grade has been recorded by the Office of the Registrar.

Moreover, under no circumstances can the institution make certification of graduation unless all requirements have been completed by the deadline of the jurisdiction to which the student is applying.

Graduating students must accordingly take care to assure that all graduation requirements have been met, e.g., that incomplete work resulting in a grade of “I” has been finished and a grade recorded, and that the upper-level writing requirement has been satisfactorily completed by the end of the student’s final term. Students completing requirements thereafter will not be able to sit for the bar examination.

Responsibility of Graduates to Report Employment Status Pursuant to ABA Requirements.

The ABA requires Elon Law to submit an accurate report of each graduate’s employment status as of 15 months after their December graduation (the “snapshot” reporting date is March 15). Each Elon Law graduate is required to respond promptly to reasonable inquiries from the law school in order for the school to gather the necessary information to report to the ABA. Any graduate who does not respond to the law school’s inquiry, and whose employment status cannot otherwise be determined through secondary sources will be reported as “Employment Status Unknown.”
XI. INTERPRETATION OF RULES

Waiver of Rules

To seek a waiver of any rule, policy or procedure in the Law School Student Handbook, to the extent those matters are subject to waiver, a student should submit a written petition to the Office of Career and Student Development. If the petition deals with a subject that is not within the purview of the Office of Career and Student Development, the petition will be referred to the appropriate official, committee, or body for action. Any waiver of a rule, policy, or procedure set forth in this Handbook is at the sole and exclusive discretion of the Law School.

Change of Rules

The Law School reserves the right to change with immediate effect any rule, policy, or procedure set forth in the Law School Academic Catalog or any other official document.
Policy on Determining Credit Hours for Coursework

Approved by Curriculum Committee: December 6, 2018
Approved by Faculty: December 7, 2018

Introduction

The ABA requires that law schools “adopt, publish, and adhere to written policies and procedures for determining the credit hours that it awards for coursework.” ABA Std. 310(a). For traditional classroom courses, a “credit hour” is defined as an “amount of work that reasonably approximates . . . not less than one hour of classroom or direct faculty instruction and two hours of out-of-class student work per week for 15 weeks or the equivalent amount of work over a different amount of time.” ABA Std. 310(b)(1). For simulations, clinical courses, field placements, and other credit-bearing academic activities, a “credit hour” should require “at least an equivalent amount of work” as required by subsection (b)(1). ABA Std. 310(b)(2).

For purposes of Standard 310, ABA Interpretation 310-1 provides: (1) “50 minutes suffices for one hour of classroom or direct faculty instruction,” (2) an hour of out-of-class student work is 60 minutes, and (3) the 15-week period may include one week for a final exam. Standard 310 thus requires at least a total of 42.5 hours of instructional and out-of-class work per credit hour, which may include a final exam.5

Because the types of academic activities vary from course to course and teacher to teacher, this policy strives to provide clear guidance for students and faculty while also affording maximum flexibility to faculty, who are in the best position to determine the nature and amount out-of-class preparation time necessary for their students.

Guidelines for Minimum Required Instructional Time to Ensure Academic Rigor

This chart only reflects the minimum number of instructional minutes that a course must meet during a term to comply with ABA standards. Individual professors can (and often do) schedule additional instructional time for their courses. As a matter of policy, the Academic Dean and Registrar generally add additional instructional minutes per class meeting beyond these minimums.

<tr>
<td>4</td>
<td>235</td>
<td>2800</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3</td>
<td>175</td>
<td>2100</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

5 The 42.5 hour total is calculated as follows: 15 instructional hours of 50 minutes each + 30 student hours of 60 minutes each = 750 instructional minutes + 1800 student minutes = 2550 minutes. 2550 minutes = 42.5 hours.
Calculating Out-of-Class Student Workload

1. As a general rule, assigning an average of 15 pages of reading per credit per week in any course presumptively satisfies the Standard 310 requirement for out-of-class student work. While this stated average is presumed to meet this rule, faculty may assign less than the minimum when, in their professional judgment, the assigned cases, problems, statutes, or other material is complex in nature and they expect that the amount of time it will take students to complete the assignment will meet the rule.

2. As a general rule, assigning a writing project in any course is presumed to require a student to devote the following amount of out-of-class time per double-spaced page, depending on the type of document assigned and the level of work required:

   - Reflection requiring little planning; 1 revision 1 hr./pg.
   - Argument requiring planning & critical analysis; 1 revision 2 hrs./pg.
   - Research-paper requiring research, planning, critical analysis; 1 revision 4 hrs./pg.

   Faculty have discretion to assign writing projects of any length and complexity, as long as students can reasonably be expected to complete the projects during their out-of-class work time. Faculty may adjust these estimates to reflect the specific requirements of the assignment (e.g., requiring no revisions or multiple revisions, or allowing students to work in teams).

3. In planning student assignments to comply with these requirements, course instructors may consider the level of experience of the students and the difficulty of the subject matter.

6 In Fall 2018, the Upper-Level Fall Term was 11 weeks long.
4. The amount of out-of-class work may vary from week to week, as long as the total amount of student work for the term meets the minimum requirement.

Implementation

(1) For courses assessed primarily by examination: Each hour of in-class instructional time must also require at least two additional hours of out-of-class student work. This work might include reading, briefing cases, completing exercises and problems, preparing for quizzes or midterms, and other activities.

(2) For courses assessed primarily by means other than examination (e.g., seminars, research and writing courses, and other skills courses): Each credit hour of in-class instructional time must also require at least two additional hours of out-of-class student work. This work might include reading and reviewing class materials; completing exercises and problems; conducting legal research; practicing simulations; drafting memoranda, briefs, scholarly papers, and transactional documents; preparing oral presentations; attending instructor conferences; and completing assessments and practice problems.

(3) For clinical courses: Students taking a clinical course are required to keep detailed logs while working on their clinical cases. The professor teaching the clinic must review the logs before assigning a grade. The time logged for clinical work must be separate and apart from work done as part of a seminar or other accompanying coursework taken as part of that clinical course. A student must complete a total of at least 42.5 hours of work per credit hour awarded in a clinical course, with 50 minutes of classroom instructional time counting as one hour of work.

(4) For residencies and externships: Students enrolled in a residency or externship are required to keep time logs of their work. The student’s supervising professor and supervising attorney must review the logs before assigning a grade. The total amount of time logged must be equivalent to the amount of time necessary to receive the relevant amount of credit for the residency or externship, as shown below:

- Students in the Residency-in-Practice course may earn 7 or 8 credits for work in an approved governmental, judicial, non-profit, corporate, or private law firm. In a 10-week trimester, students registered for 7 credits will work for 315 hours and students registered for 8 credits will work for 360 hours.

- Students in the General Externship and In-House Counsel Externship courses may earn 3 credits for 135 hours of work in an appropriate field placement during the fall, winter, or spring trimesters. They may earn 4 credits for 180 hours of work during the summer.

- Advocacy, Business, and Leadership Fellows will earn 3 credits for 135 hours of work in an appropriate placement during the summer term(s).
The logged work time must be exclusive of other course-related requirements associated with residencies and externships, such as reading, reflective journal-writing, attending small group meetings and meeting with supervising faculty.

(5) For independent studies: A student must complete a minimum of 42.5 hours of work per credit earned on an independent study project, pursuant to the Independent Study Policy on the Independent Study intent form. Students are required to submit weekly or bi-weekly timesheets for their work on independent studies, which must be reviewed by the supervising faculty member and Registrar’s Office prior to the receipt of credit. The total amount of time logged must be equivalent to the amount of time necessary to receive the number of credits to be awarded for the independent study.

(6) For service on a law journal, or participation in Moot Court or Mock Trial competition: A student must complete a minimum of 42.5 hours of work per credit awarded for participation in these activities, subject to the credit limits established by the faculty.

Students seeking credit for these activities shall submit weekly or bi-weekly timesheets for their work to their academic advisor, coach, or supervising faculty member, who must review the timesheets and confirm compliance with this credit hour policy before assigning a grade.

Ongoing Compliance.

Syllabi. All course instructors shall include a statement in their syllabi indicating the number of hours of work expected by the students for the credit hours awarded for the course.

Course Evaluations. To monitor compliance this Policy, in Fall 2017, a select number of Law School course evaluations asked students to provide estimates of their weekly out-of-class workloads in just-completed courses. A review of those responses demonstrated compliance in every surveyed course. This monitoring will be repeated on a periodic basis.

Scheduling. The Academic Dean and Registrar will continue to schedule courses to ensure that they meet for the requisite minutes of instructional time based on the charts on pages 1 & 2 of this Policy.

Course Review: Instructors shall review their courses periodically to ensure that the appropriate number of credits is assigned to the course based on course coverage and the amount of out-of-class work expected of students. Requests for adjustments to the number of credits assigned to a course will be submitted to the Curriculum Committee and are subject to final approval by the faculty.

New Course Approvals: Effective immediately, all proposals for new courses must include a justification for the number of credits to be awarded that includes in-and out-of-class and exam time in accordance with this policy. The Curriculum Committee, as part of the curricular approval process, shall review proposals for compliance with this policy.
Publication. This Policy will be published on the Registrar’s page on the Law School website and in the Student Handbook.

Effective date: December 7, 2018.
Elon University FERPA Policy and Notification of Student Rights

Notification Of Student Rights Under FERPA

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) affords students certain rights with respect to their education records. They are:

1. The right to inspect and review the student’s records within 45 days of the day that the institute receives the request for access.

   Students should submit to the Registrar a written request that identifies the record(s) they wish to inspect. The Registrar will make arrangements for access and notify the students of the time and place where the records may be inspected.

2. The right to request an amendment of the student’s education records that the student believes is inaccurate or misleading.

   Students may ask the institution to amend a record that they believe is inaccurate or misleading. They should write the Registrar, clearly identifying the part of the record they want changed, and specify why it is inaccurate or misleading.

   If the institution decides not to amend the record as requested by the student, the institution will notify the student of the decision and advise the student of his or her right to a hearing regarding the request for amendment. Additional information regarding the hearing procedures will be provided to the student when notified of the right to a hearing.

   The process of amending the academic record only pertains to information that has been recorded inaccurately or incorrectly. It is not a process to appeal grades, disciplinary decisions, or other university decisions with which the student disagrees but which have been recorded accurately. Normal review and appeal channels must be used where the dispute is with the decision itself and not with the accuracy with which the decision or information has been recorded. Information pertaining to grade and disciplinary appeals may be found in the student handbook.

3. The right to consent to disclosures of personally identifiable information contained in the student’s education records, except to the extent that FERPA authorizes disclosure without consent.

   One exception which permits disclosure without consent is disclosure to school officials with legitimate educational interests. A school official is a person whether volunteering for or employed by the institution in an administrative, supervisory, academic or research, or support staff position (including law enforcement unit personnel and health staff); a person or company with whom the institution has contracted (such as an attorney, auditor, or collection agent); staff in the Office of the Attorney General; or a student serving on an official committee, such as a disciplinary or grievance committee, or assisting another school official in performing his or her tasks.

A school official has a legitimate educational interest if the official needs to review an education record in order to fulfill his or her professional responsibility.

4. The right to file a complaint with the United States Department of Education concerning alleged failures by Elon University to comply with the requirements of FERPA. The name and address of the office that administers FERPA is:

   Family Policy Compliance Office, U.S. Department of Education, 400 Maryland Avenue, SW Washington, DC 20202-4605

5. The institution will honor requests to withhold the information listed below but cannot assume responsibility to contact students for subsequent permission to release them. The institution assumes no liability for honoring instructions that such information be withheld.

The items listed below are designated as Directory Information and may be released for any purpose at the discretion of the institution unless the student requests the information be withheld:

   Name, address, telephone number, dates of attendance, class, and electronic e-mail address.

   Previous institution(s) attended, major field of study, awards, honors (included Dean’s list), degree(s) conferred (including dates).

   Past and present participation in officially recognized sports and activities, physical factors (height, weight of athletes), date and place of birth.
